BAKER & MCKENZIE

Defence

The defence industry is one of the most highly regulated industries in the world, requiring companies to comply with both local and international agencies. With vast experience in finance, M&A, tax planning, contract negotiation, labor law, IP protection and environmental regulation, Baker & McKenzie helps make operating in this high-flying market less turbulent.

We have a wealth of defence and security experience, not just in the Middle East, but globally. Many of the major players in the industry are existing clients of Baker & McKenzie but beyond this experience we are particularly adept at dealing with any conflict of interest situation we may face.
