WOMEN IN INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

Diversity of people. Diversity of thought.

Spring 2017

WELL AHEAD OF OUR COMPETITORS, BAKER MCKENZIE'S GLOBAL IP PRACTICE HAS AND CONTINUES TO CULTIVATE AND CHAMPION WOMEN.

DIVERSITY IS IN OUR DNA

We were the first global law firm to be led by a woman, with Christine Lagarde—now Managing Director of the International Monetary Fund—serving as Chair of Baker McKenzie's Executive Committee. In 2015, as part of our Global Diversity & Inclusion program, we introduced an annual award that honors a Baker McKenzie lawyer who demonstrates exceptional leadership and helps create greater opportunity for women at the Firm.

Most recently, Baker McKenzie has signed the Women's Empowerment Principles, an initiative of UN Women and the UN Global Compact, to guide businesses on promoting gender equality and women's empowerment.

In 2016, we were named for the sixth time by Working Mother magazine as one of the "Best Law Firms for Women," highlighting our Global Diversity and Inclusion Committee for developing a Global Gender Initiative that "helps propel talented women to success." Our commitment to a diverse and inclusive workplace, however, extends beyond gender; in 2016 for the sixth consecutive year, the Human Rights Campaign named our firm one of the "Best Places to Work for LGBT Equality."

As committed as Baker McKenzie's Global Diversity and Inclusion Committee is to creating a firm where top talent can thrive through fostering a workplace culture that is inclusive of our diverse workforce, our firm's Pro Bono Committee is also making significant strides, recently expanding our pro bono practice by adding an additional female partner to oversee our firm's pro bono activities.

As part of our pro bono efforts, our firm currently:

- represents women and child victims of domestic violence in immigration proceedings with Tahirih Justice Center in Houston
- provides counsel to Women for Women International in many areas of governance, corporate, tax, etc.
- provides governance and employment counsel to the Girls Leadership Institute
- established "GirlDev" as a non-profit
- provides six months of emergency assistance for women and their children in immigration custody to help file probable cause petitions for release from detention in Miami
- represents women human trafficking victims in Washington DC, Toronto, and Miami

Baker McKenzie hosted Girls 4 science's 4th Annual Women's History Month reception and Award Ceremony in our Chicago office. The event recognized supporters of the organization and encouraged the 175 attendees to make a difference in STEM related fields.

Baker McKenzie hosted its second Cyber Ready Girls' Day in collaboration with Ruskin University. Around 50 girls from across five secondary schools attended this full day event aimed to promote career opportunities in technology.

WHAT OUR LEADERS ARE SAYING

"Baker McKenzie's strategy is equally weighted towards our clients and our people. A forward looking and successful approach for one is only achievable with a similar commitment to the other. And having a diverse workforce is key to both."

Paul Rawlinson is the London-based Global Chair of Baker McKenzie. He joined the Firm in 1986 focusing on intellectual property and made partner in 1996. He served as London Managing Partner from 2013 to 2016, when he was named the Firm's first British Chair. Educated in the UK and France, Paul has advised international clients with extensive IP portfolios on protection and enforcement, and has vast experience in trade mark, trade secret, copyright, design and technology issues. Paul led the Firm's Global Intellectual Property practice group from 2004 to 2010.

"Our commitment to D&I as a Firm is critical to our future success and something that should be on all of our agendas, not because we are told to think about it, but because it is the smart thing to do, for our talent, our clients and the communities in which we live, work and serve."

Claudia F. Prado is a member of the Firm's Global Executive Committee, chairing the Firm's Financial Committee and Diversity & Inclusion Committee, and is the Regional Chairman of the Latin America Regional Council. Previously, Ms. Prado was the managing partner at Trench, Rossi e Watanabe Advogados, a Brazilian law firm with a cooperation agreement with Baker McKenzie, where she chaired the Firm's Corporate & Securities and Mergers & Acquisitions practice groups. She also served as a member of the Steering Committees for Baker McKenzie's Global Mergers & Acquisitions and Private Equity practice groups.

"Aristotle's philosophy of "knowing yourself is the beginning of wisdom," rings very true for us at Baker McKenzie. We have set our strategy to be primarily focused internally first, and this self-reflective approach drives our decision-making on our internal D&I priorities, goals and objectives."

Karen Brown is the Director of the Firm's Global Corporate Inclusion/Diversity Committee.
