2018 ASIA PACIFIC ENERGY CONFERENCE

7 JUNE | FOUR SEASONS, SINGAPORE

65% of industry leaders feel doing business in the Energy, Mining and Infrastructure sector is becoming more complex.

- Excerpt from the Baker McKenzie Simplifying Business series.

As these complexities dramatically increase, a global shift towards renewables has become inevitable. This interactive forum will therefore explore:

- key issues related to renewable projects across Asia Pacific;
- challenges and opportunities in key markets including Vietnam, Taiwan (offshore wind), Indonesia and Australia;
- considerations when structuring acquisition of renewable projects.

The seminar will be at the forefront of renewable energy trends, regional opportunities and commercial solutions to help businesses thrive in the face of complexities.

A panel of industry leaders will share insights and experiences on structuring and project financing for renewable projects.
