Middle East

Baker McKenzie has been active in the Middle East since the mid-1970s. In that time, we have established a substantial presence, first as an associated office in Riyadh in 1979 (Legal Advisors), then opening an associated office in Cairo in 1985 (Helmy, Hamza & Partners), Bahrain in 1998, Abu Dhabi in 2009 and Doha in 2011. On 1 July 2013, Baker McKenzie merged with leading UAE firm, Habib Al Mulla, marking the firm's arrival in Dubai, and the firm opened a further associated office in Jeddah in October 2014 (Legal Advisors).

We have over 30 partners and 130 associates who operate as an integrated team, often with colleagues from Baker McKenzie offices worldwide. Our approach eliminates logistical issues when coordinating international and local counsel, resulting in less duplication, greater efficiency, lower cost and a higher level of service.
