Afghanistan to become 164th WTO member on 29 July

On 29 June 2016, the WTO announced that Afghanistan notified the WTO that its Parliament has ratified its Protocol of Accession, clearing the final hurdle for its WTO membership. According to WTO rules, Afghanistan will become the 164th member of the Organization on 29 July, 30 days after its instrument of acceptance was deposited at the WTO.

Afghanistan's ambassador, Dr Suraya Dalil, deposited the instrument of acceptance of the country's Protocol of Accession with Director-General Roberto Azevêdo. The country's accession Protocol was ratified by Afghanistan's parliament on 18 June.

Afghanistan applied for WTO membership in 2004, with members of the accession working party concluding the negotiations on 11 November 2015. Afghanistan's commitments are available here.

Ukraine, Moldova join WTO Government Procurement Agreement; GPA arbitration procedures adopted

The WTO announced that on 22 June 2016, the Parties to the WTO's Government Procurement Agreement (GPA) congratulated Ukraine and the Republic of Moldova on joining the revised GPA.

Ukraine informed the GPA Committee that it has already started work on implementing the procurement pact. The Ministy of Economic Development and Trade has launched a voluntary "GPA implementation office" to help Ukrainian suppliers benefit from GPA membership and to assist foreign companies in accessing Ukraine's GPA market.

Ukraine applied for GPA accession in February 2011, less than three years after joining the WTO, and submitted its first offer for the coverage of its government procurement in March 2014. The WTO's Committee on Government Procurement agreed on 11 November 2015 to invite Ukraine to join the GPA. Ukraine ratified the revised GPA on 18 April this year and officially became a party to the government procurement pact on 18 May.

The Republic of Moldova submitted its instrument of GPA accession on 14 June and will be in a position to benefit from new market access opportunities and other provisions under the pact starting next month. The representatives of the Republic of Moldova said that accession to the Agreement is important for providing security of market access to its suppliers and for promoting transparency and good governance. The GPA Committee approved the country's accession terms on 16 September 2015. Moldova's accession to the Agreement will become effective on 14 July 2016.

At the 22 June meeting, the GPA Committee adopted a decision (GPA/139) on procedures to resolve disagreements when a GPA party intends to modify the coverage of its government procurement offer. The decision lays out procedures and timelines to appoint arbitrators, organize substantive meetings, make determinations and implement decisions.

The procedures require that meetings of the arbitrators shall be open to the public, unless a party to the arbitration requests otherwise. Both Canada and Norway welcomed the adoption of the arbitration process, and praised the decision as "an important step for transparency".

TBT Notifications

Member countries of the WTO are required under the Agreement on Technical Barriers to Trade (TBT Agreement) to report to the WTO all proposed technical regulations that could affect trade with other Member countries. The WTO Secretariat distributes this information in the form of "notifications" to all Member countries. See separate section on WTO TBT Notifications for a table which summarizes notifications posted by the WTO during the past month.

Canada to accede to Arms Trade Treaty

On June 30, 2016, Global Affairs Canada announced that as part of Canada's commitment to transparency and rigour in export controls, the Honourable Stéphane Dion, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and the Honourable Chrystia Freeland, Minister of International Trade, announced plans to accede to the Arms Trade Treaty (ATT). The announcement from Global Affairs stated:

The government announced new measures that will allow Canada to demonstrate compliance with the ATT while enhancing Canada's already robust export controls. These include new legislative amendments to regulate arms brokering, measures to formalize the assessment criteria used by the minister of foreign affairs in making export permit decisions, and other measures to increase transparency.

Minister Dion has now tabled the Arms Trade Treaty in Parliament, In addition, the Minister tabled the 2014 and 2015 reports on exports of military goods from Canada and the 2014 and 2015 annual reports to Parliament on the administration of the Export and Import Permits Act. At the government's request, reports are already clearer than was the case in the past. The government intends to go further by working with industry and NGOs to inject even more transparency and rigour into how they are compiled and presented.

Government introduces Customs Act export amendments

On June 15, 2016, An Act to Amend the Customs Act (Bill C-21) received its first reading in the House of Commons. This legislation, introduced by the Minister of Public Safety and Emergency Preparedness, amends the Customs Act to authorize the Canada Border Services Agency (CBSA) to collect, from prescribed persons and prescribed sources, personal information on all persons who are leaving or have left Canada. It also amends the Act to authorize an officer, as defined in that Act, to require that goods that are to be exported from Canada are to be reported despite any exemption under that Act. In addition, it amends the Act to provide officers with the power to examine any goods that are to be exported. Finally, it amends the Act to authorize the disclosure of information collected under the Customs Act to an official of the Department of Employment and Social Development for the purposes of administering or enforcing the Old Age Security Act.

The Bill (revised Section 159 (2) of the Customs Act) also makes it an offence to smuggle or attempt to smuggle out of Canada, whether clandestinely or not, any goods that are subject to duties, or any goods the exportation of which is prohibited, controlled or regulated under the Customs Act or any other Act of Parliament, and applies the punishment set out in Section 160 (1).

06-30-16	Presidential Proclamation 9466 Implementing the World Trade Organization Declaration on the Expansion of Trade in Information Technology Products and For Other Purposes

President implements WTO expanded Information Technology Agreement as well as AGOA and GSP HTS revisions

On June 30, 2016, President Obama signed a Presidential Proclamation -- Implementing the World Trade Organization Declaration on the Expansion of Trade in Information Technology Products and For Other Purposes. The Proclamation implements the July 28, 2015, Declaration on the Expansion of Trade in Information Technology Products (Declaration), which established a framework for eliminating duties on certain information and communication technology products. These products include advanced semiconductors, medical equipment, and a range of audio and video equipment.

The Declaration sets forth commitments for immediate or staged elimination of duties on the covered products, expanding on duty-elimination commitments set forth in the 1996 Declaration on Trade in Information Technology Products, which the United States implemented in Proclamation 7011 of June 30, 1997. The United States and other WTO Members issued a Ministerial Declaration on December 16, 2015, in which ministers endorsed the Declaration of July 28, 2015, and acknowledged that the conditions for implementation had been met.

The Proclamation also implements various provisions of the Trade Preferences Extension Act of 2015 (TPEA) (Public Law 114-27) that amended the Trade Act of 1974 (the "1974 Act") (19 U.S.C. 2466b), the African Growth and Opportunity Act (AGOA) (19 U.S.C. 3721(g)) and the Generalized System of Preferences (GSP).

The Proclamation:

- Modifies the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States (HTS) as set forth in Annexes I and II to the proclamation in order to provide for the immediate or staged elimination of duties on the information technology products covered by the Declaration;
- Modifies general note 16(c) of the HTS by striking "September 30, 2015" and by inserting in lieu thereof "September 30, 2025" in order to provide that duty-free treatment provided under the AGOA shall remain in effect throug September 30, 2025;
- Modifies chapter 98, subchapter XIX, U.S. note 2 of the HTS by striking "September 30, 2015" where stated in "through the period October 1, 2014 through September 30, 2015" and in "each 1-year period thereafter through September 30, 2015" and by inserting in lieu thereof "September 30, 2025" In order to provide that the regional apparel article program and the third-country fabric program are effective through September 30, 2025;
- Modifies the HTS as set forth in Annex III to the proclamation in order to provide for the addition of the special tariff treatment symbol "D" in the "Special" subcolumn where necessary in the HTS;

- Modifies the Rates of Duty 1-Special subcolumn for the corresponding HTS subheadings as set forth in Annex IV to the proclamation in order to designate certain articles as eligible articles only when imported from a least-developed beneficiary developing country for purposes of the GSP:
- Modifies the Rates of Duty 1 Special subcolumn for the corresponding HTS subheadings as set forth in Annex IV to the proclamation In order to designate certain articles as eligible articles only when imported from a beneficiary sub-Saharan African country for purposes of the AGOA;
- Modifies the Rates of Duty 1-Special subcolumn for the corresponding HTS subheadings and general note 4(d) to the HTS as set forth in sections A and B of Annex V to the proclamation in order to provide that one or more countries should no longer be treated as beneficiary developing countries with respect to one or more eligible articles for purposes of the GSP;
- The modifications to the HTS set forth in Annex V to the proclamation shall be effective with respect to articles entered, or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption, on or after the dates set forth in the relevant sections of Annex V to the proclamation;
- Disregards the competitive need limitation provided in section 503(c)(2)(A)(i)(II) of the 1974 Act with respect to the eligible articles in the HTS subheadings and to the beneficiary developing countries listed in Annex VI to the proclamation, effective July 1, 2016;
- Waives the application of section 503(c)(2) of the 1974 Act to the articles in the HTS subheadings and to the beneficiary developing countries set forth in Annex VII to the proclamation, effective July 1, 2016; and
- Supersedes any provisions of previous proclamations and Executive Orders that are inconsistent with the actions taken in this proclamation to the extent of such inconsistency.

As of July 1, 2016 the Proclamation and annexes have not yet been published in the Federal Register. However, the U.S. International Trade Commission (ITC) has incorporated the changes in its 2016 HTSA Supplement Edition (July 2016). See the Change Record for revisions and effective dates. This edition also includes statistical changes adopted by the 484(f) Committee.

U.S. Customs and Border Protection has incorporated all the changes in the ACE Harmonized System Update (HSU) 1607 created on June 30, 2016 according to CSMS# 16-000552.

President continues national emergency with respect to N. Korea

On June 23, 2016, the Federal Register published Presidential Notice of June 21, 2016 - Continuation of the National Emergency With Respect to North Korea which extends for an additional year the national emergency first declared in Executive Order (EO) 13466 (June 26, 2008), to deal with the unusual and extraordinary threat to the national security and foreign policy of the United States constituted by the existence and risk of proliferation of weapons-usable fissile material on the Korean Peninsula. The President also found that it was necessary to maintain certain restrictions with respect to North Korea that would otherwise have been lifted pursuant to Proclamation 8271 of June 26, 2008, which terminated the exercise of authorities under the Trading With the Enemy Act (50 U.S.C. App. 1-44) with respect to North Korea.

Additional steps were taken in EOs 13551 (August 30, 2010), 13570 (April 18, 2011), 13687 (January 2, 2015), 13722 (March 15, 2016). The national emergency is being extended because the existence and risk of proliferation of weaponsusable fissile material on the Korean Peninsula and the actions and policies of the Government of North Korea continue to pose an unusual and extraordinary threat to the national security, foreign policy, and economy of the United States.

President continues national emergency with respect to the Western Balkans

On June 23, 2016, the Federal Register published Presidential Notice of June 21, 2016 - Continuation of the National Emergency With Respect to the Western Balkans which extends for an additional year the national emergency first declared in EO 13219 (June 26, 2001) to deal with the unusual and extraordinary threat to the national security and foreign policy of the United States constituted by the actions of persons engaged in, or assisting, sponsoring, or supporting (i) extremist violence in the Republic of Macedonia and elsewhere in the Western Balkans region, or (ii) acts obstructing implementation of the Dayton Accords in Bosnia or United Nations Security Council Resolution 1244 of June 10, 1999, in Kosovo.

EO 13304 (May 28, 2003), took additional steps with respect to acts obstructing implementation of the Ohrid Framework Agreement of 2001 relating to Macedonia. The national emergency is being extended because the actions of persons threatening the peace and international stabilization efforts in the Western Balkans, including acts of extremist violence and obstructionist activity, continue to pose an unusual and extraordinary threat to the national security and foreign policy of the United States.

President continues national emergency with respect to Belarus

On June 14, 2016, the Federal Register published Presidential Notice of June 10, 2016 - Continuation of the National Emergency With Respect to the Actions and Policies of Certain Members of the Government of Belarus and Other Persons to Undermine Belarus's Democratic Processes or Institutions which extends for an additional year the national emergency first declared by Executive Order 13405 dated June 16, 2016 to deal with the unusual and extraordinary threat to the national security and foreign policy of the United States constituted by the actions and policies of certain members of the Government of Belarus and other persons to undermine Belarus's democratic processes or institutions, manifested in the fundamentally undemocratic March 2006 elections, to commit human rights abuses related to political repression, including detentions and disappearances, and to engage in public corruption, including by diverting or misusing Belarusian public assets or by misusing public authority. The national emergency is being continued because the actions and policies of certain members of the Government of Belarus and other persons continue to pose an unusual and extraordinary threat to the national security and foreign policy of the United States.

USTR releases statement on the Environmental Goods Agreement

On June 2, 2016, the U.S. Trade Representative released the following statement on the WTO Environmental Goods Agreement (EGA):

Today, Trade Ministers and senior officials from seven EGA members - Australia, Canada, the European Union, Japan, Korea, New Zealand, and the United States met in Paris to discuss progress in the negotiations and to chart a path toward successful conclusion later this year. This group has been working closely together with the aim of concluding an ambitious EGA with all participants ahead of when G20 Leaders meet in Hangzhou in September for the G20 Summit. The Trade Ministers and senior officials welcomed the significant progress that has been made over the 13 negotiating rounds held to date. This includes recent efforts in smaller groups and different configurations to focus negotiations towards a potential EGA landing zone. The Ministers and senior officials reiterated their commitment to a high-standard, ambitious EGA that eliminates tariffs on a broad range of environmental goods, in the context of a future-oriented agreement. They committed to intensify their work together and with other EGA partners to successfully conclude the negotiations, and to find common ground on an EGA that will improve environmental protection, promote economic growth, and create green jobs, through an increase in global trade in environmental goods. The Ministers and senior officials encourage other WTO Members with a similar level of ambition and interest to join the EGA

ITC institutes investigation and seeks comments on US-Chile FTA rules of origin modifications

On June 21, 2016, the U.S. International Trade Commission (ITC) published in the Federal Register a document stating that it had instituted an investigation [Investigation No. U.S.-Chile FTA-103-029 and was seeking comments regarding Probable Economic Effect of Certain Modifications to the U.S.-Chile FTA Rules of Origin, following receipt on May 24, 2016, of a request from the U.S. Trade Representative (USTR), under authority delegated by the President and pursuant to section 103(a) of the United States-Chile Free Trade Agreement Implementation Act (19 U.S.C. 3805 note). The deadline for filing written submissions is July 11, 2016. The ITC report will be transmitted to USTR on August 24, 2016.

ITC investigations

The ITC initiated (I), terminated (T), requested information or comments (RFC), issued a report (R), or scheduled a hearing (H) regarding the following investigations (other than 337 and antidumping, countervailing duty or safeguards) this month: (Click on the investigation title to obtain details from the Federal Register notice or ITC Press Release)

TTB amends regulations to facilitate use of ITDS and streamline procedures

On June 21, 20916, the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau (TTB) published in the Federal Register a notice of proposed rulemaking [Docket No. TTB-2016-0004; Notice No. 159] to amend its regulations governing the importation of distilled spirits, wine, beer and malt beverages, tobacco products, processed tobacco, and cigarette papers and tubes. The proposed amendments are intended to clarify and streamline import procedures, and support the implementation of the International Trade Data System and the filing of import information electronically in conjunction with an electronic import filing with U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP). The proposed amendments include providing the option for importers to file import-related data electronically when filing entry or entry summary data electronically with CBP, as an alternative to the current TTB requirements that importers submit paper documents to CBP upon importation. Comments must be received on or before August 22, 2016. [For other TTB articles, see below.]

State to pilot DS 2031 for shrimp imports in ITDS/ACE

On June 15, 2016, the Department of State Bureau of Oceans and International Environmental and Scientific Affairs, Office of Marine Conservation (OES/OMC) published in the Federal Register a notice [Public Notice: 9603] that announces a pilot test of the International Trade Data System (ITDS) involving the electronic submission of forms and/or data related to importations of shrimp and shrimp products using the Partner Government Agency (PGA) Message Set and Document Image System (DIS) components of the Automated Commercial Environment (ACE). The U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) and OES/OMC have developed a pilot plan to test and assess the electronic transmission of import data for shrimp and shrimp products. The pilot test will involve using ACE, the OMC PGA Message Set, the DIS and the Automated Broker Interface (ABI) to transmit the data required for admissibility determinations for entries of shrimp and product of shrimp. ABI is the electronic data interchange that enables participants to file electronically required import data with CBP and transfers that data into ACE. Initially, under this test, OMC PGA Message Set data may be submitted only for formal and informal consumption entries (entry types 01 and 11), filed at certain ports.

The test will commence after July 25, 2016, and will continue until concluded by publication of a notice in the Federal Register ending the test. Participants should consult the PGA Integration on the CBP Web site for additional information regarding pilot status. Comments will be accepted through the duration of the test.

NMFS/NOAA announces export test of ITDS; seeks comments

On June 3, 2016, National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), Commerce, published in the Federal Register a notice announcing, in consultation with U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP), a test of the International Trade Data System (ITDS) involving the electronic submission of forms and/or data, related to exportation of fish products regulated by NMFS, using the export Partner Government Agency (PGA) data set of the Automated Export System (AES) Trade Interface Requirements, AES Direct via the Automated Commercial Environment (ACE) Secure Web Portal (Portal) and the Document Image System (DIS). CBP and NMFS have developed a plan to test and assess the electronic transmission of export and re-export data for tunas, swordfish and toothfish.

The test will involve using the above referenced methods to transmit the data required for processing exports or reexports of tunas, swordfish and toothfish. Under this test, data may be submitted for the covered fish products exported from any operational port.

The test will commence after June 1, 2016, and will continue until concluded by publication of a notice in the Federal Register ending the test. Participants should consult the CBP Web site here to determine which ports are operational for the test and the date that they become operational: (see the PGA Integration tab). Comments on the submission and processing of export data will be accepted throughout the duration of the test.

CBP announces new date for October license exam

On June 16, 2016, U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) published in the Federal Register a general notice that announces that CBP has changed the date on which the semi-annual written examination for an individual broker's license will be held in October 2016. The customs broker's license examination scheduled for October 2016 will be held on Wednesday, October 5.

Miscellaneous CBP Federal Register documents

CBP decides not to adjust COBRA fees for inflation

In the Customs Bulletin and Decisions dated June 15, 2016, CBP announced that it would not be adjusting COBRA fees for inflation. The announcement said:

The Fixing America's Surface Transportation Act (FAST Act) (Pub. L. 114-94, December 4, 2015) amended section 13031 of the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act (COBRA) of 1985 (19 U.S.C. 58c), by requiring the customs user fees established by CO BRA in subsection (a) and certain limitations on those fees identified in subsection (b) to be adjusted for inflation by the Secretary of the Treasury.

In accordance with the FAST Act, these COBRA fees and limitations are to be adjusted on April 1, 2016, and at the beginning of each fiscal year thereafter to reflect the percent increase (if any) in the average of the Consumer Price Index (CPI) for the preceding 12- month period compared to the CPI for fiscal year 2014. According to the statute, if the increase in the CPI for the preceding 12-month period is less than one (1) percent when so compared, the Treasury Department has discretion to determine whether the fees and limitations should be adjusted.

The increase in the CPI based on the last 12 months of data available (February 2015-January 2016) as compared to the CPI for fiscal year 2014 is less than one (1) percent. Accordingly, Treasury and U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) determined that an adjustment to these customs user fees and limitations was not necessary in April 2016.

It is noted that CBP is currently developing a rulemaking document which will be published in the Federal Register that will implement the COBRA fee adjustment requirements of the FAST Act. The rule-making document will include the methodology for determining the parameters for whether a COBRA fee adjustment is necessary as well as the timing of any fee adjustment announcements and effective dates.

CBP publishes information on additional PGAs in AES

CSMS# 16-000537 (06-27-16) states that as a result of the President's Executive Order 13658 Streamlining the Export /Import Process for America's Businesses Appendix X (Schedule B Codes for PGAs) for commodity filing has been posted for the seven additional Partner Government Agencies (PGAs). The seven additional PGAs are the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco Firearms and Explosives (ATF), the Agriculture Marketing Service (AMS), the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (FWS), the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), the National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau (TTB). The Appendix X document for the additional PGAs joins Appendix Q for the PGA Record Formats, Appendix A for the Commodity Filing Response Messages (disposition codes for the PGAs) and updates to the AESTIR and 601 for the Participating Government Agency Detail (Input PGA Record). All PGAs record changes for export have been posted at this this time.

The Automated Export System (AES) was an example of single window and was built to support commodity filings under CBP and Census policy and regulation. The Director of Defense Trade Controls (DDTC), the Bureau of Industry and Security (BIS) and the Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) licenses were added to AES over the years. In order to not disrupt the format of the commodity message sets for these agencies there has been no change and they are not impacted by the additional PGAs for exports. There are two license record formats that we added language to describe the format as we will start to validate these license numbers in the near future. The DDTC license type for Foreign Military Sales (FMS) S94 has had the format defined in Appendix F for License and License Exemption Type Codes and Reporting Guidelines. The OFAC license type T10 has had its format defined as well in Appendix F.

There currently is no timeline set on these six additional PGAs pilots but EPA has a limited ongoing pilot for used lead acid batteries. All changes have been deployed to the certification region for EDI, AES Direct Bulk Upload, AES Direct Web Link, AES Direct VPN and AES Direct sFTP for the trade to test. The AES Direct Portal screen changes has not been deployed at this time.

CBP mandates electronic entries via ACE for certain entry types

CSMS# 16-000531 (06-27-16) announced that beginning July 23, 2016 trade parties will be required to submit electronic entries and entry summaries for additional entry types to the Automated Commercial Environment (ACE). Electronic entries and entry summaries associated with the following entry types will be accepted and mandated in ACE: 02, 07, 12, 21, 22, 31, 32, 34, and 38. Filing of electronic entries and entry summaries associated with entry types 06 and 23 were previously mandated in ACE if they did not include quota merchandise. Filing of these transactions with quota merchandise will also be mandated on July 23, 2016.

For more information on the timeline and implications of the cutover from ACS to ACE for quota please visit the ACE Features Page of CBP.gov, the Quota Information Notice can be found under the Post Release tab.

FinCEN adjusts civil monetary penalty amounts

On June 30, 2016, the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN), Treasury, published in the Federal Register an interim final rule amending the regulations under the Bank Secrecy Act to adjust the maximum amount or range, as set by statute, of certain civil monetary penalties within its jurisdiction to account for inflation. This action is being taken to implement the requirements of the Federal Civil Penalties Inflation Adjustment Act of 1990, as further amended by the Federal Civil Penalties Inflation Adjustment Act Improvements Act of 2015. The new rule is effective August 1, 2016. Written comments on this Interim Final Rulemaking must be submitted on or before August 1, 2016

FinCEN imposes special measures against N. Korea

On June 3, 2016, the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN), Treasury, published in the Federal Register a notice of proposed rulemaking to propose to prohibit covered financial institutions from opening or maintaining a correspondent account in the United States for or on behalf of a North Korean banking institution and to prohibit the use of foreign banking institutions' correspondent accounts at covered U.S. financial institutions to process transactions involving North Korean financial institutions. This follows a finding, notice of which was published in the Federal Register ("Notice of Finding") [see below], the Director of FinCEN found that the Democratic People's Republic of Korea ("North Korea") is a jurisdiction of primary money laundering concern. Written comments on the notice of proposed rulemaking must be submitted on or before August 2, 2016.

FinCEN finds N. Korea to be primary money laundering jurisdiction

On June 2, 2016, the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN), Treasury, published in the Federal Register a notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in the USA PATRIOT Act, the Director of FinCEN found on May 27, 2016 that reasonable grounds exist for concluding that the Democratic People's Republic of Korea ("DPRK" or "North Korea") is a jurisdiction of primary money laundering concern.

The designation provides Treasury with a range of options that can be adapted to target specific money laundering and terrorist financing concerns most effectively. Through the imposition of various special measures, the Secretary can gain more information about the jurisdictions, institutions, transactions, or accounts of concern; can more effectively monitor the respective jurisdictions, institutions, transactions, or accounts; or can prohibit U.S. financial institutions from involvement with jurisdictions, institutions, transactions, or accounts that pose a money laundering concern.

State increases civil monetary penalties

On June 8, 2016, the Department of State published in the Federal Register a final rule [Public Notice: 9536] adjusting the civil monetary penalties (CMP) for regulatory provisions maintained and enforced by the Department of State. The Federal Civil Penalties Inflation Adjustment Act of 1990 (the 1990 Act), as amended by the Debt Collection Improvement Act of 1996 (the 1996 Act), required the head of each agency to adjust its CMPs for inflation no later than October 23, 1996 and required agencies to make adjustments at least once every four years thereafter. The Federal Civil Penalties Inflation Adjustment Act Improvements Act of 2015 (the 2015 Act) further amended the 1990 Act by requiring agencies to adjust CMPs, if necessary, pursuant to a "catch-up" adjustment methodology prescribed by the 2015 Act, which mandates that the catch up adjustment take effect no later than August 1, 2016. Additionally, the 2015 Act requires agencies to make annual adjustments to their respective CMPs in accordance with guidance issued by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB). The revised CMP adjustments in the rule will apply only to those penalties assessed after its effective date; subsequent annual adjustments are to be published not later than January 15 of each year. In keeping with guidance provided by OMB, the new penalty levels will apply to all assessments made on or after August 1, 2016, regardless of the date on which the underlying facts or violations occurred.

The adjusted penalties for laws enforced by the Directorate of Defense Trade Controls (DDTC) under the Arms Export Control Act are reproduced below for convenience. Unlike OFAC, the State CMP adjustments will apply to all assessments made on or after August 1, 2016, regardless of the date on which the underlying facts or violations occurred.

Type of Violation	Original Maximum CMP	Adjusted Maximum CMP
Violation of 22 U.S.C. 2778 (Control of Exports and Imports)	$500,000	$1,094,010
Violation of 22 U.S.C. 2779a (Prohibition on Incentive Payments)	$500,000	$795,445
Violation of 22 U.S.C. 2780 (Transactions with Countries Supporting Acts of International Terrorism)	$500,000	$946,805

The final rule is effective August 1, 2016.

BIS adjusts civil monetary penalties

On June 7, 2016, the Department of Commerce (Commerce) published in the Federal Register an interim final rule [Docket No. 160523449-6449-01] that adjusts civil monetary penalties (CMPs) for a variety of laws enforced by Commerce agencies. Among the penalty adjustments announced was an adjustment to the CMPs for violations of the International Emergency Economic Powers Act (IEE-PA) — the statute under which BIS's Export Administration Regulations (EAR) are enforced. The maximum CMP for violations of the EAR and, by extension IEEPA will increase from $250,000 to $284,582 per violation — an increase that matches the one announced by the Office of Foreign Assets Contro (OFAC). As with the changes published by DDTC, these increased maximum CMPs will apply to all penalties assessed after August 1, 2016 regardless of when the underlying violations occurred.

BIS extends validity of temporary general license for exports to ZTE

On June 28, 2016, the Bureau of Industry and Security (BIS) published in the Federal Register a final rule [Docket No. 160106014–6530–03] that extends until August 30, 2016 the temporary general license created in a March 24, 2016 final rule that restored, for a specified time period, the licensing requirements and policies under the Export Administration Regulations (EAR) for exports, reexports, and transfers (incountry) as of March 7, 2016, to two entities (ZTE Corporation and ZTE Kangxun) that were added to the Entity List on March 8, 2016. The final rule revises the temporary general license to remove the expiration date of June 30, 2016, and to substitute the date of August 30, 2016. The final rule makes no other changes to the EAR.

This rule is effective June 28, 2016 through August 30, 2016. The expiration date of the final rule published on March 24, 2016 (81 FR 15633) is extended until August 30, 2016.

BIS amends Validated End-User authorization for China

On June 23, 2016, BIS published in the Federal Register a final rule [Docket No. 160303186–6186–01] that amends the EAR to revise the existing Validated End-User (VEU) list for the People's Republic of China by updating the list of eligible items and destinations (facilities) for VEU Advanced Micro Devices, Inc. (AMD). Specifically, BIS amends Supplement No. 7 to part 748 of the EAR to remove an existing "eligible destination" (facility); add a building to an existing address at one of AMD's already approved facilities to which eligible items may be exported, reexported or transferred (in-country); and reflect the recent removal of an existing "eligible item" from the Commerce Control List (CCL).

BIS publishes revised penalty charging and settlement guidance

On June 22, 2016, the Bureau of Industry and Security (BIS) published in the Federal Register a final rule [Docket No. 151204999–6179–02] revising the BIS guidance regarding administrative enforcement cases based on violations of the EAR. The rule rewrites its Guidance on Charging and Penalty Determinations in Settlement of Administrative Enforcement Cases found in Supplement No. 1 to part 766 of the EAR, setting forth the factors that the Office of Export Enforcement (OEE) considers when setting penalties in settlements of administrative enforcement cases and when deciding whether to pursue administrative charges or settle allegations of EAR violations.

BIS is amending the EAR to update its Guidance in order to make civil penalty determinations more predictable and transparent to the public and aligned with those promulgated by the Treasury Department's Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC). OFAC administers most of its sanctions programs under the International Emergency Economic Powers Act (IEEPA), the same statutory authority by which BIS implements the EAR. OFAC uses the transaction value as the starting point for determining civil penalties pursuant to its Economic Sanctions Enforcement Guidelines. Under IEEPA, criminal penalties can reach 20 years imprisonment and $1 million per violation, and administrative monetary penalties can reach $250,000 (subject to adjustment in accordance with U.S. law, e.g., the Federal Civil Penalties Inflation Adjustment Act Improvements Act of 2015 (Pub. L. 114–74, sec. 701)) or twice the value of the transaction, whichever is greater. Both agencies coordinate and cooperate on investigations involving violations of export controls that each agency enforces, including programs relating to weapons of mass destruction, terrorism, Iran, Sudan, Specially Designated Nationals and Specially Designated Global Terrorists.

This final rule does not apply to alleged violations of regulations concerning restrictive trade practices and boycotts, which would continue to be subject to the guidance. The guidance also will not apply to pending matters where, as of July 22, 2016, there are ongoing settlement negotiations and a charging letter has not been filed. The new rule is effective July 22, 2016.

Please see our Sanctions blog article on this subject for additional information.

BIS revises the Unverified List and the Entity List

On June 21, 2016, BIS published in the Federal Register a final rule amending the EAR by adding thirty-six (36) persons to the Unverified List (the "Unverified List" or UVL), and adding an additional address for one (1) person currently listed on the UVL. The 36 persons are being added to the UVL on the basis that BIS could not verify their bona fides because an end use check could not be completed satisfactorily for reasons outside the U.S. Government's control. A new address is added for one current UVL person as BIS has determined that this person has changed its registered address.

On June 21, 2016, BIS also published in the Federal Register a final rule amending the EAR by adding twenty-eight persons under thirty-one entries to the Entity List. The twenty-eight persons who are added to the Entity List have been determined by the U.S. Government to be acting contrary to the national security or foreign policy interests of the United States. These twenty-eight persons will be listed on the Entity List under the destinations of Afghanistan, Austria, China, Hong Kong, Iran, Israel, Panama, Taiwan, and the United Arab Emirates (U.A.E.).

This final rule also removes three entities from the Entity List under the destinations of Finland, Pakistan and Turkey as the result of requests for removal received by BIS pursuant to the section of the EAR used for requesting removal or modification of an Entity List entity and the End-User Review Committee's (ERC) review of the information provided in the removal requests.

BIS amends EAR to implement 2015 Australia Group decisions and understandings

On June 7, 2016, BIS published in the Federal Register a final rule [Docket No. 160302176–6176–01] to amend the EAR to implement the recommendations presented at the February 2015 Australia Group (AG) intersessional implementation meeting, and later adopted pursuant to the AG silent approval procedure, and the understandings reached at the June 2015 AG Plenary meeting. The rule amends three Commerce Control List (CCL) entries to reflect the February 2015 intersessional recommendations that were adopted by the AG. Specifically, the rule amends the CCL entry that controls chemical precursors by adding the chemical diethylamine (C.A.S. 109-89-7), which was not previously identified on the AG's "Chemical Weapons Precursors" common control list. The rule also amends the CCL entry that controls certain human and zoonotic pathogens and toxins by adding two viruses that were not previously identified on the AG "List of Human" and Animal Pathogens and Toxins for Export Control" and by updating the nomenclature of certain viruses that were already identified on this AG common control list. In addition, this rule amends the CCL entry that controls equipment capable of handling biological materials to reflect the AG intersessional updates to the controls on biocontainment chambers, isolators, and biological safety cabinets and the controls on aerosol inhalation equipment described on the AG "Control List of Dual-Use Biological Equipment and Related Technology and Software." Consistent with the understandings adopted at the June 2015 AG Plenary meeting, this rule also amends the CCL entry that controls equipment capable of handling biological materials by updating the controls on freeze-drying (lyophilization) equipment. Finally, this rule amends the EAR to reflect the addition of Angola and Burma as States Parties to the Chemical Weapons Convention (CWC) and also amends the Chemical Weapons Convention Regulations (CWCR) to reflect the addition of these two countries as States Parties. This rule is effective June 7, 2016.

BIS removes Special Iraq Reconstruction License from EAR

On June 7, 2016, BIS published in the Federal Register a proposed rule [Docket No. 160303182-6182-01] amend the EAR to remove the Special Iraq Reconstruction License (SIRL) from the EAR. The action, if published in final form, would further the objectives of the Retrospective Regulatory Review Initiative that directs BIS and other federal agencies to streamline regulations and reduce unnecessary regulatory burdens on the public. Specifically, the SIRL is outdated and seldom used by exporters, who now have more efficient options for exports and reexports to Iraq and transfers (in country) in Iraq. This rule also makes conforming changes. Comments must be received by July 7, 2016.

BIS and State amend EAR and ITAR to harmonize definitions and scope

On June 3, 2016, BIS published in the Federal Register a final rule [Docket No. 141016858–6004–02] revising certain definitions in the EAR. This final rule is part of the Administration's Export Control Reform (ECR) Initiative. The Initiative will enhance U.S. national and economic security, facilitate compliance with export controls, update the controls, and further the goal of reducing unnecessary regulatory burdens on U.S. exporters. As part of this effort, BIS, in publishing this rule, makes revisions to the EAR to include certain definitions to enhance clarity and consistency with terms also found in the International Traffic in Arms Regulations (ITAR), which is administered by the Department of State, Directorate of Defense Trade Controls (DDTC), or that DDTC expects to publish in proposed rules. The final rule also revises the Scope part of the EAR to update and clarify application of controls to electronically transmitted and stored technology and software, including by way of cloud computing. DDTC is concurrently publishing comparable amendments to certain ITAR definitions for the same reasons. Finally, the rule makes conforming changes to related provisions.

The rule is effective September 1, 2016.

Also on June 3, 2016, the Department of State (State) published in the Federal Register an interim final rule [Public Notice: 9487] that amends the ITAR to update the definitions of "export," and "reexport or retransfer" in order to continue the process of harmonizing the definitions with the corresponding terms in the EAR, to the extent appropriate. Additionally, State creates definitions of "release" and "retransfer" in order to clarify and support the interpretation of the revised definitions that are in the rulemaking. State creates new sections of the ITAR detailing the scope of licenses, unauthorized releases of controlled information and revises the section on "exports" of technical data to U.S. persons abroad. Finally, State consolidates regulatory provisions on the treatment of foreign dual and third country national employees within one exemption.

The rule is effective on September 1, 2016. State will accept comments on this interim final rule until July 5, 2016.

TTB finalizes importer permit requirements for tobacco products and processed tobacco

On June 21, 2016, the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau (TTB) published in the Federal Register a final rule [Docket No. TTB-2013-0006; T.D. TTB-137; Re: T.D. TTB-115; Notice No. 137; T.D. ATF-421; T.D. ATF-422; ATF Notice Nos. 887 and 888] adopting, without change, a temporary rule concerning permit and other requirements related to importers and manufacturers of tobacco products and processed tobacco published in the Federal Register on June 27, 2013 (78 Fed. Reg. 38555 et seg. and 38646 et. seg.).

The regulatory amendments adopted in the final rule include an extension in the duration of new permits for importers of tobacco products and processed tobacco from three years to five years, a technical correction amending the definition of

"Manufacturer of tobacco products" to reflect a statutory change, and a technical correction related to references to the sale price of large cigars. The final rule also permanently incorporates and reissues other TTB regulations pertaining to importer permit requirements for tobacco products as well as minimum manufacturing and marking requirements for tobacco products and cigarette papers and tubes that also were incorporated in the 2013 temporary rule.

This final rule will be effective on July 21, 2016. [Also see TTB article related to ITDS/ACE above.1

FDA seeks participants for import trade account management pilot

On June 23, 2016, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) published in the Federal Register a notice [Docket No. FDA-2016-N-1548] announcing that it intends to conduct a pilot program to test and evaluate a new Import Trade Auxiliary Communication System (ITACS) Account Management function. Participation will be needed from a small group of Filers, Importers of Record, and Consignees, who will use the new ITACS Account Management function and provide feedback to FDA. FDA is inviting individual firms that wish to participate in this pilot program to submit participation requests via email. To be considered for participation in this ITACS pilot, please send an email with the subject line "ITACS Pilot Participation Request" by July 7, 2016.

FSIS to establish electronic export application and certification

On June 29, 2016, the Food Safety and Inspection Service (FSIS) published in the Federal Register a final rule [Docket No. FSIS-2009-0026] amending the meat and poultry inspection regulations to provide for an electronic export application and certification system. The electronic export application and certification system will be a component of the FSIS's Public Health Information System (PHIS). The PHIS Export Component will be available as an alternative to the paper-based export application and certification process. FSIS will charge an application fee to exporters that use the PHIS Export Component. FSIS is establishing a formula for calculating the fee. On an annual basis, the FSIS will use the formula to update the fee and publish the new fee in the Federal Register. The updated fee will apply at the start of each calendar year. FSIS is also amending the meat and poultry export regulations to provide flexibility in the requirements for official export inspection marks, devices, and certificates. In addition, FSIS is amending the egg product export regulations to parallel the meat and poultry product export regulations.

As part of the amendments, the regulatory requirements for filing a copy of the export certificate with U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) will be deleted from the regulatory text (9 C.F.R. 322.2(e)). However, the Federal Meat Inspection Act's (FMIA) statutory requirement and FSIS's regulatory requirement that the product's owner (e.g., exporter) or shipper obtain an export certificate from FSIS before the meat product departs from a U.S. port (21 U.S.C. 617; 9 C.F.R. 322.4) remain in effect.

Effective Date: August 29, 2016. Applicability Date: The regulations that provide for an electronic export application and certification system for meat, poultry, and egg products; an electronic application fee; and the use of a 7-digit export mark or unique identifier will be applicable on June 29, 2017. These regulations include 9 C.F.R. 312.8; 381.104; 322.2(a); 381.106(a); 590.407(a); 590.407(c) (unique identifier and 7-digit export mark provisions only); 350.7(e) through (g) and 362.5(e) through (g); 592.500(a); and 592.500(d) through (f).

APHIS amends regulations for electronic information exchange systems

On June 21, 2016, the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) published in the Federal Register a final rule [Docket No. APHIS-2016-0016] amending our regulations regarding the importation or exportation of animals and animal products and plants and plant products to address instances where the current regulations require the use of a hard-copy form or specify that a particular document must be submitted in writing. The final rule amends the regulations to provide the flexibility needed for persons to take advantage of electronic systems when a regulation has a limiting requirement. The amendments APHIS is making in the final rule are not to mandate the use of electronic systems or preclude the use of paper documents; rather, they address those instances where APHIS regulations specify a submission method to the exclusion of other methods.

APHIS is working to enhance trade facilitation in several ways. In some cases, APHIS programs will work within CBP's ACE system to take required actions. In other cases, legacy systems will be updated to allow for more efficient processing of the information. For example, a new permitting system, E-file, is currently being developed to replace the legacy E-permits system. E-file will be used across APHIS programs, will include advanced functionality, and will provide permitting data directly to ACE to allow for speedier review and admissibility determinations at the ports of arrival. Other APHIS system enhancements will allow for better communication with APHIS' CBP Agriculture colleagues concerning pest identification and allow for expansion of e-certification opportunities with APHIS trading partners. APHIS recognizes the advantages provided by the "single-window" concept and will continue to incorporate those strategies into future planning.

Effective on publication.

APHIS clarifies revised Lacey Act requirements

On June 16, 2016, the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) published in the Federal Register a notice [Docket No. APHIS-2008-0119] clarifying the Lacey Act (16 U.S.C. 3371 et seg.) declaration requirements. The Food, Conservation, and Energy Act of 2008 amended the Lacey Act to provide, among other things, that importers submit a declaration at the time of importation for certain plants and plant products. Enforcement of the declaration requirement began on April 1, 2009, and products requiring a declaration are being phased-in. The purpose of the notice is to clarify that the declaration is required for all formal consumption entries of plant and plant products into the United States, including those entries from foreign trade zones and bonded warehouses.

In a February 2009 notice, APHIS stated that it would be enforcing the declaration requirement only as to formal consumption entries (i.e., most commercial shipments). APHIS also stated that it did not intend to enforce the declaration requirement for informal entries (i.e., most personal shipments), personal importations, mail (unless subject to formal entry), transportation and exportation entries, in-transit movements, carnet importations (i.e., merchandise or equipment that will be re-exported within a year), and U.S. Foreign Trade Zones (FTZ) and bonded warehouse entries.

APHIS has become aware of certain instances where a Plant and Plant Product Declaration has not been filed for plant or plant products entered into the United States from FTZ and bonded warehouses. This practice is not in conformity with the purpose and intent of the Lacey Act, as amended. APHIS is publishing the notice to make clear that such a declaration is required for all formal consumption entries of plant and plant products imported into the United States, including those entries from FTZ and bonded warehouses. However, such declarations are not required for admission into such FTZ or bonded warehouses, which is what APHIS was referring to in the February 2009 notice when it stated that it did not intend to enforce the declaration requirement for FTZ and warehouse entries.

Government procurement: DFARS amended to add Ukraine

On June 30, 2016, the Defense Acquisition Regulations System, Department of Defense (DoD) published in the Federal Register a final rule [Docket DARS-2016–0022] amending the Defense Federal Acquisition Regulation Supplement (DFARS) to add Ukraine as a new designated country under the World Trade Organization Government Procurement Agreement (GPA). The GPA entered into force for Ukraine on May 18, 2016. The United States, which is also a party to the GPA, has agreed to waive discriminatory purchasing requirements for eligible products and suppliers of Ukraine beginning on May 18, 2016. Therefore, the rule adds Ukraine to the list of WTO GPA countries wherever it appears in the DFARS, as part of the definition of "designated country".

Commerce corrects applicability date for ADD price adjustments

On June 20, 2016, Enforcement and Compliance, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce (Commerce) published in the Federal Register a proposed rule [Docket No. 140929814-4814-01] to modify the applicability date contained in the final rule published in the Federal Register on March 24, 2016, Modification of Regulations Regarding Price Adjustments in Antidumping Duty Proceedings, 81 FR 15641, and is seeking comments from parties. The original applicability date language did not convey Commerce's intention, i.e., to apply the newly amended regulation to all segments of proceedings initiated on or after the effective date contained in the Federal Register notice. This action is necessary to ensure that there is no ambiguity in the application of the modified regulations.

To be assured of consideration, written comments must be received no later than July 5, 2016.

Rio de Janeiro State Resolution dismisses tax assessments imposing ICMS on temporary imports of assets

On 27 April 2016, the Rio de Janeiro State Revenue, based on a decision issued by the Brazilian Supreme Court full bench (RE # 540.829- SP), enacted Resolution SEFAZ RJ #. 1,000 / 2016, determining the dismissal of any tax assessments and/or written notices issued by the State of Rio de Janeiro tax authorities claiming the payment of the State VAT (Imposto sobre Circulação de Mercadorias e Serviços - ICMS) on the temporary importation of assets, provided that there is no transfer of title of the assets from the foreign exporter to the Brazilian importer. It also prevented the issuance of new tax assessments and written notices on the same subject, clarifying that the ICMS shall only be paid by the time that the assets are definitively imported and/or the temporary importation regime terminates.

Indeed, the Brazilian Supreme Court ruled the VAT (ICMS) imposition over temporary imports of assets under lease agreements unconstitutional. The rationale behind the Brazilian Supreme Court understanding was that the Brazilian Constitution authorizes the States and Federal District to charge the VAT (ICMS) over transactions involving the legal circulation of goods and/or assets, which does not occur whenever assets are imported on a temporary basis, under lease agreements, as their title remains with the foreign exporter .

Before the enactment of Resolution SEFAZ # 1,000/2016, the Rio de Janeiro State General Tax Attorney had already issued Notice PGE/PG2/#862/2015, authorizing Public Tax Attorneys not to appeal from decisions challenging the ICMS imposition. Nevertheless, as state tax authorities are not bound by Notice PGE/PG2/#862/2015, the enactment of Resolution SEFAZ # 1,000/2016 was an important measure to prevent new tax assessments.

Finally, note that, even though we generally welcome Resolution SEFAZ RJ # 1,000/2016, it states that requests for ICMS refund will be rejected at the Rio de Janeiro State administrative level. We understand that such up front rejection is null and void and that taxpayers, who paid ICMS on temporary imports during the last five years, shall be entitled to claim the ICMS refund at the Brazilian Courts.

For additional information, please contact Maria Furtado (Partner, Rio de Janeiro) or Ana Paula Soto (Associate, Rio de Janeiro).

China (including Hong Kong SAR)

China bans export of military – related goods to North Korea

China has banned exports to the Democratic People's Republic of Korea ("DPRK" or North Korea) of technology and materials that might be used in weapons production.

The new list of items banned for export to DPRK adds to a list of technologies and goods banned for export released in 2013 by the Commerce Ministry, the Ministry of Industry and Information Technology, and the China Atomic Energy Authority 2013 after DPRK had carried out its third nuclear test that year.

According to China's Commerce Ministry, the list of banned "dual-use" items (i.e. products that have both a civilian and military use) now includes metal alloys, cutting and laser-welding equipment and materials, magnetic materials, highstrength metals, and chemical fibres.

The ban follows the latest nuclear test and rocket launch by DPRK on 6 January 2016 and 7 February 2016 respectively. These were followed by the unanimous adoption by the UN Security Council's of Resolution 2270 (2016) (the "UN Resolution") on 2 March 2016, and the adoption by the European Council of Regulation (EU) 2016/315 and Council Decision (CFSP) 2016/319 of 4 March 2016 (the "March Decision"), which added 16 individuals and 12 entities to its list of designated persons ("DPs"). Please see our earlier Sanctions blog post "UN, US, EU and Switzerland impose tough new sanctions on North Korea as a result of its nuclear programme " for further details on the March Decision.

The release of the list by China also follows the European Union's implementation and extension of the UN Sanctions on DPRK in May 2016. Please see our earlier Sanctions blog post "EU implements and extends UN Sanctions on North Korea" for further details on the EU's latest amendment to the regulation underpinning its sanctions regime on DPRK.

EFTA States sign FTA with Georgia

On 27 June 2016, the European Free Trade Association (EFTA) announced that Ministers from the Member States of the EFTA – Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway and Switzerland – and from Georgia signed a Free Trade Agreement (FTA). The FTA will further strengthen the economic ties and promote trade and investment between the two sides.

The EFTA-Georgia FTA was signed by Johann N. Schneider-Ammann, President of the Swiss Confederation and Head of the Federal Department of Economic Affairs, Education and Research; Lilja Alfreðsdóttir, Minister for Foreign Affairs and External Trade of Iceland; Aurelia Frick, Minister of Foreign Affairs of Liechtenstein; and Monica Mæland, Minister of Trade and Industry of Norway, on the EFTA side and by Dimitry Kumsishvili, Vice Prime Minister and Minister of Economy and Sustainable Development of Georgia.

Building on a Joint Declaration on Cooperation signed by the EFTA States and Georgia in Gstaad in June 2012, the negotiations started in September 2015 and concluded in February 2016 following three rounds. The EFTA-Georgia FTA has comprehensive coverage, including trade in goods (industrial and agricultural goods, fish and other marine products), rules of origin, trade facilitation, SPS, TBT, trade in services, investment, competition, protection of intellectual property rights, government procurement and sustainable development. A Joint Committee will oversee the implementation of the FTA. The Agreement will enter into force after completion of the necessary internal procedures for ratification by the Parties.

EU releases additional eLearning modules for new Union Customs Code

In order to support the implementation of the Union Customs Code (UCC) and its Delegated Act (DA) and Implementing Act (IA), which entered into force on 1 May 2016, an extensive UCC EU eLearning programme has been developed by the Commission's Taxation & Customs Union department in collaboration with a pool of customs experts from national authorities and the private sector. The programme is addressed to both customs officers and economic operators in the European Union.

The programme consists of a series of modules at 3 learning levels:

- Level 1 provides on overview about what the UCC is bringing and focusses on the key features, the impact on customs authorities and trade and the transitional measures in place to move from Community Customs Code (CCC) to the new UCC.
- Level 2 provides fundamental knowledge and describes the procedures for each specific customs domain as defined by the UCC.
- Level 3 will provide more expert knowledge and practical applications on specific topics, including the use of IT systems.

At this stage, only Level 1 and Level 2 are in development - (Level 3 is still to be defined.)

This UCC EU eLearning programme can be followed as a complete programme. However, the modules are designed to allow the selection of single modules in function of your professional competency needs. For training providers, we recommend integrating these eLearning modules in their wider customs training programme (blended learning programme).

To freely download these easy-to-use eLearning modules, select your course in the download form.

For standalone use, you may download the regular course zip folder (includes iso, exe, html or html5 formats). For integration in your local LMS system, download the scorm zip folder. The Quick Start Guide available in the download package explains how to install the courses on your PC or system.

The European Parliament issues a resolution on the decision for the UK to leave the EU

The European Parliament has issued a motion for a resolution to wind up the debate on the statements by the Council and the Commission, pursuant to Rule 123(2) of the Rules of Procedure, on the decision to leave the EU resulting from the UK referendum.

The resolution covers 16 key points, with the main focus on triggering notification under Article 50 TEU immediately in order to prevent damaging uncertainty for everyone and to protect the Union's integrity. As a result, the European Parliament has asked the UK Prime Minister to notify the outcome of the referendum to the European Council on 28-29 June, where this notification will launch the withdrawal procedure.

The full resolution can be found here.

UK votes to leave EU

On 23 June 2016, the British public voted in favour of a so-called "Brexit", or exit from the European Union ("EU"). Whilst the result of the referendum is not legally binding on the UK Government it is politically so and, furthermore, the governing Conservative Party promised that the referendum would be binding in their manifesto.

Mechanics of leaving the EU

The vote in favour of Brexit means that, at some point in the near future, the UK Government will trigger Article 50 of the Treaty on the European Union ("TFEU") by notifying the European Council of the UK's intention to leave.

This notification will set the timer on a two year countdown within which the UK and the remaining EU Member States ("EU-27") will have to negotiate a withdrawal agreement. The form of such a withdrawal agreement will depend on negotiations and there is no guarantee that the UK will be able to withdraw entirely on its own terms.

Importantly, during the two year negotiation period, EU laws will still apply to and in the UK, and the UK will be able to continue participating in other EU business during this time. However, in terms of the parties to the negotiation of the UK's withdrawal, the UK will be one party, and the EU-27 will be the other party, with the UK having no part in the EU-27 discussions.

Any final deal at the end of the two year process would need to be ratified by EU leaders by way of a qualified majority vote, a majority of the European Parliament and by the national parliaments of the EU-27.

Implications of Brexit on your businesses

Many companies are struggling to understand whether or not they will benefit or be at risk now that the UK has voted to withdraw from the EU. Asking the right questions will help companies identify the potential risks and opportunities that the Brexit scenario causes for their organisations.

We see the implications of the Brexit vote falling into three broad categories: (1) the status of EU law; (2) the UK's trading relationship with the EU-27; and (3) the UK's trading relationship with the rest of the world.

1) Status of EU law

EU law will continue to apply to the UK throughout the two year negotiation process. This means that there is no immediate change following the results of the Referendum.

Following the UK's exit of the EU, there is a general assumption that the UK will repeal the European Communities Act 1972, under which the UK is obliged to follow EU law. This means that, from the date of repeal, the UK will no longer be obliged to follow future EU law, although the current corpus of EU law in force is likely to remain in force. In addition, EU law contained in EU Directives, that has been implemented in the UK through UK statutory instruments (or SIs), will remain in force, unless the UK decides to repeal the UK SIs that implemented these Directives. Other forms of EU law, such as EU Regulations, will no longer apply directly to the UK. The UK may decide to create similar legislation, or retain only some aspects of EU Regulations currently in force to suit the needs of the UK.

With regard to European court judgments, English court judges will need to indicate the extent to which English courts should follow European court judgments, past and future. It is possible that in the future, an English court judge might decide that the judgment of a European court is persuasive, and so choose to adopt a similar approach in the UK

2) UK's trading relationship with the EU-27

Once the two year withdrawal negotiations are over, the UK will have to form a trading relationship with the EU-27. Whether the negotiations around the UK's post-EU trading relationship with the EU-27 will happen concurrently with the withdrawal negotiations, or begin afterwards, is currently unknown. As a member of the EU, the UK enjoyed tariff-free trade with the other Member States, as well as free movement of people and services.

It is not certain what form of agreement will be reached with the EU-27, but the current thinking is that the UK will attempt to negotiate a series of free trade agreements ("FTAs") with the EU-27 once it has exited the EU. Negotiations are likely to be extremely complex and lengthy and there are concerns that the UK lacks the manpower and expertise required for such negotiations.

It is likely that the UK will try and achieve its political objectives behind the Brexit vote (namely, controls on the movement of people, reduction in funding payments to the EU, and regained controls of its own laws) with a FTA with the EU. However, whether the EU-27 will be willing to allow the UK to 'cherry pick' the best aspects of EU is far from certain.

Once the UK has exited, until such FTAs are negotiated, the UK will lose a number of the benefits of EU membership, including (but not limited to) tariff-free trade within the EU and 'passporting rights'. This will mean that imports from the EU-27 will be subject to duties, and financial institutions will no longer be able to freely provide cross-border financial advice, or run branches in other EU Member States.

3) UK's trading relationship with the rest of the world

As a member of the EU, the UK benefited from the multiple FTAs that the EU held with the rest of the world. Since these FTAs are made with the EU, once the UK has exited the EU, it will also cease to be a party to these agreements. This will mean that the UK will, post exiting, also lose out on any benefits that it previously had as a result of these FTAs, such as tariff free trade.

It is therefore important to consider where your business purchases inputs from, and where your business' main markets are, in order to assess whether the loss of FTAs will impact your imports and exports to these countries.

In the absence of these FTAs, the default position will be that the UK reverts to World Trade Organisation ("WTO") rules, which include the rule that equal tariffs must be applied to all WTO members, unless a valid FTA is formed between them. On leaving the EU, the UK will therefore move from duty-free trade with the EU countries and with countries with which the EU has FTAs, to having to re-impose duties when trading with these countries.

Unlike with the EU's FTAs, the UK will remain a member of the WTO since it joined as a original member in its own right, and not as member of the EU. However, the UK does not currently have a separate Schedule of Concessions (a document listing the specific commitments made by the members of the WTO which reflect specific tariff concessions and other commitments in the context of trade negotiations), since it only currently has one as a member of the EU. Therefore, when the UK formally leaves the EU, it will need to renegotiate a separate Schedule of Concessions so that the other members of the WTO understand what the UK is committed to offering. As with FTAs, such renegotiations are likely to be extremely lengthy and complex and the outcome is far from certain.

Wildlife trafficking: EU Council emphasises key role of customs

On 20 June 2016, the Council of the European Union adopted conclusions on the EU Action Plan to tackle wildlife trafficking within the EU and to strengthen the EU's role in this respect globally. The conclusions emphasise the key role of customs in cracking down on wildlife trafficking.

The European Commission adopted the Action Plan on 26 February 2016. It is an ambitious blueprint that calls for joining forces, including customs.

EU revises list of defence-related products

On 21 June 2016, the Official Journal published Commission Directive (EU) 2016/970 of 27 May 2016 amending Directive 2009/43/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council as regards the list of defence-related products. The Directive contains a revised list of defence-related articles and requires all Member States to adopt and publish, by 21 September 2016 at the latest, the laws, regulations and administrative provisions necessary to comply with the Directive.

EU extends Crimea and Sevastopol sanctions to 23 June 2017

The EU Council has extended for a further year the measures imposed by Council Regulation 692/2014 and Council Decision 2014/386/CFSP in response to the illegal annexation of Crimea and Sevastopol to Russia (see our earlier post on the previous one year extension here). The implementing legislation was published in the Official Journal of the European Union on 18 June 2016. The Council took this opportunity to reaffirm its previous statement of 19 March 2015 that the EU continues to condemn the annexation of Crimea and Sevastopol.

EU political agreement on framework to stop financing armed groups through trade in conflict minerals

On 15 June 2016, EU institutions agreed on a framework for an EU Regulation designed to ensure that minerals entering the EU have been sourced responsibly and without funding conflict and human rights abuses. This will build upon the OECD Due Diligence Guidance for responsible mineral sourcing (available here).

The proposed Regulation will apply to the vast majority of metals and minerals imported to the EU will be covered, although small volume importers will be exempted. The agreed framework carries obligations for the upstream part of the conflict minerals supply chain to source raw metals and raw minerals responsibly and to check the origin of materials they buy. The Commission will carry out additional measures (e.g., develop reporting tools) to strengthen due diligence by large and smaller EU downstream companies using such metals and minerals as components in goods.

Negotiations on technical implementation are expected to last several months.

Ross Denton and Sunny Mann of our London office authored the above. For updates, please check our Sanctions blog.

Council of the European Union lifts restrictive measures against Côte d'Ivoire

Further to our previous Sanctions blog posts (click here and here), on 10 June 2016, the Council of the European Union repealed the following restrictive measures in relation to Côte d'Ivoire:

- 1. Decision 2010/656/CFSP renewing the restrictive measures against Côte d'Ivoire;
- Regulation (EC) No 174/2005 imposing restrictions on the supply of assistance related to military activities to Côte d'Ivoire; and
- Regulation (EC) No 560/2005 imposing certain specific restrictive measures directed against certain persons and entities in view of the situation in Côte d'Ivoire.

The adoption of UNSCR 2283 on 28 April 2016, which terminates with immediate effect all UN sanctions against Côte d'Ivoire, coupled with recent developments in Côte d'Ivoire, has resulted in the Council lifting the entirety of the Union's own, additional restrictive measures against the country. This is only the beginning for the repealing of restrictive measures in Côte d'Ivoire, and further updates are expected to follow shortly.

EU and SADC sign Economic partnership Agreement

On 10 June 2016, the European Commission announced that the European Union and six countries (Botswana, Lesotho, Mozambique, Namibia, South Africa and Swaziland) of the Southern African Development Community (SADC) signed an Economic Partnership Agreement (EPA), the first of its kind between the EU and an African region pursuing economic integration. The signature took place in Kasane. Botswana.

The EPA is a development-oriented free trade agreement. In addition to this agreement, other regional agreements could also soon be signed with West Africa and the East African Community. The announcement said:

The EPA takes into account the different levels of development of each partner. It guarantees Botswana, Lesotho, Mozambique, Namibia, and Swaziland duty-free, quota-free access to the European market. South Africa will also benefit from enhanced market access, going beyond the existing bilateral arrangement. Furthermore, the agreement signed today increases the flexibility of Southern African producers to put together products from components from various countries, without the risk of losing their free access to the EU market. It also provides for a number of protective measures, for instance for nascent, fragile industries or for food security reasons.

The Southern African markets will open gradually and partially to EU exports, in an asymmetric way. In the process of diversifying their economies and broadening production, imports of certain goods are important for Southern African nations - certain industrial parts, seeds and machinery, for instance. The import duties on many of these so-called intermediary goods will be significantly reduced, making the products more easily accessible to Southern African entrepreneurs.

For the South African market specifically, particular advantage has been granted to EU producers of traditional quality products with a worldwide reputation – for example wines and food products – that will now get the exclusive right to use their traditional names, or 'geographical indications', in South Africa. Correspondingly, several South African geographical indications will, from now on, be protected on the EU market, such as different types of South African wine such as Stellenbosch and Paarl, along with Rooibos tea and other products.

By signing the agreement, all participants commit to acting towards sustainable development, including by upholding social and environmental standards. The EPA also establishes a consultation procedure for environmental or labour issues and defines a comprehensive list of areas in which the partners will cooperate to foster sustainable development. Civil society will have a special role in monitoring the impact of the agreement. In addition, a detailed chapter on development cooperation identifies trade-related areas that could benefit from EU financial support.

The EPA creates joint institutions to support dialogue, the smooth handling of all trade issues, and the monitoring of the impact of the trade deal. The EU will work with its SADC partners to ensure the smooth implementation of the agreement, together with regional and national development cooperation bodies.

The EU Council of Ministers took the decision to authorise the signature of the Economic Partnership Agreement on 1 June. Following the signature, the agreement will now be submitted for approval to the European Parliament, and for ratification in the 28 EU Member States according to national ratification procedures and in the Southern African countries.

Commission presents Standardisation Package and Joint Initiative on Standardisation to EFTA

The European Free Trade Association (EFTA) announced that the 146th meeting of EFTA's Committee on Technical Barriers to Trade (TBT Committee) took place in Brussels on 2 June. Representatives of the European Commission informed the Committee about the Standardisation Package adopted by the Commission the previous day, as well as the Joint Initiative on Standardisation (JIS), in which EFTA has had an active role.

The Commission outlined its vision for the European Standardisation System and thanked EFTA for its support and for being a reliable partner in European standardisa-

Standardisation Package

On 1 June 2016, the Commission adopted a Standardisation Package on "European Standards for the 21st Century", containing the following four elements:

- A communication on "European Standards for the 21st Century"
- A staff working document on "Tapping the potential of European service standards to help Europe's consumers and businesses"
- A report from the Commission to the European Parliament and Council on the implementation of the Standards Regulation
- The annual Union Work Programme for European standardisation for 2017

In the communication, the Commission sets out its vision for an efficient European Standardisation System and announces the next steps on the JIS. It establishes a steering committee to monitor work in the JIS, and authorises Commissioner Bieńkowska to sign the JIS on behalf of the College in Amsterdam on 13 June.

Click here for more information:

Joint Initiative on Standardisation

The JIS sets out a shared vision to modernise the way that standards are produced in Europe. In the initiative, the partners agree on a vision for European standardisation and on several principles and values that the system is based on.

European standards are developed by industry and other market players in an inclusive and timely manner. They contribute significantly to growth, jobs and societal welfare by providing high quality standards and other deliverables. The European Standardisation System provides a coherent set of standards for Europe and globally, facilitating global market access by taking up international standards wherever possible. By modernising its standardisation system and making sure that it meets our needs, Europe can keep its position as a world leader in standards development.

The JIS will be formally launched in Amsterdam on 13 June. It is a collaborative co regulation, the first of its kind, and is in line with the key elements of the 2015 Better Regulation Package. The JIS is voluntary and does not establish any new legal commitments or change any existing legislation. The text was developed by an editorial committee in which all interested parties in the European standardisation community participated. The Editorial Committee was chaired by the Commission, with the EFTA Secretariat acting as the Secretariat to the Committee.

EFTA's participation in European standardisation

EFTA has a longstanding tradition of being a partner in the public-private partnership at European level in the European Standardisation System. In parallel with the Commission, EFTA funds the work of the European Standardisation Organisations (CEN, CENELEC and ETSI) as well as the recognised stakeholder organisations, the socalled Annex III Organisations (ANEC, ECOS, SBS and ETUC). This line of cooperation and co-funding has been followed since the Luxembourg Declaration of 1984.

Commission amends CN to eliminate or reduce duties on ITA goods

On 29 June 2016, the Official Journal published Commission Implementing Regulation (EU) 2016/1047 of 28 June 2016 amending Annex I to Council Regulation (EEC) No 2658/87 on the tariff and statistical nomenclature and on the Common Customs Tariff which amended the Common Nomenclature (CN) to implement Council Decision (EU) 2016/971, which provides for an elimination or a reduction of customs duties for a certain number of products covered by the WTO Declaration on the Expansion of Trade in Information Technology Products (ITA).

The Commission Implementing Regulation amends the CN to identify the covered products and define 'Multi-component integrated circuits' (MCOs). The Regulation also replaces several CN codes and breaks out codes that are affected by the WTO ITA agreement.

Commission issues tariff classification regulations

See separate section below for tariff classification regulations issued by the European Commission during the period covered by this Update.

Amendments to the CN Explanatory Notes

See separate section below for amendments to the Explanatory Notes to the Combined Nomenclature of the European Union that were published in the Official Journal during the period covered by this Update.

Binding Tariff Information

The European Community has created the Binding Tariff Information (BTI) system as a tool to assist economic operators to obtain the correct tariff classification for goods they intend to import or export.

Binding Tariff Information is issued on request to economic operators by the customs authorities of the Member States. It is valid throughout the Community, regardless of the Member State which issued it. For information about an existing BTI, you may want to contact the customs administration of the Member State which issued it. However, remember that, according to the provisions for data protection, there are limitations as to the information an administration can provide. You can search and consult existing BTIs on the EBTI-database.

Classification decisions adopted by the Commission and preliminary decisions adopted by the States-Members

The Commission has posted a table which provides a collection of classification decisions under the common tariff adopted by the Commission. A separate website exists for preliminary decisions on the classification of goods adopted by the customs authorities of states - members of the Eurasian Economic Union. It was last updated 1 June 2016 and has over 14,000 decisions. The table lists the country, tariff codes, a description, and rationale (GRIs) for the decision.

Belarus

Preliminary decisions on tariff classification

The State Customs Committee maintains a searchable database of preliminary decisions on the tariff classification of goods (База данных товаров, в отношении которых принято предварительное решение о классификации). The database has been updated through May 2016. It may be searched by tariff code or description (in Russian).

Russian Federation

Russia to gradually lift foreign trade sanctions on Turkey

Russia took a decision to gradually repeal foreign trade sanctions applied to Turkey. On June 30, 2016 the Russian President issued Decree No. 314 which lifted some of the sanctions imposed on Turkey. Namely the Decree (i) provides for the resumption of charter flights between Russia and Turkey, (ii) allows Russian travel agencies to sell tours to Turkey, as well as (iii) instructs the Russian Government to hold negotiations with the Government of Turkey on the improvement of foreign economic relations, which may result in gradual repeal of the other foreign trade measures currently imposed on Turkey. Decree No. 314 should be implemented by the relevant resolutions of the Russian Government.

Decree No. 314 was issued following the negotiations between the Russian and Turkish Presidents which took place on June 29, 2015.

Russian trade sanctions were initially imposed against Turkey by Presidential Decree No. 583 dated November 28, 2015. The trade measures still remaining in effect include a ban on importation to Russia of certain types of goods originating from Turkey, and restriction on provision of certain types services and performance of certain types of works by Russian legal entities controlled by Turkish persons. The trade measures also include certain travel and work permit limitations for Turkish nationals.

For additional information, please contact Alexander Bychkov of our Moscow office.

Russia extends the food embargo until the end of 2017

On June 29, 2016 the President of Russia Vladimir Putin signed Decree No. 305 that extended the food embargo against specifically listed types of Western – origin food products until December 31, 2017. The 1-year ban on the importation of certain agricultural and food products originating in the countries that have sanctioned Russia was first introduced in the summer of 2014. In June of 2015 the embargo was extended to be effective until August 5, 2016.

To reiterate, the Russian embargo initially covered specifically listed types of food products originating from the EU, US, Canada, Australia and Norway. Later the ban was extended to Albania, Montenegro, Iceland and Liechtenstein, which joined the anti-Russian sanctions. At the end of 2015 Russia added Ukraine into the list of the embargoed jurisdictions. The types of products subject to the embargo include beef, pork, poultry, fish, milk, fruits, vegetables and some other product categories.

At the same time, in May 2016 the Government of Russia lifted the embargo on the importation of poultry, beef and frozen and dried vegetables explicitly intended for the production of baby foods.

The new Presidential Decree provides that the Russian Government may offer proposals to change the ban's terms when necessary.

For additional information, please contact Alexander Bychkov of our Moscow office.

Preliminary decisions on tariff classification

The Federal Customs Service (FCS) has a searchable on-line database of preliminary decisions on tariff classification. The database has been updated through May 12, 2016. It may be searched by tariff code, description (in Russian) or note number.

CBP Rulings: Downloads and Searches

As US Customs and Border Protection (CBP) issues several thousand rulings a year, it is not practical to list each ruling. However, almost all rulings issued by US Customs or CBP from 1993 to the present and many issued before 1993 are available for search and downloading using the CROSS search engine. Over 190,000 such rulings are in the database.

CBP Rulings: Revocations or Modifications

The following table summarizes proposals made or actions taken that were published in the weekly Customs Bulletin and Decisions during the past month by US Customs and Border Protection pursuant to 19 U.S.C. §1625(c) to revoke or modify binding rulings or treatment previously accorded to substantially identical merchandise.

European Classification Regulations

The table below shows the Classification Regulations that were published in the Official Journal during the period covered by this International Trade Compliance Update.

Commission Implementing Regulation	Description of the goods	Classification (CN code)	Reasons
	A product in the form of a yellow powder with a scent of banana, consisting of:	2106 90 92	Classification is determined by general rules 1 and 6 for the interpretation of the Combined Nomenclature and the wording of CN codes 2106,

	A product consisting of the following components, packed as a set:  — A rectangular cut-out (approx. 14 x 21	4911 91 00	Classification is determined by general rules 1, 3(b) and 6 for the interpretation of the Combined Nomenclature, Note 2 to Section VII of the Com-
	cm) made of a plastic film of two layers, printed on the front with black-and-white motifs. The cut-out is fitted with a self-		bined Nomenclature and the wording of CN codes 4911 and 4911 91 00 .  The product is presented as a set for retail sale.
	adhesive strip on the back. From this cut-out, six pre-cut, raised stickers (the top plastic film is in relief) can be peeled off.		Its essential character is given by the stickers. Classification under heading 3919 is excluded as the shape of the pre-cut, raised stickers is not flat.
	<ul> <li>Three porous-tipped felt pens in different colours. The felt pens are packed together in a small plastic package.</li> </ul>		Classification under heading 3926 is excluded as the printing is not merely incidental to the primary use of the goods (see Note 2 to Section VII).
(EU) 2016/934 of 08-06-16	The stickers are to be coloured in with the felt pens and then used for decoration purposes. See image		Chapter 49 covers, with a few exceptions, all printed matter of which the essential nature and use is determined by the fact of it being printed with motifs, characters or pictorial representations (see also the Harmonized System Explanatory Notes (HSEN) to Chapter 49, General, first paragraph).
			Self-adhesive printed stickers designed to be used for decoration are covered by heading 4911 (see also the HSEN to heading 4911, point (10)).
			Therefore, the product is to be classified in CN code 4911 91 00 .
(EU) 2016/935 of 08-06-16	A product consisting of a metallised poly- ethylenterephthalate ('PET') film used as a raw material source to manufacture an alu- minium gigment, having the following char-	7616 99 90	Classification is determined by general rules 1, 3(b) and 6 for the interpretation of the Combined Nomenclature and the wording of CN codes 7616, 7616 99 and 7616 99 90.

	purity of 99,8 % or more,  — the optical density of each aluminium layer is not more than 3,0 D,  — each aluminium layer is separated by an acrylate polymer layer,  — the thickness of each aluminium layer is up to 30 nanometres (0,03 µm),  — the aluminium and acrylate polymer layers are on a PET (polyethylenterephthalate) carrier film having a thickness of 12 µm.  The product is presented on rolls of up to 50 000 metres in length.		binder, or of a metal or pigment deposited on a supporting sheet, and it is not of a kind used for printing. Consequently, in accordance with Note 6 to Chapter 32 the product is not a stamping foil.  As the PET carrier film acts as a structural support layer for the aluminium and acrylate polymer layers put on either side of that PET carrier film, it does not give the product its essential character. The essential character is given by the aluminium. Classification as foils of polyesters or plastics under heading 3920 or 3921 is therefore excluded.  In accordance with Note 1(d) to Chapter 76, foils of heading 7607 consist only of a single layer of aluminium which can be backed with, for instance, plastics. The product has a more complex structure as it consists of several aluminium layers separated by acrylate polymer layers, supported by a PET carrier film in the centre of that structure. Consequently, classification under heading 7607 as an aluminium foil, backed with plastics, is also excluded.  The product is therefore to be classified in CN code 7616 99 90 as other articles of aluminium.
(EU) 2016/936 of 08-06-16	A product put up for retail sale in gelatine capsules, one capsule consisting of (mg):  — simethicone: 257,5  — gelatine, glycerol, dimethicone, titanium dioxide (E 171), potassium sorbate, food colourants E 110 and E 122: approx. 196  The product soothes stomach pain and prevents bloating and flatulence. According to its label, the product is presented for human consumption with a recommended daily dose of one to two capsules after each main meal of the day.	3004 90 00	Classification is determined by the general rules 1 and 6 for the interpretation of the Combined Nomenclature, Note 1(f) to Chapter 21 and the wording of CN codes 3004 and 3004 90 00.  The product, due to the presence of simethicone, has therapeutic properties. Its classification under heading 2106 as a food preparation not elsewhere specified or included is therefore excluded (see Note 1(f) to Chapter 21).  The product is put up for retail sale in measured doses and exhibits clearly defined prophylactic or therapeutic properties, e.g. against functional dyspepsia.  The product is therefore to be classified as a medicament put up in measured doses for retail sale in CN code 3004 90 00.
(EU) 2016/996 of 16-06-16	A product in powder form consisting of the dried leaves of the moringa tree ( Moringa oleifera ).  The product is used as an ingredient in foods (such as creams, sauces, salads, pizzas, meats, soups or spices) or separately to prepare teas or as a food supplement.	1212 99 95	Classification is determined by general rules 1 and 6 for the interpretation of the Combined Nomenclature and the wording of CN codes 1212, 1212 99 and 1212 99 95.  Due to the nature of the plant, this product is not intended exclusively for direct consumption as a vegetable, but its use is more diversified and complex: it is used as an ingredient in different foods or separately to prepare teas or as a food supplement.  Consequently, Moringa oleifera cannot be classified as a vegetable of heading 0712.  Classification under heading 1211 is excluded because, although this is a product with positive effects on human health, the main purpose of usage of this product is not 'primarily in perfum- ery, in pharmacy or for insecticidal, fungicidal or similar purposes' as stated in the heading text.

			Given its characteristics and properties, the product should be classified in CN code 1212 99 95.
