Diverted Profits Tax (DPT) Bill introduced

In December 2016, the Australian Government released draft Diverted Profits Tax (DPT) legislation and we reported on the relevance of this proposed legislation to the healthcare industries (see: Australia's Draft DPT Legislation: What is the Relevance for Healthcare?).

By way of update, the Government introduced the Treasury Laws Amendment (Combating Multinational Tax Avoidance) Bill 2017 into the House of Representatives earlier this month.

The Baker McKenzie team has analysed how the DPT will apply to an entity under the Bill and changes to the proposed DPT from the exposure draft legislation - our latest alert can be viewed on our website at the following link: Diverted Profits Tax \(DPT\) Bill Introduced.

Please contact us if you have any queries regarding the relevance of the Bill to the healthcare industries.

Kind regards,
