Communication from India and other Member States to amend DSU

On 23 November, 2018, India and other Member States called on all Member States to fill vacancies on the Appellate Body and to amend certain provisions of the Understanding on Rules and Procedures Governing the Settlement of Disputes (DSU), circulated by the General Council vide Notification No. WT/GC/W/752 (dated 26 November, 2018).

Subsequently, India, the European Union and China proposed additional amendments to the DSU with aim at strengthening independence and impartiality of the Appellate Body, improving efficiency so as to enable it to meet required timeframes, and ensuring an orderly transition as well as an orderly launch of selection procedures, circulated vide Notification No. WT/GC/W/753 (dated 26 November, 2018).

WTO, UNCTAD, ITC sign MoU to provide businesses with better access to trade data

On 23 November 2018, the WTO announced that the WTO, the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development (UNCTAD) and the International Trade Centre (ITC) signed a Memorandum of Understanding to advance the development of an online platform — the Global Trade Helpdesk — aimed at providing businesses, and particularly small businesses, with faster and easier access to trade data and information on potential export markets.

An early version of HelpMeTrade.org was launched at the WTO's 11th Ministerial Conference in Buenos Aires, Argentina, in December 2017. Under the MoU, the WTO, ITC and UNCTAD agree to further develop the platform, with the aim of improving the quality and accessibility of trade information needed by businesses – and in particular, micro, small and medium-sized enterprises (MSMEs) - to access market opportunities. As part of the agreement, the three organizations will provide technical assistance to developing countries to help them maintain up-to-date information in the Global Trade Helpdesk and will raise awareness among MSMEs about how to benefit from this trade information.

By making trade data freely available through a user-friendly interface, the Global Trade Helpdesk will make it easier for companies across the world to increase their participation in world trade and reduce trade costs. It will help policymakers make better-informed decisions about trade and investment policies and will ensure that the international community provides better support to MSMEs.

WTO report shows sharp rise in trade-restrictive measures from G20 economies

The WTO's 20th monitoring report on Group of 20 (G20) trade measures issued on 22 November shows that the amount of trade covered by new import-restrictive measures hit a new high during the current reporting period. The estimated US$ 481 billion in trade coverage of these new measures imposed by G20 economies from mid-May to mid-October 2018 is more than six times larger than that recorded in the previous reporting period and the largest since this measure was first calculated in 2012. The report also shows that the trade coverage of new import-facilitating measures (US$ 216 billion) rose significantly during this period but is less than half that of trade-restrictive measures. WTO Director-General Roberto Azevêdo warned the report's findings constitute a source of serious concern and called for immediate action to de-escalate the situation.

Goods Council considers revised transparency proposal to "reinvigorate" the WTO

The WTO Goods Council on 12-13 November discussed a revised proposal on enhancing members' transparency and strengthening notification requirements. The proposal had been revised to reflect earlier feedback and is now sponsored by seven delegations. The Council also debated the European Union's proposed changes to its tariff rate quotas in response to Brexit and took up issues related to technology products and other trade concerns.

The transparency proposal is sponsored by the United States, Argentina, Australia, Costa Rica, the European Union, Chinese Taipei and Japan. It is based on a US submission first circulated for consideration at the 11th Ministerial Conference last December.

The United States, introducing the proposal at the recent meeting, said there ought to be consequences for members failing to meet transparency obligations as a lack of notifications on trade-related policies hinders the functioning of the organization. The proposal is an effort to encourage better compliance with notification requirements, reinvigorate the organization and improve the transparency necessary to facilitate work across different negotiating topics, the US said. Other members behind the proposal similarly emphasized the need to enhance transparency and better monitor the implementation of the WTO agreements.

Thirty-seven members took the floor to respond to the proposal, signalling high interest in the issue. All 37 highlighted the importance of transparency as a fundamental pillar of the multilateral trading system. A number of members said the proposal was a good starting point for further discussions and noted the improvements compared to the previous US proposal on the same issue. Other members took issue with the use of punitive measures on members and noted the need to consider capacity constraints of developing and least-developed countries.

The proponents plan to hold discussions with all other interested members to further improve the proposal.

EU's tariff-rate quota proposal in response to Brexit causes concern

The WTO announced that twenty-eight WTO members expressed concern over the European Union's proposal to adjust its tariff rate quotas (TRQ) for agricultural and industrial goods as a consequence of the United Kingdom's withdrawal from the bloc. Members expressed concern that the EU's proposed TRQ changes would reduce the level and quality of access that WTO members currently have to the EU and UK markets.

Members emphasized that the EU is the world's largest agricultural trader and that the EU proposal would have real commercial implications. Members further noted that the future trading relationship between the EU and the UK was not yet clear and Brexit's impact on third parties' market access thus remained uncertain. In addition, the EU's proposed methodology for calculating the proposed change in TRQs came under criticism. Members highlighted WTO principles which discourage members from leaving trading partners worse off and require appropriate compensation to be negotiated.

The EU confirmed that it had submitted revised data in October for its TRQ renegotiation and recognized that members may need more time to revise or update their claims of interest. The EU said it had received 25 claims of compensation from Brexit's TRQ impact from interested trading partners. The TRQ changes will affect more than 365 tariff lines and is the largest one-time modification of commitments ever undertaken at the WTO.

Restrictions on Chinese technology products

The WTO Goods Council announced that China voiced its concern over the inclusion of a certain Chinese memory chip manufacturer in the US "Entity List of Export Controls". This prohibits US companies from exporting products, software and technology necessary for the operation of the Chinese company based on national security considerations, China said.

China was of the view this restriction violates WTO rules and abuses the national security exemption set out in Article XXI of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade. China said the US measure is intended to maintain US dominance in the industry.

The United States, in turn, said this was a law enforcement action meant to protect national security and intellectual property. China replied it was not appropriate for the United States to use export restrictions in lieu of a court ruling on intellectual property rights violations.

China further took issue with Australia's decision to ban goods and services of two Chinese companies from 5G telecommunication projects in Australia. China said it opposed protectionism under the disguise of national security. Australia, in response, said it was committed to safeguarding critical national infrastructure in the telecommunications sector. Australia indicated that its approach is not targeted at any particular country or suppliers from a particular country. Furthermore, the restrictions apply equally to Australian-owned and foreign-owned telecommunication carriers, Australia said.

Members review regional agreements

The WTO announced that members reviewed the interim Economic Partnership Agreement between the European Union and Ghana at the 19 November meeting of the Committee on Regional Trade Agreements. Members also considered the Eurasian Economic Union (EAEU) treaty and EAEU accessions of Armenia and the Kyrgyz Republic.

Revised proposal regarding Appellate Body appointments

On 8 November, 2018, India and other Member States revised proposal regarding filling vacancies in the WTO Appellate Body, circulated by the Dispute Settlement Body vide Notification No. WT/DSB/W/609/Rev.6 (dated 9 November, 2018).

Trade Policy Reviews: Armenia and Hong Kong, China

Statement by the EU to the TBT Committee

On 22 November, 2018, the European Union communicated regarding India - Stainless Steel Products (Quality Control) Order, 2015 raising concerns that such measures constitute an unnecessary technical barrier to trade and discrimination against foreign producers to have to conduct double testing to access Indian market, circulated by the Committee on Technical Barriers to Trade vide Notification No. G/TBT/W/570.

TBT Notifications

Member countries of the WTO are required under the Agreement on Technical Barriers to Trade (TBT Agreement) to report to the WTO all proposed technical regulations that could affect trade with other Member countries. The WTO Secretariat distributes this information in the form of "notifications" to all Member countries. See separate section on WTO TBT Notifications for a table which summarizes notifications posted by the WTO during the past month.

Canada imposes sanctions on individuals linked to murder of Jamal Khashoggi

On November 29, 2018, the Hon. Chrystia Freeland, Minister of Foreign Affairs, announced targeted sanctions under the Justice for Victims of Corrupt Foreign Officials Act against 17 Saudi nationals linked to the murder of Jamal Khashoggi.

The sanctions target individuals who are, in the opinion of the Government of Canada, responsible for or complicit in the extrajudicial killing of journalist Jamal Khashoggi on October 2, 2018.

These sanctions effectively freeze the assets of these individuals in Canada. Their listing also renders them inadmissible to Canada pursuant to the Immigra- tion and Refugee Protection Act.

While Canada has imposed sanctions on these 17 Saudi nationals, it continues to call for a transparent and rigorous accounting of the circumstances surrounding Mr. Khashoggi's murder. Canada believes that explanations offered to date by Saudi Arabia lack consistency and credibility.

IMMEX companies - temporary importation of sensitive goods

Current Situation

Currently those companies with IMMEX Program that need to import on a temporary basis merchandise listed in Annex II of the IMMEX Decree, are obliged to secure an extension of its IMMEX Program in order carry out the temporary import of such goods.

On the other hand, companies with IMMEX Program that have secured Registration in the Companies Certification Integral Scheme, in the modality VAT (and with authorization to temporarily import merchandise classified in the tariff codes listed in Annex II of the IMMEX Decree and/or Annex 28 of the General Foreign Trade Rules ("GFTR") are exempted from the obligation to extend their IMMEX Program to carry out temporary importation of merchandise listed in Annex II of the IMMEX Decree.

Amendment Project to the IMMEX Decree and the Foreign Trade General Rules and Criteria issued by the Ministry of Economy ("FTGRC")

On October 25 and 26 of this year, the Ministry of Economy published in the web page of COFEMER the following documents:

(i) Project of Decree to modify the IMMEX Decree, through which, among other important topics, the authority adds a section V to article 5 and eliminates section II of article 6 from the current IMMEX Decree, in addition to the inclusion of tariff codes of cooper and lead to Annex II of the IMMEX Decree; and

(ii) Amendment to rule 3.3.1. of the Official resolution by means of which the Ministry of Economy issues the Foreign Trade General Rules and Criteria through which the authority sets forth the exception criteria in order to waive the obligation of extending the IMMEX Program to carry out temporary importation of merchandise listed in Annex II of the IMMEX Decree.

If these amendments are applied as above mentioned, the IMMEX companies with VAT Certification will no longer have the benefit of waiving the obligation of extending their IMMEX program to import on a temporary basis the merchandise listed in Annex II of the IMMEX Decree, therefore in order to keep importing such merchandise, they will have to extend their IMMEX Program.

It is important to mention that the requirement to secure the extension of the IM-MEX Program in order to temporarily import merchandise listed in Annex II of the IMMEX Decree are complex and in some cases hard to meet. This could represent an obstacle for IMMEX companies to carry on business as usual.

Only companies which fit in any of the exceptions set forth in rule 3.3.1 of the FTGRC will be able to keep waiving the obligation of extending their IMMEX Program. Some exceptions are the following:

I. IMMEX Companies that:

- a) Have a Registry of Auto Motor Industry,
- b) Have an approval from Ministry of Communications and Transportation as part of the aeronautic industry
- c) Are considered as Maquiladoras for tax purposes
- d) Have had at least 2,000 workers in the last 3 years.

II. Are direct suppliers of the companies listed in point I above

III. Are direct suppliers of companies listed in point II above.

IV. Are direct suppliers of companies listed in point III above.

V. Have had at least 700 workers in the last 6 months.

VI. Have machinery and equipment or a real estate property with a value of at least 50 million pesos;

- VII. Have been affiliated during the last 3 years to any business chamber and have had at least 250 workers in the past 6 months;
- VIII. Have been affiliated during the last 3 years to any association of exporting companies that have authorization by the Tax Administration Services to render data pre-validation in terms of article 16-A of the Customs law, which have at least 350 maquiladora companies affiliates and have had at least 250 workers during the last 6 months.
- IX. Be listed on international stock exchanges and financial markets in terms of article 16-C of the Federal Tax Code.

Companies that are part of a corporate group in which one of the entities complies with the above mentioned requirements, will be able to apply the exception, given that they demonstrate that are indeed part of the same group in the terms and conditions set forth in rule 3.3.1 of the FTGRC.

It is very important to mention that the amendment project of rule 3.3.1 mentions that IMMEX companies will only be able to apply the exceptions by using the workers rule, if: (i) workers are registered before the Mexican Social Security Institute ("IMSS"), (ii) have a outsourcing structure in terms of articles 15-A to 15-D of the Federal Labor Law and the outsourcing company has all its workers registered in the IMSS.

In order for the Ministry of Economy to verify if indeed the IMMEX companies fit in the exceptions above mentioned and therefore are not obliged to extend its IM-MEX Program to keep importing in a temporary basis merchandise listed in Annex II of the IMMEX Decree, it will be necessary to file before such Ministry, the information and documentation with which the company evidences that the exception is applicable. However the verification or authorization procedure is not yet structured.

Finally, Transitional Article 2 of the Amendment Project sets forth that the certified companies that file information in the terms explained in the above paragraphs may import merchandise listed in Annex II of the IMMEX Decree in a quantity equal to or less than the amount imported on the prior month, until the Ministry of Economy verifies the information.

How can we help?

Even when there is not an exact date when this new regulations will be published in the Federal Official Gazette, it is highly advisable that the IMMEX companies review in detail its operation and determine if such amendments will affect its operations, not only current operations but considering that in the future they might need to import merchandise listed in Annex II of the IMMEX Decree.

We are glad to help you with the analysis of your current situation, as well as help you determine the implications of these amendments in your temporary import operations.

- It is forbidden to use any of the elements of the identity separately or in isolation, as well as the realization of any type of modification in the dimensions or in the arrangement of the graphic identity of the Emblem.

In any case, the Emblem must be integrated in such a way that it does not interfere with what is indicated in the Labeling Rules and commercial information that may be applicable to the products, but without altering in any way the graphic identity of the same.

US Government imposes economic sanctions on Nicaragua targeting certain individuals

On November 27, 2018, the President signed Executive Order 13851 targeting Nicaragua entitled "Blocking Property of Certain Persons Contributing to the Situation in Nicaragua" ("Nicaragua EO"). The US Treasury Department's Office of Foreign Assets Control ("OFAC") also issued a press release related to the Nicaragua EO available here, and added two close associates of Nicaraguan President Daniel Ortega to the Specially Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons List ("SDN List") pursuant to the new Nicaragua EO, the notice for which is available here. The two new SDNs are the current Vice President of Nicaragua and President Ortega's wife, Rosario Maria Murillo de Ortega, and President Ortega's national security adviser, Nestor Moncada Lau.

The Nicaragua EO declares a national emergency with respect to the Government of Nicaragua and was issued in response to the Ortega regime's crackdown on a popular uprising in the country. OFAC's press release advises that the Ortega regime has engaged in rampant corruption, dismantling of democratic institutions, human rights abuses, and exploitation of the people and public resources of Nicaragua for private gain. The Nicaragua EO allows for the designation as SDNs of those parties that are responsible for, or complicit in, or to have directly or indirectly engaged or attempted to engage in:

(A) serious human rights abuses in Nicaragua;

(B) actions or policies that undermine democratic processes or institutions in Nicaragua;

(C) actions or policies that threaten the peace, security, or stability of Nicaragua;

(D) any transaction or series of transactions involving deceptive practices or corruption by, on behalf of, or otherwise related to the Government of Nicaragua or a current or former official of the Government of Nicaragua, such as the misappropriation of public asses or expropriation of private assets for personal gain or political purposes, corruption related to government contracts, or bribery.

The Nicaragua EO also authorizes designation of leaders of official Nicaraguan entities involved in the foregoing activities, officials of the Government of Nicaragua, and those that materially assist, sponsor, or provide support to SDNs designated pursuant to the Nicaragua EO. Individuals designated pursuant to the Nicaragua EO are restricted from entering the United States.

Any property or interests in property of SDNs designated pursuant to the Nicaragua EO that comes within US jurisdiction or possession of a US person must be blocked and reported to OFAC, and US persons are generally prohibited from transacting with any such SDNs or entities 50% or more owned or controlled by SDNs.

TA–131–043 and TPA– 105–004] on the probable economic effect of providing duty-free treatment for currently dutiable imports of a proposed U.S.-Japan Trade Agreement.

USTR requested that the ITC provide a report containing its advice as to the probable economic effect of providing duty-free treatment for imports of currently dutiable products from Japan on (i) industries in the United States producing like or directly competitive products, and (ii) consumers. The USTR asked that the advice be based on the HTS in effect during 2018 and trade data for 2017. In addition, the USTR requested that the Commission prepare an assessment of the probable economic effects of eliminating tariffs on imports from Japan of those agricultural products described in the list attached to the USTR's request letter on (i) industries in the United States producing the products concerned, and (ii) the U.S. economy as a whole. The USTR's request letter and list of agricultural products are posted on the ITC's website.

BIS requests participation in user testing of the new Commerce 232 Exclusion Process Portal

On November 26, 2018, Bureau of Industry and Security (BIS), Office of Technology Evaluation, Department of Commerce, published in the Federal Register a notice on procedures for requesting participation in the user testing phase of the online portal that will replace the use of the Federal rulemaking portal for persons submitting exclusion requests, objections to exclusion requests, rebuttals, and surrebuttals in connection with duties or quotas imposed pursuant to Section 232 of the Trade Expansion Act of 1962, as amended ("232"). In order to improve the 232 exclusion process, Commerce plans to transition to the new Commerce 232 portal sometime in late 2018 to early 2019. The notice describes the process for the public to submit requests to participate in the public testing phase of the new Commerce 232 portal, and the procedures for attending the public testing.

The new Commerce 232 portal was developed by two components of the Department of Commerce, the Bureau of Industry and Security (BIS) and the International Trade Administration (ITA), to facilitate parties' ability to make 232 exclusion-related submissions, and Commerce's management of the 232 exclusion process. Commerce says the new portal will streamline the exclusion process for external parties, including importers and domestic manufacturers, by replacing the data collection point with web-based forms, which will enhance data integrity and quality controls. In addition, this new system will allow parties to more easily view all exclusion request, objection, rebuttal, and surrebuttal documents in one, web-based system. Finally, parties will be able to track submission deadlines in this same system. The new portal will also allow for better collaboration between government agencies

Foreign persons are not eligible to participate in the testing. People selected to participate in the testing of the Commerce 232 portal will be limited to citizens of the United States, lawful permanent residents of the United States, or any other protected individuals as defined by 8 U.S.C. 1324b(a)(3). The public testing, which is limited to thirty-six individuals, will be held on December 6 and 7, 2018 at the US Department of Commerce, Room 6872A, 1401 Constitution Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20230. Each public testing day will be broken into a morning session from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. and an afternoon session from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Once the Commerce 232 portal is ready to be implemented, Commerce will publish rule making changes to the 232 exclusion process in Supplements No. 1 (for steel exclusion requests) and 2 (for aluminum exclusion requests) to Part 705.

All analysis of the facial images collected during this test will be conducted off-line at a later time, and no information collected during this test will be retained in association with an individual's official border-crossing records. The notice describes the purpose of the test as well as how the facial images collected will be used. #### CBP section 301 enforcement push

As companies consider mitigation strategies to offset the impact of the Section 301 duties, we wanted to share an important update regarding enforcement priorities at the border. Further to recent reports, CBP's Office of Regulatory Audit has confirmed that it will be ramping up enforcement of "various types" of imported electronics (i.e., products classified in chapters 84 and 85 of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States). In connection with these efforts, Regulatory Audit is adding staff, including managers and auditors. For instance, CBP is adding 60 new auditors across Regulatory Audit's 10 field offices. Our contacts in Regulatory Audit have informed us that, as part of this effort, a first "wave" of CF-28s (Requests for Information) since the imposition of the Section 301 duties will be issued in 2-4 weeks.

There are several reasons for CBP to focus its enforcement on imported electronics. Most importantly, billions of dollars in revenue are at stake for the U.S. government, and CBP is intent on collecting that revenue (the Trump administration expects CBP to collect "record-setting revenues"). Also, given that electronics have generally been entitled to be entered duty free (or subject to very low duty rates), CBP recognizes that importers are under pressure to reduce the Section 301 impact and, therefore, may (intentionally or unintentionally) act in a manner contrary to U.S. customs laws and regulations. Last, targeting electronics is justifiable given the conclusions of the Section 301 investigation, namely that the Government of China engages in intellectual property theft and forced technology transfers to support its industrial advancement goals. Stated differently, targeting electronics aligns with the legal basis for the Section 301 duties and the administration's messaging around China's unfair policies.

While CBP has confirmed that an enforcement push will be made with respect to electronics, we understand that CBP is increasing enforcement activities on all fronts. As such, companies pursuing Section 301 mitigation strategies should tread cautiously. Re-classifying products, changing the country of origin, and/or decreasing the customs valuation (for example, by declaring the "first sale" price in a multi-tiered transaction, rather than the price the U.S. importer pays), is likely to draw scrutiny from CBP. As such, it is important that companies be able to demonstrate that they exercised reasonable care in carrying out these activities (not exercising reasonable care can lead to steep penalties, in addition to owing unpaid duties). To demonstrate that a company is exercising reasonable care, we recommend having on file contemporaneously drafted documentation that substantiates the legal basis for any changes (e.g., documentation explaining that, based on changes to the supply chain, the product is no longer Chinese origin, since it is now last substantially transformed origin somewhere else). Further, any company that receives a CF-28 or CF-29 (Notice of Action) should escalate the matter to the company's legal department before responding and/or engage outside trade counsel, if appropriate.

We hope this is helpful. If you have any questions regarding the above, please let us know.

CBP to require advance manifests for section 321 truck shipments

In CSMS 18-000656 (Nov. 5, 2018), CBP announced that beginning January 1, 2019 all commercial truck shipments containing Section 321 merchandise will be required to file an advance electronic manifest in accordance to the guidelines specified in the Trade Act of 2002.

Shipments qualifying for Section 321 release were exempt from the electronic manifest filing requirement due to a policy decision made by CBP during the implementation of the Trade Act of 2002.

The rise in eCommerce combined with the increase in the De Minimis value, has resulted in a significant growth in shipments being manifested and released under Section 321.

The lack of an electronic manifest eliminates CBP's ability to conduct a risk assessment or perform advance targeting within the Automated Targeting System (ATS), results in slower processing times and longer wait times.

There are multiple ways to submit a 321 manifest. For online information, please visit; https://www.cbp.gov/trade/ace/training-and-reference-guides. Reference guides are available in both Spanish and English. For information specific to truck manifest visit; https://www.cbp.gov/document/guidance/review-e-manifest-trucks.

Companies not utilizing the provided portal will need to hire a service provider or have an EDI system in place to submit the information. For technical guidance regarding the EDI systems visit; https://www.cbp.gov/trade/automated/technical/ace-import-manifest-documentation.

Beginning November 26, 2018, CBP will begin a phased approach for non-compliance with conveyances being referred to secondary for processing. Then starting January 1, 2019, carriers which make no attempt to comply with the electronic manifest requirement will be issued a monetary penalty ($5000 for the first offence and $10,000 for subsequent offences).

Additional Points of Contact are shown in CSMS# 18-000659 (Nov. 6, 2018).

Significant CBP ruling involving section 301 tariffs

On November 2, 2018, the National Commodity Specialist Division of CBP issued NY Ruling N301371, which involved the country of origin for marking and duty purposes of "bulk lipstick mass, of US origin" that is sent to China for processing into retail packages. The lipstick mass will be heated and poured into individual lipstick tubes. The tubes and caps are manufactured in China. The ruling determination is based on the above processing being the only manufacturing processes performed in China to the bulk lipstick mass. CBP determined that

... the U.S. origin bulk cosmetic mass and powder are sent to China, where they are measured, melted or poured, and compressed into individual tubes. The processing described (melting and pouring into tubes) does not affect any significant change in the character or use of the lipstick mass for purposes of establishing country of origin. Therefore, it is our determination that the foreign processes do not constitute a substantial transformation and the lipstick remains a product of the country of manufacture of the lipstick mass (USA). Accordingly, the imported cosmetics are not subject to the country of origin marking requirements of 19 U.S.C. 1304.

Section 134.24(d) provides that usual disposable containers imported full, and used as such, at the time of importation shall not be required to be marked to show the country of their origin, but shall be marked to indicate the origin of their contents, regardless of the fact that the contents are excepted from marking requirements. The lipstick in tubes, based on the processing described, is packaged in China, for export to the U.S., and is a non-reusable disposable container. Therefore, as a non-reusable disposable container. Therefore, as a non-reusable disposable container. Therefore, 1900 and 1900 CFR 134.24(d).

CBP also determined that as Section 301 duties only apply to products of China, and are based on the country of origin, not country of export, the subject merchandise will not be subject to those additional duties upon importation into the United States.

On November 15, 2018, the State Department's Bureau of Economic and Business Affairs released a list of entities and subentities under the control of, or acting for or on behalf of, the Cuban military, intelligence, or security services or personnel with which direct financial transactions would disproportionately benefit such services or personnel at the expense of the Cuban people or private enterprise in Cuba. For information regarding the prohibition on direct financial transactions with these entities, please see the Department of the Treasury's Office of Foreign Assets Control website and the Department of Commerce's Bureau of Industry and Security website. #### State updates Conventional Arms Transfer (CAT) Policy Implementation Plan

On November 8, 2018, the Department of State posted a Fact Sheet on the Conventional Arms Transfer (CAT) Policy Implementation Plan Update. The following are excerpts from the Fact Sheet:

In July the Secretary of State submitted to the President the Implementation Plan requested as part of the Conventional Arms Transfer (CAT) Policy (NSPM-10). This plan supports the U.S. National Security Strategy through a whole-of-government approach to better align our conventional arms transfers with our national security and economic interests.

In developing the CAT Policy Implementation Plan, and in order to ensure that it is fully integrated the real-world challenges we face, the Administration collected inputs from Congress, American industry and the non-governmental community. We are grateful for their cooperation in this process.

The Plan accounts for the increasingly competitive environment described in the National Security Strategy, and seeks to modernize the U.S. Government's policies and processes regarding arms transfers. It establishes three Lines of Effort (LOE) to implement our CAT Policy goals. Each LOE is supported by a number of tasks that will be undertaken by the relevant U.S. Government agencies.

Line of Effort 1 – Prioritize Strategic and Economic Competition

Tasks within this line of effort include:

- Effectively compete with strategic competitors;
- Identify critical partner capability requirements;
- Prioritize and expedite critical transfers;
- Identify and revise outdated arms transfer policies; and
- Develop holistic policies in support of arms transfers.

Line of Effort 2 - Organize for Success

Tasks under this LOE include:

- Streamline the International Traffic in Arms Regulations (ITAR);
- Revise the United States Munitions List (USML);
- Update the Commerce Control List (CCL);
- Facilitate exports for certain U.S. and cooperative programs;
- Establish objective milestones and standard timelines for Foreign Military Sales (FMS);
- Increase the competiveness of high-demand American weapons systems;
- Build exportability;
- Improve contracting for FMS;
- Enhance U.S. Government advocacy;
- Expand support for Non-Programs of Record;
- Improve FMS Letter of Offer and Acceptance (LOA) processes and policies;
- Examine the U.S. Government policy on offsets; and
- Develop financing options.

Line of Effort 3 - Create Conducive Environments

Tasks in this line of effort include:

- Improve the FMS requirements development approach;
- Reduce costs associated with FMS;
- Improve the funding flexibility associated with FMS;
- Request from Congress, where needed, legislative changes regarding contracting requirements for FMS;
- Establish an Offset Task Force;
- Modernize the Missile Technology Control Regime;
- Improve trade promotion; and
- Work with U.S. industry to incentivize increased production capacity and timely delivery.

Progress and the Way Ahead

The Administration is assessing progress on a quarterly basis, and revising the plan where needed. We continue to solicit input from industry, non-governmental organizations, and Congress to improve the arms transfer process, as well as feedback on the results of our efforts. To date, the Administration has made great progress in developing strategies to compete against strategic and economic rivals, has revised numerous policies to increase U.S. competitiveness, has reduced costs, is on track to streamline regulations and improve processes, among other accomplishments.

For details, see the Fact Sheet.

US Government sanctions 17 individuals in connection with the killing of Jamal Khashoggi

On November 15, 2018, the US Department of the Treasury's Office of Foreign Assets Control ("OFAC") designated seventeen individuals as Specially Designated Nationals ("SDNs") under Executive Order 13818, which implements the Global Magnitsky Human Rights Accountability Act ("Global Magnitsky Act"), in connection with the killing of journalist Jamal Khashoggi. These individuals include Saud al-Qahtani, a former top aide to the crown prince, and Mohammed al-Otaibi, the consul general of the Saudi consulate in Istanbul where Mr. Khashoggi was killed on October 2, 2018. The full list of the designated individuals can be found here.

The Global Magnitsky Act authorizes the President, among other things, to impose sanctions on any individual or entity who is responsible for extrajudicial killings, torture, or other gross violations of internationally recognized human rights committed against individuals in any non-US country seeking to expose illegal activity carried out by government officials, or to obtain, exercise, or promote human rights and freedoms. Our prior blog post on the Global Magnitsky Act can be found here.

Treasury Secretary Mnuchin announced in a statement that "[t]he United States continues to diligently work to ascertain all of the facts and will hold accountable each of those we find responsible in order to achieve justice for Khashoggi's fiancée, children, and the family he leaves behind."

As a result of the OFAC designations, all of the property and interests in property subject to US jurisdiction of the designated individuals are blocked, and "US Persons" are generally prohibited from engaging in transactions with these individuals and any entities 50% or more owned by these individuals. "US Persons" include (i) entities organized under US laws and their non-US branches, (ii) individuals or entities in the United States, or (iii) US citizens or permanent resident aliens ("Green Card" holders) wherever located or employed. Non-US persons may be liable if they cause any US Persons to engage in any prohibited SDN-related transactions.

Second Iran sanctions wind-down period ends and United States completes full re-imposition of sanctions on Iran

On November 5, 2018, the US Treasury Department's Office of Foreign Assets Control ("OFAC") took several actions to finalize the re-imposition of sanctions against Iran in response to President Trump's May 8, 2018 decision to cease the United States' participation in the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action ("JCPOA"). See our previous blog posts here regarding the President's May 8, 2018 decision to cease the United States' participation in the JCPOA and here regarding Exec- utive Order ("EO") 13846, issued on August 6, 2018, which consolidated and reissued several sanctions provisions that had been suspended or revoked while the JCPOA was in effect.

OFAC's November 5th, 2018 actions included:

- Re-imposing sanctions on activities that were subject to the 180-day wind-down period that ended on November 4, 2018;
- Designating more than 700 individuals, entities, aircraft, and vessels as Specially Designated Nationals ("SDNs") and adding them to OFAC's List of Specially Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons List ("SDN List"), including moving parties that were previously identified on the List of Persons Blocked Solely Pursuant to EO 13599 ("EO 13599 List") back to the SDN List;
- Amending the Iranian Transactions Sanctions Regulations ("ITSR") to reflect the re-imposition of sanctions pursuant to certain sections of EO 13846 and technical changes that remove references to the EO 13599 List, as well as amending an existing general license in the ITSR to authorize US persons to sell certain personal property in Iran and transfer the proceeds to the United States;
- Announcing significant reduction exceptions ("SREs") to eight countries (China, India, Italy, Greece, Japan, South Korea, Taiwan, and Turkey) to allow those countries to temporarily continue to purchase Iranian oil; and
- Issuing new and revised Frequently Asked Questions ("FAQs") relating to the reimposition of US sanctions suspended or revoked in connection with the JCPOA.

With these steps, all US sanctions suspended or revoked in connection with the JCPOA are re-imposed and in full effect.

Re-imposition of Pre-JCPOA Sanctions

As provided for in EO 13846, sanctions were re-imposed on activities that were subject to the 180-day wind-down period announced on May 8, 2018 that ended on November 4, 2018. These include:

- Sanctions on Iran's port operators, and shipping and shipbuilding sectors, including on the Islamic Republic of Iran Shipping Lines ("IRISL"), South Shipping Line Iran, or their affiliates;
- Sanctions on petroleum-related transactions with, among others, National Iranian Oil Company ("NIOC"), Naftiran Intertrade Company ("NICO"), and the National Iranian Tanker Company ("NITC"), including the purchase of petroleum, petroleum products, or petrochemical products from Iran;
- Sanctions on transactions by foreign financial institutions ("FFIs") with the Central Bank of Iran ("CBI") and designated Iranian financial institutions under section 1245 of the National Defense Authorization Act ("NDAA") for Fiscal Year 2012;
- Sanctions on the provision of specialized financial messaging services to the CBI and Iranian financial institutions described in subsection 104(c)(2)(E)(ii) of the Comprehensive Iran Sanctions and Divestment Act of 2010 (i.e., sanctions relating to the provision of SWIFT messaging services);
- Sanctions on the provision of underwriting services, insurance, or reinsurance; and
- Sanctions on Iran's energy sector.

Designation of SDNs and Elimination of EO 13599 List

OFAC has added more than 700 individuals, entities, aircraft, and vessels to the SDN List, including individuals and entities that had been removed from the SDN List in connection with the JCPOA as well as over 300 new targets. In addition, the new designations include, but are not limited to:

When the JCPOA came into effect, persons designated under EO 13599 (i.e., persons meeting the definition of "Government of Iran" or "Iranian financial institution") were removed from the SDN List and identified on the then-newly created EO 13599 List. On November 5, 2018, OFAC moved all of these persons back to the SDN List, with the identifying"[IRAN]" tag, and eliminated the EO 13599 List. Notably, some of these persons have been designated under additional sanctions authorities and may be subject to secondary sanctions, as reflected in their entries on the SDN List (including but not limited to Bank Sepah, Bank Mellat, Bank Melli, Bank Kargoshaee, Future Bank, Export Development Bank of Iran, Post Bank of Iran, Europaisch-Iranische Handelsbank, Bank of Industry and Mine of Iran and Bank Tejarat).

In addition, the new designations include, but are not limited to:

- Over 200 persons and vessels in Iran's shipping and energy sectors (including but not limited to Islamic Republic of Iran Shipping Lines and NITC);
- The Atomic Energy Organization of Iran as well as its subsidiaries and associated individuals; and
- Iran Air, the national airline of Iran, and 67 of its aircraft.

US Persons (i.e., entities organized under US law and their non-US branches; parties physically located in the United States; US citizens and permanent resident aliens wherever located or employed) are generally prohibited from engaging in transactions involving any person designated as an SDN. Non-US Persons may risk US secondary sanctions for engaging in significant transactions involving an Iranian person on the SDN List (other than a non-designated Iranian financial institution) or a person designated in connection with Iran's support for international terrorism or proliferation of weapons of mass destruction. Persons subject to secondary sanctions will have a notation of "Additional Sanctions Information – Subject to Secondary Sanctions" in their SDN List entry in addition to any tags they may have for any other sanctions program(s) they have been designated under (e.g., the "[SDGT]" tag, the "[IRAN-HR]" tag, or the "[NPWMD]" tag).

Amendment of the ITSR

In addition to the above actions, OFAC amended the ITSR, effective November 5, 2018 to, among other things, (i) reflect the re-imposition of sanctions pursuant to certain sections of EO 13846 and (ii) make technical changes to remove references to the EO 13599 List.

In particular, OFAC reinstated the regulatory provisions of the authorities that were previously in sections 5 and 6 of EO 13622 (EO 13622 was revoked when the JCPOA went into effect) and now are in sections 1 and 10 of EO 13846 by revising paragraph (c) of section 560.211 of the ITSR. Sections 1(a)(i) and 1(a)(ii) of EO 13846 authorize OFAC to designate as an SDN any person determined by OFAC to have:

- On or after August 7, 2018, materially assisted, sponsored, or provided financial, material, or technological support for, or goods or services in support of, the purchase or acquisition of US bank notes or precious metals by the Government of Iran; or
- On or after November 5, 2018, materially assisted, sponsored, or provided financial, material, or technological support for, or goods or services in support of, NIOC, NICO, any entity owned or controlled by, or operating for or on behalf of, respectively, NIOC or NICO, or the CBI.

Section 10 of EO 13846 provides that section 1(a) of the EO 13846 does not apply to gas and pipeline projects meeting certain criteria, namely, the Shah Deniz project and pipeline projects for transport of gas from Azerbaijan to Turkey and Eastern Europe.

Also, to accommodate the elimination of the EO 13599 List, OFAC removed references throughout the ITSR to the EO 13599 List.

Finally, OFAC revised the general license at ITSR section 560.543 to permit certain transactions related to the sale of certain personal property in Iran without prior authorization. Previously, ITSR section 560.543 was limited to the sale of real property. Now, US persons will be permitted to participate in transactions necessary and ordinarily incident to the sale of real property as well as personal property in Iran and transfer of proceeds to the United States, provided that the property was either (1) acquired before the individual became a US person or (2) inherited from persons in Iran. This change complements ITSR section 560.518, which authorizes certain transactions in Iranian-origin household and personal effects.

Issuance of SREs to China, India, Italy, Greece, Japan, South Korea, Taiwan, and Turkey

Several US sanctions authorities related to Iran include an exception for countries that have received a SRE under section 1245(d)(4)(D) of the NDAA. On November 5, 2018, the Secretary of State announced that China, India, Italy, Greece, Japan, South Korea, Taiwan, and Turkey received SREs, which must be renewed every six months, with the primary effect that these countries may continue to temporarily import Iranian-origin oil so long as certain conditions regarding the purchases are met.

In particular, under the NDAA and section 561.203 of the Iranian Financial Sanctions Regulations ("IFSR"), a FFI may be subject to secondary sanctions if it knowingly engages in a significant financial transaction with the CBI, designated financial institutions, NIOC, NICO, or otherwise for the purchase of petroleum or petroleum products from Iran unless the FFI is hosted in a country that has received an SRE. With SREs in place, FFIs in the listed eight countries may continue to facilitate petroleum purchases for them, although strict specific conditions regarding the transaction must be met.

Also, as noted in new FAQ 642, service providers in countries with SREs that might otherwise face secondary sanctions under the Iran Freedom and Counter-Proliferation Act of 2012 for dealing with Iranian port operators and shipping sector may facilitate the importation of petroleum into those countries, provided that Iranian entities that are involved in such transactions are not designated in connection with Iran's support for international terrorism, or its proliferation of weap-ons of mass destruction or their means of delivery.

New and Revised FAQs

OFAC has issued new FAQs (FAQs 630 through FAQ 645) related to the end of the 180-day wind-down period and the re-imposition of US sanctions suspended or revoked while the JCPOA was in effect. In addition, OFAC has amended FAQ 256 and FAQ 417, and archived outdated FAQs. The new FAQs address questions regarding the various actions taken on November 5, 2018, including the re-imposition of secondary sanctions, the elimination of the EO 13599 List, the use of humanitarian exemptions, and the use of SREs, among others.

BIS announces review of emerging technology controls and seeks public comment

On November 19, 2018, the Department of Commerce's Bureau of Industry and Security ("BIS") published a long-awaited advance notice of proposed rulemaking ("ANPRM") [Docket No. 180712626–8840–01] seeking public comment on criteria for identifying "emerging technologies" that are essential to US national security with a view to imposing export controls on such largely uncontrolled technologies. This process is being undertaken pursuant to Section 1758 of the Export Control Reform Act of 2018 ("ECRA"), which mandates the establishment of a regular multi-agency process for identifying appropriate controls on emerging and foundational technologies that are "essential to the national security of the United States" and that are currently subject to no or very limited controls under other existing US export control regimes. (BIS also announced that it will issue a separate ANPRM in the future regarding the identification of foundational technologies that may be important to US national security.)

BIS is accepting comments to the ANPRM by mail and via the Federal eRule- making Portal until December 19, 2018. Companies whose business involves the technology described below are strongly encouraged to submit detailed comments to BIS to help shape how such largely uncontrolled technologies may be controlled going forward.

The ANPRM describes the following extremely broad representative categories of technology from which BIS seeks to determine whether there are specific emerging technologies that are important to US national security for which effective export controls should be implemented:

- 1. Biotechnology
- 2. Artificial intelligence ("AI") and machine learning
- 3. Position, Navigation, and Timing technology
- 4. Microprocessor technology
- 5. Advanced computing technology
- 6. Data analytics technology
- 7. Quantum information and sensing technology
- 8. Logistics technology
- 9. Additive manufacturing (e.g., 3D printing)
- 10. Robotics

- 11. Brain-computer interfaces
- 12. Hypersonics
- 13. Advanced materials
- 14. Advanced surveillance technologies

The ANPRM also includes a list of representative examples of such technologies for each of the above categories (e.g., computer vision and national language processing within the AI and machine learning category).

The ANPRM provides that technologies may be considered "essential to the national security of the United States" if they either have potential conventional weapons, intelligence collection, weapons of mass destruction, or terrorist applications, or could provide the United States with a qualitative military or intelligence advantage. The ECRA-mandated process requires BIS to adopt a more systematic approach to controlling emerging technology. This process builds upon the existing, ad-hoc process for BIS to impose such controls under "0Y521" Export Control Classification Numbers pursuant to Section 742.6 of the Export Administration Regulations.

Once BIS identifies the emerging technologies to be controlled through this process, it will have discretion to set the precise level of export controls. At a minimum, licenses will be required for the export such technologies to countries subject to a US embargo, including countries such as China and Venezuela that are subject to a US arms embargo. This could have significant implications for deemed export and technology transfer licensing burdens going forward. As with the 0Y521 process, BIS will be required to propose that controls imposed on emerging technologies be adopted by the relevant multilateral export-control regime (e.g., Wassenaar Arrangement).

In order to assist BIS in this process, the ANPRM seeks public comment on:

- 1. How to define emerging technology to assist identification of such technology in the future;
- 2. Criteria to apply to determine whether there are specific technologies within these general categories that are essential to US national security (e.g., Whether certain subsets of identified technology (particularly if already ubiquitous) are not worth controlling?);
- 3. Sources to identify such technologies;
- 4. Other general technology categories that warrant review to identify emerging technologies that are important to US national security;
- 5. The status of development of these technologies in the United States and other countries (e.g., Is a company in another country already a leader in developing a specific technology? If not, by when could another company in another country become a leader?);
- The impact specific emerging technology controls would have on US technological leadership (e.g., In particular, would new technology controls on these as-yet uncontrolled technologies impose burdensome deemed export requirements?);
- 7. Any other approaches to the issue of identifying emerging technologies important to US national security, including the stage of development or maturity level of an emerging technology that would warrant consideration for export control.

Given the significant breadth of the identified categories of technologies under review, the fact that many of these technologies are already somewhat ubiquitous, and the significant ramifications should the US Government impose controls on such technologies, this may be a company's best opportunity to affect how such technology controls are imposed first unilaterally in the United States and, subsequently, more globally through multilateral controls.

Companies should be cognizant that any confidential technical data they provide in their comments may not be kept confidential and could be published by BIS on the Federal eRulemaking Portal. Baker McKenzie would be happy to assist interested companies in preparing and submitting public comments in response to this ANPRM.

Rural Utilities Services issues "Buy American" regulations

On November 27, 2018, the Rural Utilities Service (RUS), USDA, published in the Federal Register a final rule to amend its regulations to address its "Buy American" requirement. This will codify long-standing RUS requirements which Agency borrowers have been required to follow pursuant to statute, bulletin, and contract as early as the 1950s. RUS will rescind Bulletin 43-9:344-3, "'Buy American' Requirement," when this regulation becomes effective.

The Rural Electrification Act requires that in making loans pursuant to the Rural Electrification Act of 1936, the Secretary of Agriculture shall require that, to the extent practicable and the cost of which is not unreasonable, the borrower agrees to use in connection with the expenditure of such funds only such unmanufactured articles, materials, and supplies, as have been mined or produced in the United States or in any eligible country, and only such manufactured articles, materials, and supplies as have been manufactured in the United States or in any eligible country, substantially all from articles, materials, or supplies mined, produced or manufactured, as the case may be, in the United States or any eligible country. This regulation will codify long-standing RUS requirements which Agency borrowers have been required to follow pursuant to statute, bulletin, and contract as early as the 1950s, but which were inadvertently never codified when all existing RUS bulletins were incorporated into regulation. Nothing in the regulation will change or modify those procedures with respect to borrowers' responsibilities in complying with the Buy American requirement, such as the waiver process, but will simplify compliance by compiling all such existing requirements into a single document.

The rule was effective November 27, 2018.

"Grace period" for cross-border e-commerce pilot program indefinitely extended

The State Council executive meeting convened on November 21, 2018 decided that the current policies implemented starting from April 2016 with respect to the cross-border e-commerce pilot program ("CBE") will continue after the current "grace period" expires on December 31, 2018.

The highlights of the decisions announced at the meeting include:

1. The pre-importation registration or approval requirements for certain special products (e.g., infant milk formula, cosmetics, medical devices, health food, etc.), which would be applied if they are imported as ordinary commercial goods, will continue to be waived after December 31, 2018. Unlike the previous announcements which simply extended such waiver for an additional period, this waiver has now been extended indefinitely.

2. The current tax policy under which customs duties are exempted and import VAT and consumption taxes are collected at a 30% discount for the products imported under CBE will continue to be implemented.

3. The scope of the "positive lists", which contain the tariff categories for the products permitted to be sold under CBE, will be expanded to include 63 new tariff categories. The list of these new tariff categories has yet to be announced.

4. The value limit for each shipment under CBE will be increased from RMB 2,000 to RMB 5,000 in order to allow importation of high-end consumer goods, and the annual quota of the goods imported by each individual under CBE will be increased from RMB 20,000 to RMB 26,000.

The State Council meeting did not announce the effective date of the new policies regarding "positive lists" expansion and the changes to the value limit and annual quota, but we believe that the new policies and the relevant changes would most likely take effect on January 1, 2019.

Observations and Suggestions

The decisions announced during the State Council meeting are generally consistent with the provisions of the new E-Commerce Law of PRC, effective from January 1, 2019, which do not make any exception for cross-border ecommerce operations, including those conducted under CBE. In the meantime, we also have the following observations and suggestions.

The "retaliatory tariffs" imposed by Chinese government on the US origin products in the context of the ongoing US-China trade tension are currently not applied to the goods imported under CBE. This may result in more US products diverted from the ordinary channel to the CBE channel.

In the meantime, there is a clear tendency of Chinese authorities, in particular, China Customs, to tighten up enforcement against manipulation of the CBE channel for shady business activities, such as Daigou traders importing products under CBE and distributing them to individual consumers for a profit.

Given the expanded scope of the "positive lists", the tariff classification disputes, which are commonly seen in ordinary commercial imports, may also arise in the CBE imports, as retailers endeavor to classify their products as qualifying for the CBE channel.

Last but not least, notwithstanding the waiver of the pre-importation registration requirements, there remains uncertainty as to whether the products under CBE need to comply with part (if not all) of the Chinese national or industrial standards. As a matter of fact, the border authorities in China retain the authority to inspect the products under CBE for any significant issues concerning human health and safety.

Therefore, a revisit of the e-commerce supply chain structure in the context of these new policies and enforcement trends would be useful to ensure compliance with the relevant regulatory, customs and tax requirements.

MOF provides more detailed provisions on Bonded Zone under the new regime

Overview

In a new regulation, the Minister of Finance (MOF) has shifted the authority to issue bonded zone licenses from the Directorate General to the Head of Customs Regional Office. The new regulation provides for the OSS system, a newly-developed system for licensing in Indonesia and it further stipulates that companies that would like to apply for a bonded zone license must have a Business Identification Number (Nomor Induk Berusaha - NIB). Please click here to see our publications on the OSS system.

The above provisions are stipulated under Regulation No. 131/PMK.04/2018 on Bonded Zone (Reg 131) which revokes MOF Regulation No. 147/PMK.04/2011 on Bonded Zone as lastly amended by MOF Regulation No. 120/PMK.04/2013.

Implementation of the new Sales and Service Tax (SST)

With effect from 1 September 2018, SST was introduced to replace the existing goods and services tax ("GST") regime. The changes were effected pursuant to the following Acts of Parliaments (together with subsidiary legislation):

- Goods and Service Tax (Repeal) Act 2018
- Sales Tax Act 2018
- Service Tax Act 2018

Under the SST framework, service tax is imposed at 6% on the provision of taxable services by a registered person in the course or furtherance of a business in Malaysia. Taxable services include hotels, food and beverage preparation, consultancy and management services, courier services, information technology services and advertising services. Sales tax is chargeable on the manufacture of taxable goods in Malaysia and the importation of taxable goods into Malaysia, at the rate of 5% or 10% or a specified rate depending on the category of goods.

Businesses should pay attention to the transitional rules applicable, particularly with respect to supplies spanning the effective date of 1 September 2018. All ongoing contracts with vendors and customers should be reviewed to determine the SST implications. Ongoing contracts with existing indirect tax clauses may impact the ability to charge SST and pass on the SST burden to customers.

Following the repeal of the GST regime, GST-registered persons are required to file a final GST return within 120 days (i.e., by 29 December 2018). The Royal Malaysian Customs Department has indicated that GST closing audits will be conducted from 1 September 2018 onwards, and businesses are advised to carry out a GST review or health check to determine any potential non-compliance issues in advance of the audits.

It is expected that anti-profiteering enforcement will increase with the implementation of SST, and therefore any price adjustments made during this period should be managed carefully to ensure compliance with the anti-profiteering laws.

Public views sought on UK-NZ trade deal

On 23 November 2018, the New Zealand Government announced that it is calling for public submissions on a post-Brexit free trade agreement with the United Kingdom. New Zealand and the UK have committed to launching negotiations as soon as the UK is in a position to do so. In line with the Government's Trade for All agenda, New Zealand will seek an agreement that safeguards high standards and protections for labour and the environment, and also promotes gender equality and indigenous rights, among other things.

New Zealand wants a high quality, comprehensive and progressive trade agreement with the UK that builds on our already strong relationship. The key benefits that New Zealand will be looking for in the free trade agreement include:

- Removing tariffs, duties and other barriers that restrict the free flow of goods between the two countries
- Making it easier for traders of all sizes to do business in the UK, including service providers
- Strengthening cooperation and dialogue with the UK in a variety of trade and economic fields
- Reflecting both countries' goals including progress on gender equality, indigenous rights, climate change, and improved environmental outcomes.

Some key areas in which New Zealand will be seeking even closer cooperation with the UK under the FTA include:

- High quality primary sector and goods access to the UK's market, such as for meat, fruit, fisheries, forestry, dairy and wine
- Helpful conditions for investment and services providers who operate between the two countries
- Commitments on progressive trade issues including environmental and labour protections, indigenous rights and gender equality.

Submissions can be made in writing until midnight 11 February 2019 to UKFTA@mfat.govt.nz. For more information on the UK-NZ FTA visit www.mfat.govt.nz/ukfta.

Creation of proposed SPV to protect EU companies from US sanctions against Iran continues to be delayed

Following the snap-back of US sanctions on 5 November 2018, Foreign and Finance Ministers from the UK, France, Germany and the EU published a joint statement in which they expressed their "regret" at the re-imposition of sanctions on Iran by the US and also reiterated their "aim to protect European Economic operators engaged with legitimate business with Iran". These comments suggest that the EU is determined to continue economic relations with Iran and that the proposed Special Purpose Vehicle ("SPV"), announced by the EU on 24 September, is still under consideration.

Little detail has been forthcoming in terms of how the SPV would work operationally since the EU's announcement regarding the decision to establish the SPV. At the time of the EU's announcement, the SPV was described as a legal entity that would facilitate "legitimate financial transactions with Iran" in order to allow European companies to continue trading with Iran despite the threat of US sanctions. It was also suggested that the SPV may be opened to companies in other countries in order for them to engage in Iran-related transactions.

Practically, it is likely the SPV would engage in Iran-related transactions on behalf of companies and the SPV would therefore assume the risks that would otherwise be taken on by individual companies when engaging in Iran-related transactions. Furthermore, we envisage that the SPV would operate outside of the US dollar financial system, especially in light of the Trump administration's comments on 2 November that the financial messaging service SWIFT could be targeted by sanctions for providing services to Iranian financial institutions. SWIFT has since announced that it will be suspending certain Iranian banks from accessing its messaging system.

However, it has been reported that the EU is struggling to find a country to host the SPV with reports indicating that Austria had refused. As such, the SPV appears to be a long way from creation.

European Council approves BREXIT agreement – now will the UK Parliament?

On 25 November 2018, at a special meeting pursuant to Article 50, the European Council endorsed the Agreement on the withdrawal of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland from the European Union and the European Atomic Energy Community. On this basis, the European Council invited the Commission, the European Parliament and the Council to take the necessary steps to ensure that the agreement can enter into force on 30 March 2019, so as to provide for an orderly withdrawal.

The European Council also approved the Political Declaration setting out the framework for the future relationship between the European Union and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland. The European Council restated the Union's determination to have as close as possible a partnership with the United Kingdom in the future in line with the Political Declaration. The Union's approach will continue to be defined by the overall positions and principles set out in the previously agreed European Council's guidelines.

However, despite the European Commission's approval, the agreements must still be approved by the UK Parliament where several Members of the House of Commons have said that it will not be approved.

EU launches consultation on EU Single Window for customs

The Taxation and Customs Union announced that the European Commission has launched a public consultation to inform a study for a possible new initiative to develop a single window environment for customs.

The consultation is about the processes related to regulatory requirements from customs and other authorities (health, agriculture, environment, fisheries, etc.) that have to be fulfilled for the clearance of goods crossing EU borders, and how they might be improved.

The results of the public consultation will feed into a study for DG TAXUD and be used as evidence for decisions about the initiative.

The consultation is open until 16 January 2019, and it is important to gather the views of as many businesses, individuals and other interested parties as possible.

Council adopts new EU strategy against illicit firearms, small arms and light weapons and their ammunition

On 19 November 2018, the Council of the European Union adopted a new EU strategy against illicit firearms, small arms and light weapons (SALW) and their ammunition "Securing arms, protecting citizens".

Illicit SALW continue to contribute to instability and violence in the EU, in its immediate neighborhood, and in the rest of the world. Illicit small arms are fueling armed violence and organised crime, global terrorism and conflicts, thwarting sustainable development and crisis management efforts. They destabilise entire regions, states and their societies, and increase the impact of terrorist attacks. This is why the Council is committed to preventing and curbing the illicit trade in SALW and their ammunition and is promoting accountability and responsibility with regard to their legal trade.

The new EU strategy replaces the strategy adopted in 2005. The new strategy takes into account the evolved security context, including the threat of terrorism inside the EU and developments in SALW design and technology affecting the capacity of governments to address the threat. It also takes into account the guiding principles of the 2016 EU Global Strategy.

Negotiations between the EFTA States and Indonesia on a CEPA concluded in principle

On 1 November 2018, the European Free Trade Association (EFTA) announced that a wrap-up meeting for the negotiations between the EFTA States and Indonesia on a Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement (CEPA) took place in Bali, Indonesia, from 29 October to 1 November.

The meeting allowed delegations to conclude the CEPA negotiations in principle, with some follow-up work on a limited number of issues as well as the legal review of some texts of the Agreement still pending. Delegations agreed to aim at completing the follow-up work and the legal review in the next few weeks, with the aim to allow an early signing of the CEPA.

Negotiations towards a CEPA were launched in July 2010, with the first round held early 2011 in Jakarta, Indonesia.

Iran Nuclear Deal: joint statement by UK, France and Germany

On 2 November 2018, a joint statement was released by Foreign and Financial Ministers of the UK, France and Germany, including Philip Hammond and Jeremy Hunt, expressing the countries' regret regarding the re-imposition of sanctions on Iran by the U.S. as a result of the U.S.'s withdrawal from the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action (JCPoA).

The statement highlights the nations' view that the JCPoA is an important tool in the process of nuclear non-proliferation and states that "It is crucial for the security of Europe, the region, and the entire world." It further highlights that Iran has met and implemented all nuclear commitments, which has been independently confirmed by 12 consecutive reports from the International Atomic Energy Agency.

The UK, France and Germany commit to working with Iran to ensure maintenance of financial channels and the export of oil and gas via an initiative to establish a Special Purpose Vehicle which will allow European parties to pursue legitimate trade with Iran. This intention is supported by the EU, demonstrated by the implementation of amendments to the EU Blocking Regulation which came into force in August of this year. The function of these amendments to the EU Blocking Regulation is to block the application in the EU of extraterritorial U.S. sanctions targeting Iran. Further details of this Regulation can be found in previous blogs posts, here. It is, however, acknowledged in the joint statement that further work is required, and is being undertaken, to reassure businesses wishing to pursue trade with Iran.

European Parliament issues a non-binding resolution on Russia's actions in the Sea of Azov

On 25 October 2018, the European parliament passed a non-binding resolution expressing its concerns over Russia's actions in the Sea of Azov, in particular the construction of the Kerch Bridge and inspections of ships going through the Kerch Straight (actions that the Parliament suggests are in breach of international maritime law and Russia's international commitments).

The Resolution welcomes the Council's decision to impose sanctions on six companies involved in the construction of the bridge, and it calls on the Commission and Member States to assess and share information regarding potential sanctions violations by European companies thought to be involved.

The EU Parliament also requests that the High Representative of the Union for Foreign Affairs and Security Policy (Frederica Mogherini) consider "appropriate countermeasures" if necessary to discourage the actions of the Russian Federation, and urges the High Representative, Council and the Member States to make it clear that sanctions targeting Russia will be "reinforced" if the conflict in the Azov Sea escalates.

The resolution is non-binding, so does not have an immediate effect on EU businesses, however it was forwarded to the Council, High Representative, Commission, and EU Member States for consideration (in addition to the Organisation for Security and Cooperation in Europe, NATO, and President, Government and Parliament of Ukraine, the President, Government and Parliament of the Russian Federation).

Binding Tariff Information

The European Community has created the Binding Tariff Information (BTI) system as a tool to assist economic operators to obtain the correct tariff classification for goods they intend to import or export.

Binding Tariff Information is issued on request to economic operators by the customs authorities of the Member States. It is valid throughout the Community, regardless of the Member State which issued it. For information about an existing BTI, you may want to contact the customs administration of the Member State which issued it. However, remember that, according to the provisions for data protection, there are limitations as to the information an administration can provide. You can search and consult existing BTIs on the EBTI-database.

FTA between EFTA and Indonesia concluded in substance

On 1 November 2018, the Swiss Federal Council announced that negotiations on a free trade agreement between EFTA and Indonesia were concluded in substance, with Switzerland acting as lead negotiator. The agreement means that 98% of Swiss goods will be exempt from customs duties in the medium term. The announcement said:

Within the next few weeks, the last remaining technical details will be clarified and the texts finalised from a legal perspective. A joint declaration on the conclusion of negotiations is due to be made at the EFTA Ministerial Conference in Geneva on 23 November, and the agreement is expected to be signed before the end of the year.

The conclusion of this agreement is a milestone in Swiss trade policy. As was the case with the free trade agreement with the People's Republic of China, Switzerland has succeeded in concluding an agreement with a major partner state before the EU. The free trade agreement is of great economic importance for Switzerland: Indonesia is the world's fourth largest country in terms of population with 260 million inhabitants, and is therefore a major potential market.

98% of Swiss goods will be exempt from customs duties in the medium term

Thanks to the agreement, almost all Swiss exports to Indonesia (98%) will be exempt from customs duty in the medium term. All sectors of the economy are therefore set to benefit – from the food industry (cheese, chocolate and coffee) to engineering and watchmaking, chemicals, pharmaceuticals and services, e.g. the financial sector and market access for maintenance staff.

On the important issue of palm oil, the partners agreed on subquotas for palm oil and its derivatives with customs rebates of 20 to 40%, as discussed between the federal government and the relevant branch, so as not to harm domestic oilseed production.

Palm oil: clear provisions to ensure sustainability

Furthermore, Swiss concerns on safeguarding sustainability were fully taken into account: firstly, the agreement contains provisions pertaining to trade and sustainable development, which are also directly relevant to palm oil production. These include a requirement to comply with and implement multilateral environmental treaties and to respect the basic rights of workers. Furthermore, the agreement contains provisions on promoting the sustainable management of forest resources, in particular by combating illegal logging. Secondly, EFTA has succeeded in securing agreement on a provision specifically on palm oil. That provision contains further reaching obligations to ensure sustainable production and trade in palm oil and other vegetable oils.

UK Foreign Affairs Committee launches an inquiry into the future of UK sanctions policy

The UK Foreign Affairs Committee has launched the "Global Britain: the future of UK sanctions policy inquiry" and is accepting written submissions up to the deadline of 14 December 2018. The inquiry is intended to explore and evaluate different options for the UK's approach to sanctions policy after Brexit.

The inquiry therefore invites submissions on:

- The effectiveness of sanctions as an instrument of foreign policy, including examples of both successful and unsuccessful use of sanctions to influence the behaviour of foreign actors.
- The advantages and disadvantages of the EU's approach to the use of sanctions, both generally and in specific cases (such as Russia).
- How the USA sets and uses sanctions as an instrument of foreign policy, and the advantages and disadvantages of its approach particularly where that differs from the EU.
- How the UK might best make use of the Magnitsky powers included in the Sanctions and Anti-Money Laundering Act 2018.
- The extent to which the UK should seek to align with the EU in sanctions policy post-Brexit, versus areas in which it may wish to diverge or seek stronger sanctions.
- The FCO's record in:
  - Identifying individuals, companies and regimes that should be sanctioned;
  - Linking specific sanctions recommendations to broader foreign policy goals; and,
  - Working with other departments, agencies and the private sector to share intelligence and implement sanctions effectively.
- The use of sanctions alongside other tools designed to combat dirty money, such as unexplained wealth orders.

UKRAINE

Ukraine introduces Martial Law in certain regions

Ukraine introduced martial law ending on 26 December 2018 in 10 regions of Ukraine bordering the Russian Federation, Belarus and Moldova's Trans-Dniester area (Vinnytsia, Luhansk, Mykolaiv, Odesa, Sumy, Kharkiv, Chernihiv, Donetsk, Zaporizhia and Kherson regions), and in the internal waters of Ukraine in the Azov-Kerch water area.

What Does Martial Law Mean?

During the period of the martial law, the military command authorities either independently or with involvement of local administrations or military administrations (if established) are authorized to introduce measures restricting certain rights and freedoms of individuals and companies, including, inter alia:

- use of companies' productive facilities for defense purposes;
- forced disposal of companies' assets in the interests of the state;
- special regime of manufacturing and supply of medicines containing narcotic, psychotropic substances and precursors;
- replacement of management of particular companies that fail to comply with the martial law;
- ban on sale of chemical and poisonous substances, alcohol and weapons;
- labor duty for individuals for defense/social work purposes;
- partial mobilization;
- regulation of operation of companies engaged in telecommunication, printing industry and radiobroadcasting;
- seizure of radioactive substances and materials, highly potent chemical and poisonous substances from the companies;
- inspections of vehicles, cargos, offices as well as personal belongings and private residences;
- restriction of free movement for individuals and vehicles; and
- prohibition on public meetings and demonstrations.

As of 30 November 2018 none of the above listed restrictive measures (except for limited restrictions on the movement of individuals) have been introduced.

Immediate Steps for Business

The martial law does not have an immediate effect on the ordinary course of business of most of the companies operating in Ukraine or foreign companies doing business in Ukraine or with Ukrainian counterparties. However, such companies should:

1. Review agreements, contracts and other transactional documentation to understand the immediate and potential impact of the martial law on their respective transactions (M&A, financing, capital markets, investment or trade), in particular whether the introduction of martial law or further imposition of the above specified restrictive measures may:

- trigger event of default, force-majeure, suspension or termination provisions
- require special notification or disclosure; and/or
- hinder timely performance and require changes to the relevant transactional documentation;

2. Consider potential effect on and changes required to trade logistics in case the restrictions on free movement of vehicles, individuals, goods or cargo and/or special entry/exit regime are introduced in the relevant regions;

3. Develop internal policies and provide clear guidance to the local management and employees on the actions to be taken and the rights and duties of the company and its management and employees upon the introduction of restrictive measures affecting the company's business and operations (in particular, concerning the issues of compulsory use of production facilities for defense purposes, replacement of management, sale of assets or mobilization);

4. Monitor decisions/orders of the local military command authorities; and

5. Monitor developments with respect to sanctions and trade restrictions, which may be introduced by the National Security and Defense Council of Ukraine and the Ministry of Economic Development and Trade of Ukraine in connection or in parallel with the martial law regime.

Baker McKenzie's Kyiv Office has established a working group ready to advise clients on various aspects of the martial law. Please contact the group's coordinator, Hanna Shtepa, or other experts Serhiy Chorny, Olha Demaniuk, or Ganna Smyrnova, whenever a need arises.

Russian Government issues decrees to protect financial institutions from mandatory disclosure requirements in response to sanctions

On November 23, 2018 the Russian Government issued Decrees No. 1403, No. 1404, No. 1405 ("Decrees"), establishing the right of Russian banks and credit institutions that fall under foreign sanctions to not disclose certain information that is normally subject to mandatory disclosure requirements.

In particular, the Decrees prescribe such banks and credit institutions to provide information on its shareholders and UBOs only to the Central Bank of Russia and to give motivated explanations. The Central Bank of Russia is recommended to not disclose such information publicly.

According to the Russian Government, the above measures are intended to safeguard the interests of Russian banks and credit institutions that fall under sanctions imposed by foreign states.

The Decrees are expected to come into force on December 5, 2018.

If you have any questions, please contact one of the authors, Vladimir Efremov or Alexander Bychkov.

Countersanctions against Ukrainian individuals and legal entities

On 1 November 2018 the Government of the Russian Federation introduced sanctions against a number of Ukrainian persons with immediate effect.

Who is affected?

The newly introduced measures target (i) 322 individuals and 68 legal entities, listed by the Resolution, and (ii) entities that are controlled by such listed persons.

The concept of "control" is not defined in Russian sanctions-related legislation. It cannot be excluded that the state authorities may interpret this term arbitrarily. The sanctions are imposed without time limits and regardless of the country where the controlled organization is registered.

What are the consequences?

The sanctions include the following actions:

- 1. blocking (freezing) of non-cash funds, non-documentary securities and property located on the territory of the Russian Federation;
- 2. ban on transfer of money sent outside Russia.

Who must implement the measures?

The sanctions are mandatory for the state authorities of the Russian Federation, municipal government bodies, as well as entities and individuals that are under the jurisdiction of the Russian Federation.

Currently, Russian law does not set any punishment for non-compliance with the sanctions.

Recommended actions

Interested parties should carefully analyze the list of sanctioned persons, as well as the ownership structure and control of their counterparties related to Ukraine, to understand if they are affected by the application of the measures imposed by the Resolution.

Other provisions to be noted

Pursuant to the Resolution, the Ministry of Finance is now responsible for presenting suggestions to the Russian Government on:

- I. amendments to the list of sanctioned persons;
- II. issuance of temporary specific licenses for performance of certain operations involving persons on the list;
- III. repealing the Resolution if Ukraine cancels the restrictive measures implemented against Russian persons.

If you have any questions, please contact Alexander Bychkov, Vladimir Efremov, Serhiy Chorny or Hanna Shtepa.

Webinars, Meetings, Seminars, Etc.

This year, we again expanded our usual program to include our Customs Academy, which featured six "Customs 101" webinars (highlighted in green below). The Customs 101 program is primarily aimed at participants who are new to Customs and/or those who would like a refresher and included introductory sessions on key Customs topics such as tariff classification, valuation and origin; and an overview of Customs in some key jurisdictions.

Terrie Gleason, a partner in our San Francisco, CA office and Head of the Firm's Global Customs Focus Group, and Jenny Revis, a partner in our London office, moderated these webinars and were joined by experts from across our global network.

The last webinar will begin at 11:00 AM Eastern (US) and is scheduled to run approximately 90 minutes. If you reside in a different time zone and wish to verify your time - please click on the following link: www.timeanddate.com.

If you missed a webinar that has already been given, wish to see it again or want to download a presentation, you may do so at this link or by clicking the blue title below which indicates the material has been posted. ## CBSA Advance Rulings

No advance rulings were posted by the Canada Border Services Agency (CBSA) during the period covered by this Update.

CBP Rulings: Downloads and Searches

As US Customs and Border Protection (CBP) issues several thousand rulings a year, it is not practical to list each ruling. However, almost all rulings issued by US Customs or CBP from 1993 to the present and many issued before 1993 are available for search and downloading using the CROSS search engine. Over 190,000 such rulings are in the database.

CBP Rulings: Revocations or Modifications

The following table summarizes proposals made or actions taken that were published in the weekly Customs Bulletin and Decisions during the past month by US Customs and Border Protection pursuant to 19 U.S.C. §1625(c) to revoke or modify binding rulings or treatment previously accorded to substantially identical merchandise.

European Classification Regulations

The table below shows the Classification Regulations that were published in the Official Journal during the period covered by this International Trade Compliance Update.

ommission Im- plementing Reg- ulation	Description of the goods	Classification (CN code)	Reasons
(EU) 2018/1785 of 15 -11-18	Insulated cables (so-called 'stack cables') in various lengths fitted with connectors at both ends. Each cable consists of 32 insulated single conductors for a voltage not exceeding 1 000 V, bundled into 16 sheathed pairs which are not twisted. These pairs are covered by a metal foil and metal threads. The cables connect switches that form switching stations (so-called 'stacks') used in telecommunication networks (Lo- cal Area Networks (LAN)). They enable the bidirectional transfer of data between switches using Ethernet technology. The cables do not have any additional functions (for example, to supply electric power). See image	8544 422 10	Classification is determined by general rules 1 and 6 for the interpretation of the Combined No- menclature and by the wording of CN codes 8544, 8544 42 and 8544 42 10 . Data transfer between apparatuses using tele- communication technology, such as Ethernet, is considered telecommunication for the purposes of CN code 8544 42 10 (see Commission Imple- menting Regulation (EU) No 1112/2012 (1). The cables in question are designed to be used in tel- ecommunication networks configured as LAN. Consequently, they are considered to be electri- cal conductors, fitted with connectors, used in tel- ecommunication networks (see also CN Explana- tory Notes to subheading 8544 42 10 ). The articles are therefore to be classified under CN code 8544 42 10 as other electric conductors for a voltage not exceeding 1 000 V, fitted with connectors, of a kind used for telecommunica- tions.
(EU) 2018/1864 of 28-11-18	A product composed of the following in- gredients (% by weight): – fish oil 99,7307, – tocopherols 0,1885, – sunflower oil 0,0808. The fish oil is a mixture of oils made from the following families of fish: Engraulidae, Osmeridae, Carangidae, Clupeidae, Salmonidae and Scombridae . The fish oil is not a fish-liver oil. The tocopherols are intentionally added to the fish oil to prevent lipid oxidation. The sunflower oil acts as a carrier and as a bulking agent for the tocopherols before mixing them with the fish oil. In addition, the sunflower oil ensures that the tocoph- erols are properly dissolved in the fish oil during mixing. The product is presented in bulk for use in the production of soft gelatine capsules.	1517 90 99	Classification is determined by general rules 1 and 6 for the interpretation of the Combined No- menclature and by the wording of CN codes 1517, 1517 90 and 1517 90 99. The product cannot be classified under heading 1504 as a fish oil due to its mixture with sunflower oil as the text of the heading does not allow for mixtures of animal and vegetable oils. Edible mixtures of animal and vegetable oils are to be classified under heading 1517 (see also the Harmonized System Explanatory Notes to head- ing 1517 , first paragraph, point (3)). The product is therefore to be classified under CN code 1517 90 99 as an edible mixture of animal and vegetable oils.

Amendments to the CN Explanatory Notes

No explanatory notes to the Combined Nomenclature of the European Union were published in the Official Journal during the period covered by this Interna-tional Trade Compliance Update.
