COVID-19 PIER PRODUCT IMPORT/EXPORT REVIEW

We are pleased to announce the launch of Baker McKenzie's COVID-19 Product Import/Export Review \("COVID-19 PIER"\) tool. This tool is a multijurisdictional tracker that provides information on import and export measures imposed around the world in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. New jurisdictions will be added as we continuously update the information in the tool.

The past few months have seen an exponential increase in the demand for personal protective equipment ("PPE"), medical supplies, and other products, along with actual or feared shortages in some of those same products. To address this mismatch, many jurisdictions have employed a mix of a "carrot" approach (relaxing import duties and product regulatory requirements to facilitate the importation of these products) and a "stick" approach (imposing export restrictions prohibiting the exportation of these products). The resulting patchwork of jurisdiction-specific measures is fast-changing, as exemplified by the European Commission's most recent lift of an export ban on PPE introduced just two months ago, while a number of EU member states still maintain their own national export restrictions.

COVID-19 PIER will be useful for companies that are engaged in the commercial manufacture and export of PPE and other affected products, as well as by companies looking to procure these items for export to their own offices around the world as part of their recovery planning and reopening strategies to keep their personnel healthy and safe at work.

The tool is easy to navigate. Simply select the exporting and importing jurisdiction(s) to view user-friendly and regularly updated information on the current import and export measures that have been implemented in response to the pandemic. You may also view contact details for our local experts. With one click you can generate and download a PDF report. A step-by-step quick reference guide can be accessed by clicking here.

Please contact us if you wish to learn more about the measures and how they can affect your business.

Keep safe and best regards,

Baker McKenzie International Trade Practice

UNITED NATIONS

Security Council unanimously extends authorization to inspect vessels suspected of violating Libya Arms Embargo

On 5 June 2020, the Security Council in a videoconference meeting announced that it had unanimously decided to extend for one year a series of authorizations for Member States to inspect vessels on the high seas off the coast of Libya suspected of violating that country's arms embargo.

In adopting resolution 2526 \(2020\) under Chapter VII of the Charter of the United Nations, the 15-member Council decided to extend the authorization laid out in resolution 2473 (2019) for 12 months. Those measures — first agreed in resolution 2292 (2016) — allow States, acting nationally or through regional organizations, to inspect vessels on the high seas bound to or from Libya, given reasonable grounds to believe that they are in violation of the Council's arms embargo.

By other terms of the text, members requested the Secretary-General to report on the implementation of today's resolution within 11 months.

Diario Oficial publishes T-MEC tariff conditions and mechanisms

On June 30, 2020, the Diario Oficial (Official Gazette) published the Decree establishing the Applicable Rate of the General Import Tax for merchandise originating in North America, which implements Annex 2-B of the Agreement between the United Mexican States, the United States of America and Canada (T-MEC/USMCA / CUSMA). The Tariff Schedules established in Annex 2-B “Tariff Commitments” establish the preferential rate of customs tariffs for trade between Mexico, the United States and Canada, on goods originating in the territories of the Parties.

The Decree states that it is necessary to inform the general public that the preferential tariff rates established in the Decree do not prevent the establishment of new tariffs for trilateral trade, when this results from a safeguard, from compensation against a legitimate safeguard imposed by another of the Parties or of a suspension of benefits against one of the Parties. The provisions of the Foreign Trade Law allow the establishment of compensatory quotas against unfair international trade practices, either to compensate for damages caused by subsidies in the exporting country (countervailing duties or anti-subsidy duties), or to compensate for damages caused by the importation of goods in conditions of discrimination of prices (anti-dumping duties)

The preferential tariff rates established in the T-MEC do not exempt goods from the restrictions or release from compliance with regulations and non-tariff restrictions, from the import prerequisites established by the Ministry of Economy or any other agency within the scope of its powers, of the requirements of Official Mexican Standards or to process the customs clearance of goods, among others, provided they are in accordance with the international commitments acquired by Mexico.

President signs Bill targeting human rights violators in China into law

On June 17, 2020, the President signed the Uyghur Human Rights Policy Act of 2020 into law. The law authorizes the President to impose sanctions on persons, including Chinese government officials, determined to be responsible for certain human rights violations and abuses committed against Muslim minority groups in China or elsewhere. The law requires the administration to sanction those individuals by blocking their assets and declaring them ineligible for visas or admission to the United States. The President may waive sanctions if s/he deems it in the national interest.

With the bill now signed into law, the Trump Administration is required to submit a report to the US Congress identifying foreign individuals to be sanctioned within 180 days of the law's enactment, and then annually thereafter. The US Department of State, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and the Director of National Intelligence are also required to issue similar reports. The White House issued this statement along with the signing of the bill.

The legislation passed both chambers of Congress last month with overwhelming support. Our previous blog post on this bill can be found here.

Trump Administration authorizes sanctions targeting International Criminal Court officials

On June 11, 2020, President Trump issued Executive Order 13928 “Blocking Property of Certain Persons Associated with the International Criminal Court” \(“ICC EO”\), which authorizes the imposition of sanctions and visa restrictions on non-US ICC officials in connection with investigations into US or allied government officials or military personnel. The United States is not a party to the Rome Statute, which is the treaty that established the ICC.

The President declared a national emergency under the International Emergency Economic Powers Act in response to the ICC's “assertions of jurisdiction over personnel of the United States and certain of its allies, including the ICC Prosecutor's investigation into actions allegedly committed by United States military, intelligence, and other personnel in or relating to Afghanistan.” The President stated that such developments threaten to subject current and former US government and allied officials “to harassment, abuse, and possible arrest,” and “to infringe upon the sovereignty of the United States.”

The ICC EO does not immediately impose sanctions on any individuals but authorizes the US government to designate as Specially Designated Nationals (“SDN”) any non-US person determined to have:

- Directly engaged in any effort by the ICC to investigate, arrest, detain, or prosecute any US personnel without the consent of the United States;
- Directly engaged in any effort by the ICC to investigate, arrest, detain, or prosecute any personnel of a country that is an ally of the United States without the consent of that country's government;
- Materially assisted, sponsored, or provided financial, material, or technological support for, or goods or services to or in support of, either of the two above activities, or any person designated as an SDN under the ICC EO; or
- Acted or purported to act for or on behalf of, directly or indirectly, any person designated as an SDN under the ICC EO, or who is owned or controlled by any such person.

The ICC EO also requires that any non-US person determined to meet one or more of the above criteria, and their immediate family members (defined here to include spouses and children), be banned from entry to the United States. In public statements accompanying the release of the ICC EO, Secretary of State Pompeo noted that designations under the ICC EO “will be made on a case-by-case basis against specific individuals” and Attorney General Barr stated that the Department of Justice is investigating “substantial, credible information that raises serious concerns about a long history of financial corruption and malfeasance at the highest levels of the [ICC] office of the prosecutor,” that “calls into question the integrity of the ICC’s investigations.”

US to suspend Chinese airlines flights to US

On June 3, 2020, the US Department of Transportation notified several Chinese airlines that responding to the failure of the Government of the People’s Republic of China (China) to permit U.S. carriers to exercise the full extent of their bilateral right to conduct scheduled passenger air services to and from China, is suspending the scheduled passenger operations of all Chinese carriers to and from the United States. This order will become effective on June 16, 2020, unless effective sooner pursuant to Ordering Paragraph 2 below. [Paragraph 2 provides that the action is effective immediately upon affirmative approval by the President of the United States.]

The action is being taken in retaliation for measures by China’s aviation authority that “effectively precludes U.S. carriers from reinstating scheduled passenger flights to and from China and operating to the full extent of their bilateral rights, while Chinese carriers are able to maintain scheduled passenger service to and from ... the United States.”

US Administration announces intention to take steps to end Hong Kong's special status under US law based on determination that Hong Kong is no longer “sufficiently autonomous”

On May 29, 2020, the President announced in a White House press conference the Administration’s determination that Hong Kong is no longer sufficiently autonomous from the People’s Republic of China (“PRC”), and that the US Government would take “strong and meaningful” steps to “begin the process” of reviewing and revoking the “full range of agreements” that currently provide Hong Kong with preferential treatment. This determination follows Secretary of State Michael Pompeo’s certification to Congress on May 27, 2020 that Hong Kong no longer maintains a sufficient degree of autonomy from the PRC to warrant special treatment by the US. The president’s announcement and Secretary Pompeo’s certification were made in response to the May 28, 2020 decision of the PRC National People’s Congress to draft national security legislation for Hong Kong.

These actions by themselves do not have any immediate impact on the treatment of Hong Kong for trade or other purposes and there is no timeline for further action. However, there are several key areas that could be implicated in the coming months as a result of this determination.

Background

Under the United States-Hong Kong Policy Act of 1992 (the “Hong Kong Policy Act”), Hong Kong is provided “different” treatment by the US Government than that provided to the PRC so long as Hong Kong remains “sufficiently autonomous” under the “one country, two systems” principle. This includes special treatment in areas including but not limited to customs tariffs, export controls, immigration, foreign investment, and extradition. The Hong Kong Policy Act directs the US Secretary of State to submit annual reports to the appropriate congress-sional committees on conditions in Hong Kong of interest to the United States, including matters relevant for the purposes of determining whether Hong Kong remains “sufficiently autonomous” from the PRC. In conjunction with the annual report and pursuant to amendments to the Hong Kong Policy Act made by the Hong Kong Human Rights and Democracy Act of 2019 passed into law in November 2019, the Secretary of State is also required to issue an annual certification to Congress that indicates, among other things, whether Hong Kong continues to warrant its preferential treatment under US law.

Secretary Pompeo delayed submitting the annual report this year to allow him time “to account for any additional actions that Beijing may be contemplating in the run-up” to the PRC’s May 22 National People’s Congress “that would further undermine the people of Hong Kong’s autonomy.” Then, on May 27, 2020, Secretary Pompeo certified to Congress that Hong Kong no longer warrants different treatment from the PRC. On May 28, 2020, the State Department issued the 2020 Hong Kong Policy Act Report, which, among other things, concluded that “China has shed any pretence that the people of Hong Kong enjoy the high degree of autonomy, democratic institutions, and civil liberties guaranteed to them by the Sino-British Joint Declaration and the Basic Law.”

US Supreme Court declines to review Administration’s Sec. 232 tariffs

On June 22, 2020, the US Supreme Court issued an order denying a Petition for Certiorari (review) filed by the American Institute for International Steel (AIIIS) challenging the Administration’s authority to assess tariffs under section 232 of the Trade Expansion Act of 1962. The AIIIS had unsuccessfully argued in lower courts that Sec. 232 improperly delegated to the Executive branch the power to assess tariffs, reserved to Congress under the Constitution. The Supreme Court order ends two years of litigation. Although no reason for denying the petition was given by the Supreme Court, the Government had successfully argued in lower courts that an earlier Supreme Court decision, Federal Energy Administration v. Algonquin, 426 U.S. 548 (1976), had already upheld the use of Sec. 232 by the Executive branch.

Labor issues USMCA high-wage components of the labor value content requirements

On July 1, 2020, the US Department of Labor will publish in the Federal Register an interim final rule (IFR) issuing regulations necessary to administer the high-wage components of the labor value content requirements as set forth in section 202A of that United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement Implementation Act (the “Act”). The interim final rule is effective on July 1, 2020. Interested persons are invited to submit written comments within 60 days of publication.

The Act requires that to receive preferential tariff treatment, a producer of a covered vehicle must file a certification that the production of the covered vehicle meets the high-wage components of the labor value content (LVC) requirements. The Act authorizes the Secretary of Labor (“Secretary”), in consultation with the Commissioner of US Customs and Border Protection (CBP), to check the certification for omissions or errors and to verify whether a covered vehicle is in compliance with the high-wage components of the LVC requirements. This IFR implements the Act's requirements and establishes procedures for producers to follow concerning the high-wage components of the LVC requirements. Any entity seeking preferential tariff treatment when importing covered vehicles into the United States must comply with the Department's regulations set forth in this IFR, including for plants located in Mexico and Canada that it uses to satisfy the high-wage components of the LVC requirements. In addition:

- The IFR details what information the producer submits to CBP in its certification that the Department will review for omissions or errors and defines the scope of conducting verifications and the process by which the Secretary will conduct them.
- The IFR explains producers' recordkeeping responsibilities and the scope of the Secretary's authority to inspect such records
- The IFR also provides for an administrative review process of the Department's analysis and findings concerning a producer's compliance with the high-wage components of the LVC requirements.
- The IFR also describes the Department's whistleblower enforcement processes.

Questions of interpretation and/or enforcement of the agency's regulations may be emailed to WHD-USMCA-General@dol.gov

USITC delivers preliminary report on MTB petitions to Congress

On June 9, 2020, the U.S. International Trade Commission (USITC) announced that it had submitted to Congressional committees a preliminary report on miscellaneous tariff bill petitions it received under the 2016 American Manufacturing Competitiveness Act (AMCA).

Under the AMCA, USITC is required to receive, analyze, and report on petitions seeking temporary duty suspensions and reductions. The law requires the USITC to deliver its preliminary report to the House of Representatives Committee on Ways and Means and the Senate Committee on Finance. The USITC will ultimately submit a final report to the Committees for their use in developing a miscellaneous tariff bill for Congressional consideration.

In the reports, the Commission categorizes petitions as either (a) petitions that meet the requirements of the Act with or without modification (Category I, II, III, or IV petitions), (b) petitions that do not contain the information required by the Act or that were not filed by a likely beneficiary (Category V petitions), or (c) petitions that the Commission does not recommend for inclusion in a miscellaneous tariff bill (Category VI petitions).

The Commission's preliminary report provides recommendations on 3,479 petitions. The largest product categories were chemicals, accounting for 1,857 petitions; machinery and equipment, accounting for 715 petitions; and textiles, apparel and footwear, accounting for 581 petitions. Of the 3,479 petitions, the Commission assigned 2,632 to Categories I through IV, 42 to Category V, and 805 to Category VI.

The Commission will re-open its Miscellaneous Tariff Bill Petition System portal on Monday, June 12, 2020, to allow the public to submit additional, limited public comments on petitions that the Commission in its preliminary report has included as Category VI petitions (i.e., petitions that the Commission does not recommend for inclusion in a miscellaneous tariff bill by Congress).

- The Commission will re-open the portal for comments on June 12, 2020, at 8:45 a.m. for a period of 10 days, and will close the portal on June 22, 2020, at 5:15 p.m.
- The Commission will only accept information from the public that relates to its decision to place these petitions into Category VI as part of its preliminary report.

- Should Commission staff have questions about the information submitted during this limited comment period, they will contact the individual listed as a contact in the comment for clarification.

The Commission has issued a notice formally announcing the opening of this comment period. This notice contains further instructions on the type of information that may be filed and the manner in which it can be filed, including the process for handling confidential business information.

The Commission will deliver its final report to the Committees by August 9, 2020.

SECS. 232 AND 301 TARIFF INFORMATION AND PRODUCT EXCLUSIONS

[In order to simplify research, Secs. 232 and 301 tariff notices and CBP implementation instructions are now covered in the same section of this Update]

US court enjoins Trump Administration from reversing tariff exclusions

A hallmark of the Trump Administration trade policy is imposing tariffs --- duties under Section 201 (safeguards), Section 232 (national security), and Section 301 (currently against China for intellectual property practices). For many companies, an integral component of supply chain management has included securing exclusions from these tariffs to avoid crushing duties that sideline downstream projects and value chains. But what happens if an exclusion vanishes without process or fair warning? The Administration has abruptly withdrawn exclusions in multiple contexts now, including exclusions covering certain solar panels and certain Chinese goods. In the last month, the U.S. Court of International Trade (which has jurisdiction over trade actions in the first instance) made clear that there are limits on the Administration's actions, and that federal agencies must, at a minimum, provide notice and comment periods and a reasoned decision before it can reverse course and apply duties to products that were excluded.

When such process is ignored, US courts can step in and provide protection for importers and other entities that reasonably relied on the tariff exclusion.

In depth

The dispute in the recent court case involved US safeguard measures on solar panel imports. (*Invenergy Renewables LLC v. United States*, No. 19-00192 43 2020 Ct. Intl. Trade LEXIS 76 \(Ct. Intl. Trade May 27, 2020\).) Based on a 2018 investigation, President Trump authorized import restrictions that include duties and quotas. The President further authorized the US Trade Representative (USTR) to carry out a process whereby interested parties could seek exclusions from the duties. After more than one year of proceedings, USTR excluded double-sided solar panels from the duties in June 2019. Shortly after, USTR reversed course and published a notice of its intent to reinstate the duties on double-sided panels, effective a mere 20 days later.

Several renewable energy companies sued and secured preliminary relief that prevented USTR from again imposing duties on the double-sided panels that it had excluded. In late May 2020, the US Government again urged the court to end the injunctive relief and permit duties to be imposed on the imports based on a new "process" that it carried out in February 2020 (in response to the litigation). The court continued to find legal deficiencies with the process and procedures carried out by the agency in attempting to again withdraw the exclusion. While preliminary injunctive relief continues, double-sided panels are imported duty-free.

Wider impact

While the court's recent decision is limited to safeguard measures, which are imposed under a specific statutory scheme (Section 201 of the Trade Act of 1974), the court's analysis has wider implications on a range of agency actions that may occur without process or meaningful opportunity for the public to participate. In the past weeks, USTR has, for example, withdrawn exclusions in the Section 301 context without public input or warning. These examples raise numerous questions, including whether the governing statutes and the Presidential delegation of authority to the agency permits such action at all.

Companies with a financial interest in any exclusion - whether under Section 301 or Section 232 duties - should consider all possible legal actions where the exclusions are revoked or changed without sufficient process. The recent ruling provides authority for defending exclusions and limits the Administration from reinstating duties.

How to Protect Your Company

- Monitor changes to exclusions, including the scope (i.e., the covered product) and the applicable dates

- Keep current on US case law to understand available remedies. For example, our Firm has challenged - and succeeded - in preventing the US Government from reinstating duties
- Participate in administrative and judicial processes to ensure that any relief obtained applies to your products and your imports.

USTR to review action taken under 301 to enforce the WTO rights in large civil aircraft

On June 26, 2020, the Office of the US Trade Representative (USTR) published in the Federal Register a request for comments [Docket Number USTR-2020-0023] relating to a review being conducted by USTR of the action being taken in the Section 301 investigation involving the enforcement of US World Trade Organization (WTO) rights in the Large Civil Aircraft dispute. April and July 2019 notices in this investigation, under consideration but not currently subject to additional duties. Annex III contains a new list of products being considered for imposition of additional duties. The Office of the USTR requests comments with respect to whether products listed in Annex I should be removed from the list or remain on the list; whether the rate of additional duty on specific products should be increased, up to a level of 100 percent; whether additional duties should be imposed on specific products listed in Annex II or Annex III; and on the rate of additional duty of up to 100 percent to be applied to any products drawn from Annex II or Annex III. On June 26, 2020, USTR opened an electronic portal for submission of comments regarding the review of the action. To be assured of consideration, comments must be submitted by July 26, 2020.

USTR seeks comments on possible extensions of Tranche 4A ($300 Bn.) exclusions

On June 26, 2020, the Office of the US Trade Representative (USTR) published in the Federal Register a notice and request for comments [Docket Number USTR-2020-0027] concerning the extension of particular exclusions granted under the product exclusion procedures initiated in October 2019. As of June 12, 2020, USTR had issued five product exclusion notices under that action. The product exclusions granted under these notices are scheduled to expire on September 1, 2020. USTR has decided to consider a possible extension for up to 12 months of particular exclusions granted under these initial five product exclusion notices and invites public comment on whether to extend particular exclusions:

- 85 FR 13970 (March 10, 2020)
- 85 FR 15244 (March 17, 2020)
- 85 FR 17936 (March 31, 2020)
- 85 FR 28693 (May 13, 2020)
- 85 FR 35975 (June 12, 2020)

At this time, USTR is not considering product exclusion notices issued after June 12, 2020

To be assured of consideration, written comments must be submitted on the public on-line docket beginning July 1, 2020 and before 11:59 pm on July 30, 2020. See FR notices for procedures and detailed information required. A detailed “Exclusion Extension Comment Form” is annexed to the notice.

USTR will evaluate the possible extension of each exclusion on a case-by-case basis. The focus of the evaluation will be whether, despite the first imposition of these additional duties in September 2019, the particular product remains available only from China. In addressing this factor, commenters should address specifically:

- Whether the particular product and/or a comparable product is available from sources in the United States and/or in third countries.
- Any changes in the global supply chain since September 2019 with respect to the particular product or any other relevant industry developments.
- The efforts, if any, the importers or U.S. purchasers have undertaken since September 2019 to source the product from the United States or third countries.

In addition, USTR will continue to consider whether the imposition of additional duties on the products covered by the exclusion will result in severe economic harm to the commenter or other U.S. interests.

USTR seeks comments on possible extensions for the second and third Tranche 2 ($16 Bn.) exclusions

On June 25, 2020, the Office of the US Trade Representative (USTR) published in the Federal Register two notices and requests for comments concerning the extension of particular exclusions granted under the Product Exclusion Notice from the $16 billion action against certain goods from China pursuant to Section 301. USTR initiated an exclusion process in September 2018 and granted multiple sets of exclusions. The first notice [Docket Number USTR-2020-0025] covers the second set of exclusions, which was granted in September 2019 and is scheduled to expire on September 20, and the second notice [Docket Number USTR-2020-0026] covers the third set of exclusions, which was granted in October 2019, and is due to expire on October 2, 2020. USTR has decided to consider a possible extension for up to 12 months of particular exclusions and invites public comment on whether to extend particular exclusions. To be assured of consideration, submit written comments on the public on-line docket after July 1, 2020 at 12:01 am ET and before 11:59 pm on July 30, 2020. See FR notices for procedures and detailed information required. A detailed “Exclusion Extension Comment Form” is annexed to each notice.

USTR will evaluate the possible extension of each exclusion on a case-by-case basis. The focus of the evaluation will be whether, despite the first imposition of these additional duties in August 2018, the particular product remains available only from China. In addressing this factor, commenters should address specifically:

- Whether the particular product and/or a comparable product is available from sources in the United States and/or in third countries.
- Any changes in the global supply chain since August 2018 with respect to the particular product or any other relevant industry developments.
- The efforts, if any, the importers or U.S. purchasers have undertaken since August 2018 to source the product from the United States or third countries.

In addition, USTR will continue to consider whether the imposition of additional duties on the products covered by the exclusion will result in severe economic harm to the commenter or other U.S. interests.

USTR grants additional exclusions for Tranche 3 ($200 Bn)

On June 24, 2020, the Office of the US Trade Representative (USTR) published in the Federal Register a notice that announces the USTR’s determination to grant an additional exclusion request, as specified in the Annex to this notice, and corrects technical errors in previously announced exclusions. The product exclusions will apply as of September 24, 2018, the effective date of the $200 billion action, and extend to August 7, 2020. The amendments announced in this notice are retroactive to the date that the original exclusions were published.

As set forth in the Annex, the exclusion is reflected in one specially prepared product description, which responds to one exclusion request. In accordance with the June 24 notice, the exclusion is available for any product that meets the description in the Annex, regardless of whether the importer benefitting from the product exclusion filed an exclusion request. Further, the scope of the exclusion is governed by the scope of the product description in the Annex, and not by the product description found in any particular request for exclusion.

- Paragraph A, of the Annex contains a conforming amendment to the HTSUS reflecting the modifications made by the Annex. Subchapter III of chapter 99 of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States (HTSUS) is modified by inserting the following exclusion in numerical order to US note 20(aaa):

(79) Motorboats with displacement hulls of reinforced fiberglass and wood, each motorboat measuring not less than 14.47 m and not more than 36.57 m in length and weighing not less than 28 t and not more than 363 t, powered by inboard engines, other than inboard/outdrive (described in statistical reporting number 8903.92.0065)
- Paragraph B of the Annex makes technical corrections to certain notes of the HTSUS. Specifically, paragraph B, subparagraph (1), corrects a typographical error in the product descriptions contained in U.S. note (20)(mm)(30), published at 84 FR 61674. Paragraph B, subparagraphs (2)-(5), make technical corrections to the specially prepared product descriptions in certain notes to the HTSUS, specifically, U.S. notes (20)(xx)(17) and (47), published at 85 FR 23122 (April 24, 2020), and U.S. notes (20)(yy)(54) and (65), published at 85 FR 27489 (May 8, 2020).

The October Withdrawal is superseded by the withdrawal determination made by the USTR in April 2020 that the bifacial solar panel exclusion is undermining the objectives of the safeguard measure (the April Withdrawal).

USTR to grant additional exclusions for Tranche 4 ($3 Bn)

On June 12, 2020, the US Trade Representative (USTR) published in the Federal Register a notice that announces the USTR's determination to grant certain exclusion requests for Tranche 4. As set out in the Annex, the exclusions are reflected in two ten-digit HTSUS subheadings and 32 specially prepared product descriptions, which together respond to 55 separate exclusion requests. In accordance with the October 24, 2019, notice (See 84 FR 57144), the exclusions are available for any product that meets the description in the Annex, regardless of whether the importer filed an exclusion request. Further, the scope of each exclusion is governed by the scope of the ten-digit HTSUS subheading as described in the Annex, and not by the product descriptions set out in any particular request for exclusion.

In March 2020, USTR granted an initial set of exclusion requests. See 85 FR 13970. The USTR granted additional exclusions in March and May 2020. See 85 FR 15244, 85 FR 17936, 85 FR 28693, as modified by 85 FR 32098. The product exclusions announced in this notice apply as of September 1, 2019, the effective date of List 1 of the $300 billion action, and extend to September 1, 2020. The USTR will continue to issue decisions on pending requests on a periodic basis.

The Annex modifies subchapter III of chapter 99 of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States (HTSUS) as follows:

- Paragraph A subparagraph (1) inserts the new subheading 9903.88.49

- Paragraph A subparagraph (2) adds a new U.S. note 20(bbb) with 34 subparagraphs
- Paragraph A, subparagraphs (3)-(4) of the Annex contain conforming amendments to the HTSUS

USTR makes technical amendment to Tranche 1 product exclusion

On June 8, 2020, the US Trade Representative (USTR) published in the Federal Register a notice that announces the USTR's determination to make a technical amendment to one previously granted exclusion:

U.S. note 20(q)(131) to subchapter III of chapter 99 of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States is modified by deleting "each valued over $20 but not over $35" and inserting "each valued not over $35" in lieu thereof.

The amendment is retroactive to the date of publication of the original exclusion, and does not extend the period for the original exclusion.

USTR Initiates section 301 investigations of digital services taxes

On June 2, 2020, the United States Trade Representative (USTR) announced that his office is beginning investigations into digital services taxes that have been adopted or are being considered by a number of our trading partners. The investigations will be conducted under Section 301 of the 1974 Trade Act. This provision gives the USTR broad authority to investigate and respond to a foreign country's action which may be unfair or discriminatory and negatively affect US Commerce.

On June 5, 2020, USTR published in the Federal Register the formal notice [Docket No. USTR-2020-0022] that provides details of the investigations as well as information on how members of the public can provide their views through written submissions. The Federal Register notice states that USTR is initiating investigations with respect to Digital Services Taxes (DSTs) adopted or under consideration by Austria, Brazil, the Czech Republic, the European Union, India, Indonesia, Italy, Spain, Turkey, and the United Kingdom. Over the past two years, various jurisdictions have taken under consideration or adopted taxes on revenues that certain companies generate from providing certain digital services to, or aimed at, users in those jurisdictions. Available evidence suggests the DSTs are expected to target large, U.S.-based tech companies.

The investigation initially will focus on the following concerns with DSTs: discrimination against US companies; retroactivity; and possibly unreasonable tax policy. With respect to tax policy, the DSTs may diverge from norms reflected in the US tax system and the international tax system in several respects. These departures may include: extraterritoriality; taxing revenue not income; and a purpose of penalizing particular technology companies for their commercial success

Public comments must be submitted by July 15, 2020.

USTR grants some extensions to sec. 301 Tranche 1 exclusions

On June 2, 2020, the US Trade Representative (USTR) published in the Federal Register a notice that announces the USTR's determination to extend certain exclusions to the $34 Bn action (Tranche 1) granted in June 2019. In June 2019, USTR granted a set of exclusion requests, which expire on June 4, 2020. See 84 FR 25895 (the June 4 notice). On March 20, 2020, the USTR invited the public to comment on whether to extend by up to 12 months, particular exclusions granted in the June 4 notice based on the factors in the March 20, notice. See 85 FR 16181 (the March 20 notice). The March 20 notice required the submission of comments no later than April 30, 2020.

Based on evaluation of the factors set out in the July 11 notice and March 20 notice, USTR has determined to extend certain exclusions. The product exclusion extensions announced in the notice will apply as of June 4, 2020, and extend through December 31, 2020. U.S. Customs and Border Protection will issue instructions on entry guidance and implementation.

The exclusions are available for any product that meets the description in the Annex to the notice, regardless of whether the importer filed an exclusion request. Further, the scope of each exclusion is governed by the scope of the ten-digit HTSUS headings and product descriptions in the Annex to this notice, and not by the product descriptions set out in any particular request for exclusion.

As set out in the Annex, the U.S. Trade Representative has determined to extend, through December 31, 2020, the following exclusions granted under the June 4, 2019 notice under heading 9903.88.10 and under U.S. note 20(m) to subchapter III of chapter 99 of the HTSUS: (3), (6), (9), (13), (14), (22), (24), (28), (34), (42), (50), (51), (52), (53), (62), and (88). However, the extensions will be covered by a new HTSUS subheading (9903.88.50) and new US note 20(ccc) to subchapter III of chapter 99.

On June 15, 2020, US Customs and Border Protection issued CSMS #43044185 - GUIDANCE: Section 301 Tranche 3 - \$200B: 14th Round of Product Exclusions from China \(9903.88.48\), reproduced below below:

The product exclusions announced in 85 FR 32094 retroactively apply as of the September 24, 2018 effective date of the $200 billion action (Tranche 3), and will extend through August 7, 2020.

The exclusions are available for any product that meets the description as set out in the Annex to 85 FR 32094, regardless of whether the importer filed an exclusion request. Further, the scope of each exclusion is governed by the scope of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States (HTSUS) 10-digit headings and product descriptions in the Annex; not by the product descriptions set out in any particular request for exclusion. For ease of reference, a link to the entire Federal Register Notice is embedded in this message.

The functionality for the acceptance of the 14th round of products of China excluded from Section 301 duties will be available in the Automated Commercial Environment (ACE) as of 0700 Eastern Standard Time, June 4, 2020.

GUIDANCE

Instructions for importers, brokers and filers on submitting entries to CBP containing products granted exclusions by the USTR from the Section 301 measures as set out in 85 FR 32094 are set out below.

- In addition to reporting the applicable Chapters 1-97 classifications of the HTSUS for the imported merchandise as listed in 85 FR 32094, importers shall report the HTSUS classification 9903.88.48 (Articles, the product of China, as provided for in U.S. note 20(aaa) to this subchapter, each covered by an exclusion granted by the USTR for imported merchandise subject to the exclusion).
- Importers shall not submit the corresponding Chapter 99 HTS number for the Section 301 duties when HTS 9903.88.48 is submitted.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Imports which have been granted a product exclusion from the Section 301 measures, and which are not subject to the Section 301 duties, are not covered by the Foreign Trade Zone (FTZ) provisions of the Section 301 Federal Register notices, but instead are subject to the FTZ provisions in 19 CFR part 146.

Duty exclusions granted by the USTR are retroactive for imports on or after the initial effective date of September 24, 2018. To request a refund of Section 301 duties paid on previous imports of products granted duty exclusions by the USTR, importers may file a Post Summary Correction (PSC) if within the PSC filing timeframe. If the entry is beyond the PSC filing timeframe, importers may protest the liquidation if within the protest filing timeframe. The latest guidance on the process for submitting retroactive claims for product exclusions to CBP is found in CSMS 42566154.

Reminder: When importers, brokers, and/or filers are submitting an entry summary in which a heading or subheading in Chapter 99 is claimed on imported merchandise, refer them to CSMS 39587858 (Entry Summary Order of Reporting for Multiple HTS when 98 or 99 HTS are required).

For ease of reference, a summary of Section 301 duties and product exclusion notifications are attached.

Questions from the importing community concerning ACE entry rejections involving product exclusions should be referred to their CBP Client Representative. ## CUSTOMS, IMPORTS AND FOREIGN TRADE ZONES

Commerce corrects proposed rule for Steel Import Monitoring and Analysis System

On June 22, 2020, Enforcement and Compliance, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce published in the Federal Register a correction of an inaccuracy in the proposed rule [Docket No. 200610-0155] to modify Commerce's regulations regarding the Steel Import Monitoring and Analysis (SIMA) system published on March 30, 2020 (85 Fed. Reg. 17515).

Commerce is removing the following statements on page 17518, column two, first paragraph:

“Because the mill test certification is not currently required by CBP for entry purposes or required by Commerce for antidumping and countervailing duty purposes, Commerce cannot guarantee each importer would have a copy of the mill test certification. However, Commerce expects that the mill test certification would be included with the standard sales documentation for steel mill imports and therefore would be readily available to the importer.”

Commerce is replacing this language with the following:

“Specifically, the mill test certification is currently required by CBP for entry purposes, in accordance with 19 CFR 141.89 and 142.6, and Commerce expects that the mill test certification would be included with the standard sales documentation for steel mill imports and therefore would be readily available to the importer.”

DHS continues US-Canada and US-Mexico temporary travel restrictions

On June 24, 2020 US Customs and Border Protection (CBP) published in the Federal Register a notification that the Secretary of Homeland Security had decided to continue to temporarily limit the travel of individuals from Canada into the United States at land ports of entry along the United States-Canada border. Such travel will be limited to “essential travel,” as further defined in the document from 12:00 EDT June 23, 2020, until July 21, 2020 at 11:59 p.m. EDT. The notification does not apply to air, freight rail, or sea travel between the United States and Canada, but does apply to passenger rail, passenger ferry travel, and pleasure boat travel between the United States and Canada.

On the same date, CBP also published in the Federal Register a notification that the Secretary of Homeland Security had decided to continue to temporarily limit the travel of individuals from Canada into the United States at land ports of entry along the United States-Mexico border. Such travel will be limited to “essential travel,” as further defined in the document from 12:00 EDT June 23, 2020, until July 21, 2020 at 11:59 p.m. EDT. ## Federal Register will publish CBP’s USMCA regulations on July 1

On July 1, 2020, US Customs and Border Protection (CBP) will publish in the Federal Register an interim final rule [USCBP-2020-0036; CBP Dec. 20-11], which amends the CBP regulations to implement the rules of origin provisions for preferential tariff treatment of the Agreement Between the United States of America, the United Mexican States, and Canada (USMCA). The document sets forth the framework for CBP regulations that provides further guidance regarding the rules of origin for those seeking USMCA preferential tariff treatment and includes the text of the Uniform Regulations regarding rules of origin, as trilaterally agreed upon by the United States, the United Mexican States (Mexico), and Canada. Because the USMCA supersedes the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) when the USMCA enters into force on July 1, 2020, this document also amends the NAFTA regulations to reflect that the NAFTA provisions do not apply to goods entered for consumption, or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption, on or after July 1, 2020.

Interested persons are invited to participate in this rulemaking by submitting written data, views, or arguments on this interim final rule. As stated in the Federal Register, CBP will not accept comments upon the Uniform Regulations regarding rules of origin trilaterally agreed upon and contained in Appendix A to part 182 of title 19 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) (19 CFR part 182). CBP also invites comments that relate to the economic, environmental, or federalism effects that might result from the interim final rule. Comments that will provide the most assistance to CBP will reference a specific portion of the interim final rule, explain the reason for any recommended change, and include data, information or authority that support such recommended change. The interim final rule is effective on July 1, 2020; comments must be received within 60 days of publication.

CBP is also proposing, among other changes, to update the responsible supervision and control oversight framework, ensure that customs business is conducted within the United States, and require that the customs broker have direct communication with the importer. Additionally, CBP proposes to raise the broker license application fees to recover some of the costs associated with reviewing the customs broker license application and conducting the necessary vetting for individuals and business entities (i.e., corporations, partnerships, and associations). The Department of the Treasury retains authority over CBP regulations relating to customs revenue in accordance with the Homeland Security Act of 2002. Accordingly, CBP is publishing a concurrent notice of proposed rulemaking to eliminate all references to customs broker district permit fees (See “Removal of References to Customs Broker District Permit Fee”). Comments must be received on or before August 4, 2020.

EXPORT CONTROLS AND SANCTIONS

State updates Cuba Restricted List

On June 12, 2020 the Department of State published in the Federal Register an update [Public Notice 11136] to its List of Restricted Entities and Subentities Associated with Cuba (Cuba Restricted List) with which direct financial transactions are generally prohibited under the Cuban Assets Control Regulations (CACR).

The Department of Commerce's Bureau of Industry and Security (BIS) generally will deny applications to export or reexport items for use by entities or subentities identified by the Department of State in the Federal Register or at <https://www.state.gov/cuba-sanctions/cubarestricted-list/>, unless such transactions are determined to be consistent with sections 2 and 3(a)(iii) of National Security Presidential Memorandum-5 on Strengthening the Policy of the United States toward Cuba (NSPM-5). This update includes seven additional subentities and is the sixth update to the Cuba Restricted List since it was published November 9, 2017 (82 Fed. Reg. 52089).

A correction to this list was published in the Federal Register on June 19, 2020.

State requests comments on temporary suspension, modification, or exception to ITAR regulations during SARS-COV2 public health emergency

On June 10, 2020, the Department of State published in the Federal Register a request for comments [Public Notice: 11137] regarding certain temporary suspensions, modifications, and exceptions to several provisions of the International Traffic in Arms Regulations (ITAR) recently issued in order to ensure continuity of operations within the Directorate of Defense Trade Controls (DDTC) and among entities registered with DDTC pursuant to the ITAR during the current SARS-COV2 public health emergency. Comments are due by June 25, 2020.

OFAC issues Syria-Related Sanctions Regulations to implement EO 13894

On June 3, 2020, the US Treasury Department's Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) issued new Syria-Related Sanctions Regulations (the "Regulations"), effective June 5, 2020 (when published in the Federal Register), to implement Executive Order 13894 ("EO 13894") issued by the President on October 14, 2019 in light of Turkey's military actions in Syria. The Regulations are a codification of EO 13894 and do not represent new sanctions against Syria. They are also separate from US comprehensive sanctions targeting Syria under 31 C.F.R. Part 542.

US Government adds thirty three entities located in China, Hong Kong and Cayman Islands to the Entity List

On June 5, 2020, the US Commerce Department's Bureau of Industry and Security (BIS) published: (1) a final rule adding nine Chinese entities to the Entity List (the "XUAR Designees"), and (2) a final rule adding twenty four entities located in China, Hong Kong, and the Cayman Islands to the Entity List (the "Military Designees").

Both sets of designations were announced by the Commerce Department on May 22, 2020 (see announcements here and here), but their designations are effective as of their publication in the Federal Register (June 5, 2020). The addition of the Military Designees to the Entity List follows BIS' recent interim final rule amending the end user/end use requirements in the Export Administration Regulations (the EAR) and reflects the same concern surrounding civil and military integration in China (our blog post on this development is available here). However, the recent expansion of the "foreign-produced direct product rule" for Huawei (described in our blog post) does not apply to these newly designated entities.

US Commerce Department authorizes the release of certain technologies to Huawei Listed Entities in standards-development activities

On June 15, 2020, the US Department of Commerce's Bureau of Industry and Security (BIS) published an interim final rule ("Interim Final Rule") [Docket No. 200611-0158] effective on June 18, 2020 to authorize the limited release of certain items subject to the Export Administration Regulations (EAR) to Huawei and its affiliates listed on the BIS Entity List ("Huawei Listed Entities") in the context of international efforts to develop technical standards for 5G and other new technologies. In a statement, the Commerce Department explained the change will "ensure Huawei's placement on the Entity List in May 2019 does not prevent American companies from contributing to important standards-developing activities despite Huawei's pervasive participation in standards-development organizations." BIS is seeking comments on the Interim Final Rule, which must be submitted on or before August 17, 2020.

BIS implements Feb. 2020 Australia Group intersessional decisions: addition of certain rigid-walled, single-use cultivation chambers and precursor chemicals to the CCL

On June 17, 2020, the Bureau of Industry and Security (BIS) published in the Federal Register a final rule [Docket No. 200521-0143] to amend the Export Administration Regulations (EAR) to implement the decisions made at the February 2020 Australia Group (AG) Intersessional Implementation Meeting, and those later adopted pursuant to the AG's silence procedure. Specifically, this rule amends Export Control Classification Numbers (ECCNs) 1C350, 1C351 and 2B352 on the Commerce Control List (CCL) to reflect these AG changes. ECCN 1C350 is amended by adding twenty-four precursor chemicals, as well as mixtures in which at least one of these chemicals constitutes 30 percent or more of the weight of the mixture, to ECCN 1C350.d. ECCN 1C351 is amended to add Middle East respiratory syndrome-related coronavirus (MERS-related coronavirus). ECCN 2B352 is amended by adding a Technical Note to indicate that cultivation chamber holding devices controlled in 2B352.b.2.b include single-use cultivation chambers with rigid walls. The items addressed by this final rule were not previously listed on the CCL or controlled multilaterally. BIS, consistent with the interagency process described in the Export Control Reform Act of 2018 (ECRA), identified the precursor chemicals and single-use cultivation chambers addressed by this final rule as emerging technologies that are essential to US national security and for which effective controls can be implemented. The inclusion of such items in this final rule is consistent with the requirements of ECRA and the decision of the AG to add such items to its common control lists, thereby making exports of such items subject to multilateral control (following the implementation of these changes by individual AG participating countries, including the United States).

Expansion of export, reexport, and transfer (in-country) controls for military end use or military end users in China, Russia, or Venezuela; Correction

On June 3, 2020, the Bureau of Industry and Security (BIS) published in the Federal Register a final rule [Docket No. 180212164–9483–01] correcting the formatting of a final rule that appeared in the Federal Register of April 28, 2020 (here and after referred to as the April 28 rule), which becomes effective on June 29, 2020. The April 28 rule amends the Export Administration Regulations (EAR) to expand license requirements on exports, reexports, and transfers (in-country) of items intended for military end use or military end users in the People’s Republic of China (China), Russia, or Venezuela. Specifically, this rule expands the licensing requirements for China to include “military end users,” in addition to “military end use.” It broadens the list of items for which the licensing requirements and review policy apply and expands the definition of “military end use.” Next, it creates a new reason for control and the associated review policy for regional stability for certain items exported to China, Russia, or Venezuela, moving existing text related to this policy. Finally, it adds Electronic Export Information filing requirements in the Automated Export System for exports to China, Russia, and Venezuela. This rule supports the objectives discussed in the National Security Strategy of the United States. This correction publishes the full text of each revised Export Control Classification Number on the Commerce Control List. This correction is effective June 29, 2020.

AMS concludes pilot test of ITDS

On June 11, 2020, the Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS) published in the Federal Register a notice [Doc. No. AMS-SC-18-0008; SC18-944/980/999-1] announcing the conclusion on September 2, 2020, of a pilot test of the International Trade Data System (ITDS) involving the electronic submission of data related to importations of fruits, vegetables, and specialty crops. The Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS) regulates imports of the food commodities and is engaged in a partnership with US Customs and Border Protection (CBP) and other government agencies to test the Partner Government Agency (PGA) Message Set component of the Automated Commercial Environment (ACE). The submission of this import information is required under section 608e (section 8e-1) of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937. The pilot program tested the electronic transmission of data related to AMS's responsibilities through CBP's ACE known as the PGA Message Set to AMS's Compliance Enforcement Management System (CEMS).

The pilot was set to begin no earlier than July 13, 2015 and was to continue until its conclusion was announced by publication in the Federal Register. AMS initially conducted the pilot at certain ports of entry and eventually expanded the pilot nationally. CBP and AMS have evaluated the transmission and analysis of the trade data related to AMS responsibilities and have found the pilot successful. As such, the ACE PGA Message Set is deemed to have the operational capabilities necessary to electronically collect the section 8e data required by AMS, and AMS's CEMS is deemed to have the operational capabilities necessary to analyze that data. Therefore, this rule announces the conclusion of the AMS PGA Message Set pilot for imports.

NEW ZEALAND

Importing or bringing tobacco into New Zealand

From 1 July 2020, most tobacco products, tobacco leaf and tobacco refuse will become prohibited imports and importers will be required to have a permit to import these products. In addition, importers must pay all relevant taxes on imported tobacco at the border.

Permits are approved and issued by New Zealand Customs. That means any importation of any kind of covered tobacco product including as a gift, will have to have a permit. In addition, from 1 July 2020, no covered tobacco products, including leaf and refuse, may be imported through the international mail. Covered tobacco must only be imported using a freight forwarder, the fast-freight courier system or as bulk sea or air cargo. New Zealand Post's international courier service will still be able to be used.

Customs has already contacted established importers, who will be issued a permit for one year from 01 July or the length of time a manufacturer holds a licence to manufacture tobacco products. Other importers will need to apply for a permit. Permits will be issued free of charge.

From 1 July 2020, any covered tobacco products, leaf or refuse imported without a permit will be seized and destroyed. Customs will send a written notice to importers confirming the seizure and destruction of the tobacco products, leaf and refuse. In the unlikely event of the product being seized and destroyed in error (for example, when the person had a valid permit to import), the importer will be entitled to compensation for the customs value of the products.

A permit is not required to import cigars, cigarillos, water-pipe tobacco, chewing tobacco, snuff and snus - these exempted items can be imported through international mail.

Passengers arriving into New Zealand with tobacco do not need a permit and individual duty-free tobacco limits are unchanged. More information about duty-free limits and FAQs are available to download.

Public consultation on products containing mercury

The Ministry for the Environment has commenced public consultation on proposed new restrictions on products containing mercury. It is consulting on two key steps New Zealand needs to take to ratify the Minamata Convention on Mercury:

- introduce a permitting system for the import and export of mercury, and
- prohibit the manufacture, sale, import and export of certain mercury-containing products.

Importers and exporters and their agents are encouraged to consider these proposals and have their say. Select Read more for more Information about the proposed restrictions and how to make a submission. Consultation closes 5 pm 5 August 2020. Read more here.

THAILAND

Department of Foreign Trade announces initiation of trade remedy investigations

Trade remedy measures have been becoming more and more popular as a tool to help protect the domestic industry from dumped products by foreign manufacturers/exporters which cause injury to the domestic industry. Many countries have initiated dumping investigations into products manufactured/exported from foreign countries including Thailand such as:

1. USA

- Passenger Vehicle and Light Truck Tires from Korea, Taiwan, Thailand, and Vietnam; and
- Mattresses from Cambodia, Indonesia, Malaysia, Serbia, Thailand, Turkey, and Vietnam.

2. India

- Copper & Copper Alloy Flat Rolled Products from China, Korea, Malaysia, Nepal, Sri Lanka, and Thailand;
- Phthalic Anhydride (PAN) from China, Indonesia, Korea, and Thailand;
- Phenol from Thailand and USA; and
- Plain Medium Density Fibre Board having thickness less than 6 mm from Indonesia, Malaysia, Thailand, and Vietnam.

3. Australia

- High density polyethylene from Korea, Singapore, Thailand, and USA

Moreover, the Department of Foreign Trade (DFT) has also announced the initiation of the following trade remedy investigations to protect the domestic industry:

- (1) Expiry review of the imposition of anti-dumping measures on Hot Rolled Steel, In Coils and Not In Coils, originating from Japan, Republic of South Africa, the Russian Federation, the Republic of Kazakhstan, the Republic of India, the Republic of Korea, Taiwan, the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela, the Argentine Republic, Ukraine, the People's Democratic Republic of Algeria, the Republic of Indonesia, the Slovak Republic, and Romania.

The anti-dumping (AD) measures on the above goods have been in place since 2003 and have recently expired on 23 May 2020. However, based on the petition of the domestic industry, the Committee on Dumping and Subsidies determined that there is sufficient evidence and grounds to show that dumping will continue or reoccur if the AD measures are no longer imposed. As a result, the DFT has initiated the expiry review which could extend the measure for up to five years. In this case, the DFT will only review whether there will be dumping and injury if the existing AD measure is lifted to determine whether the measure shall be extended. The DFT will not review the AD duty rate in this expiry review case. Furthermore, during the expiry review, the AD measure that expired on 23 May 2020 has been extended for one year.

Any interested party who has not received the questionnaire may request to participate by contacting the DFT by 4 June 2020. An interested party may also submit any fact or opinion in writing to the DFT or submit its intention to make a verbal statement by 19 June 2020.

- (2) Anti-dumping investigation on Flat-Rolled Steel Products Plated or Coated with Chromium, in Coils and Not in Coils, originating from the People's Republic of China, the Republic of Korea, and European Union. The concerned products are alleged of having a dumping margin of:
- a. 9.96% of CIF price for products imported from the People's Republic of China;
  - b. 58.77% of CIF price for products imported from the Republic of Korea
  - c. 17.83% of CIF price for products imported from the European Union.

The Committee on Dumping and Subsidies has reviewed the petition filed by the domestic industry requesting to initiate an anti-dumping investigation on the subject goods, and determined that the petition has sufficient merit with respect to dumping and injury. Therefore, the Committee resolved to initiate an investigation. If the dumping and injury against the domestic industry is found, the DFT could impose an AD measure for up to five years. This means that there would be an AD duty imposed on the subject goods in addition to the normal import duty when importing the concerned products.

Any interested party who has not received the questionnaire may request to participate by contacting the DFT by 30 May 2020. An interested party may also submit any fact or opinion in writing to the DFT or submit its intention to make a verbal statement by 15 June 2020.

Please feel free to contact us if further information is needed or for our assistance.

VIETNAM

REX numbers for exporters to the EU - Deadline 30 June

On 8 June 2020 Vietnam ratified the European Union - Vietnam Free Trade Agreement (EVFTA) and the European Union - Vietnam Investment Protection Agreement (EVIPA). The EVFTA will provide expansive preferential markets access for goods traded between Vietnam and the European Union (EU). The EVFTA will enter into effect on 1 August 2020.

In order to export from Vietnam to the EU, exporters must have a REX number in order to complete shipments valued at over EUR 6,000 from 1 July onwards. REX numbers are required for shipments regardless of whether or not goods are traded under EVFTA preferential terms.

Vietnam's National Assembly ratified the EU - Vietnam Free Trade Agreement and the EU - Vietnam Investment Protection Agreement

On 08 June 2020, Vietnam's National Assembly passed a resolution ratifying the EU - Vietnam Investment Protection Agreement (EVIPA) ("Resolution") and the EU - Vietnam Free Trade Agreement (EVFTA). Passage of the Resolution marks Vietnam's completion of its legal procedure to ratify the EVIPA, however, the EVIPA requires further ratification by all EU member states before it can enter into force.

The EVIPA includes investment protection prohibiting discriminatory treatment and expropriation without compensation. The EVIPA further affords investor rights to: fair and equitable treatment, full protection and security, transfers and national treatment compensation for certain losses suffered due to armed conflict or a national emergency.

Once in force, the EVIPA will introduce a new Investor-State dispute settlement mechanism that will replace those mechanisms under existing Bilateral Investment Treaties (BITs) between Vietnam and individual EU member states. The new mechanism is expected to provide greater reassurance concerning the independence and expertise of arbitrators, as well as consistency in the resolution of investment disputes. EU and Vietnam investors will be able to lodge complaints directly against the state hosting their investments under the EVIPA when it comes into force.

The agreement has been drafted with the intention of making the investment dispute resolution process faster and more transparent.

Binding Tariff Information

The European Community has created the Binding Tariff Information (BTI) system as a tool to assist economic operators to obtain the correct tariff classification for goods they intend to import or export.

Since 1 October 2019 all BTI correspondence between the economic operator and the customs authority is happening through the Trader Portal. This includes among others applications by economic operators for BTI decisions, requests by the customs authority for further information on the product being classified and the economic operators' replies to those questions. A list of customs authorities designated by Member States for the purposes of receiving applications, or taking decisions relating to binding tariff information may be found here.

Depending on the Member State an economic operator has to access either the EU Customs trader portal or the national trader portal. You can search and consult existing BTIs on the EBTI-database.

Swiss Government imposes sanctions targeting Nicaragua

On 24 June, the Swiss Government decided to impose coercive measures in response to the current situation in Nicaragua. Switzerland is therefore joining the European Union in imposing sanctions on Nicaragua due to ongoing violations against human rights, democracy and the rule of law. Our previous blog post on the EU's recent imposition of sanctions is available here.

The Swiss Federal Council has issued an Ordinance imposing financial and travel sanctions against six persons with ties to Nicaraguan president Daniel Ortega: their assets will be frozen and they will be banned from entering or traveling through Switzerland. The measures are currently aimed at two personal advisors to President Ortega as well as and four high-ranking representatives of Nicaragua's judicial system and police force who are accused of serious human rights violations. Assets affected by the freeze must be reported to SECO immediately. These sanctions are not directed against the people of Nicaragua.

The Swiss Federal Council expressed its serious concerns over the increasing undermining of democracy, the rule of law and human rights in Nicaragua, and is urging the country's authorities to respect and protect national and international laws on human rights, in particular those on freedom of expression and assembly. It is also urging the Nicaraguan government to respect its citizens' fundamental rights as defined in two agreements made with the opposition in March 2019, and to implement genuine electoral reform. Continuing on its 40-year commitment to the development of Nicaragua, Switzerland is prepared to support efforts to find a peaceful solution to this socio-political conflict.

With its Ordinance of 24 June 2020, Switzerland is joining the EU in imposing sanctions in response to the situation in Nicaragua. The measures have come into force at 6pm CET on 24 June 2020.

UK publishes negotiating objectives on FTAs with Australia and New Zealand

On 17 June 2020, the UK published its negotiating objectives for free trade agreements (FTAs) with Australia and New Zealand, with talks for each agreement beginning shortly. The UK's announcement said:

- Trade agreements with Australia and New Zealand will help boost our economic recovery by opening up new markets for businesses, creating jobs and supporting a range of industries across the UK.
- Opportunities for UK businesses include additional access for UK services and investment, the removal of tariffs and other barriers to trade, and the chance to shape the future of digital trade.

The UK's overall negotiating objectives for a free trade agreement with Australia are:

- Agree an ambitious and comprehensive Free Trade Agreement (FTA) with Australia that strengthens our economic relationship with a key like-minded partner, promoting increased trade in goods and services and greater cross-border investment.
- Strengthen our economic partnership focusing on technology, innovation and research and development (R&D). An FTA with Australia provides an opportunity to enhance co-operation on shared global and economic challenges, including supporting innovation and R&D across our economies. We will seek to set a new precedent with Australia by establishing an ambitious framework for co-operation in these areas, focusing on the role of trade policy in facilitating innovation.
- Increase the resilience of our supply chains and the security of our whole economy by diversifying trade.
- Futureproof the agreement in line with the Government's ambition on climate and in anticipation of rapid technological developments, such as Artificial Intelligence.

- The Government has been clear that when we are negotiating trade agreements, the National Health Service (NHS) will not be on the table. The price the NHS pays for drugs will not be on the table. The services the NHS provides will not be on the table. The NHS is not, and never will be, for sale to the private sector, whether overseas or domestic.
- Secure an agreement which works for the whole of the UK and takes appropriate consideration of the UK's constitutional arrangements and obligations.
- Throughout the agreement, ensure high standards and protections for UK consumers and workers and build on our existing international obligations. This will include not compromising on our high environmental protection, animal welfare and food safety standards.

The UK's overall negotiating objectives for a free trade agreement with New Zealand are:

- Agree an ambitious and comprehensive Free Trade Agreement (FTA) with New Zealand that strengthens our economic relationship with a key like-minded partner, promoting increased trade in goods and services and greater cross-border investment.
- Work together to reinforce our mutual interest in sustainable and inclusive trade policy.
- Supporting both Governments' Net Zero commitments on climate change, we will seek provisions that maintain the right to regulate for each party and support opportunities for global growth in low carbon sectors and associated research and development.
- Increase the resilience of our supply chains and the security of our whole economy by diversifying trade.
- Futureproof the agreement in line with the Government's ambition on climate and in anticipation of rapid technological developments, such as Artificial Intelligence.

EURASIAN ECONOMIC UNION (EAEU)

RUSSIAN FEDERATION

Disputes involving sanctions against Russian persons must now be settled in the Russian state courts

On 19 June 2020, a new Russian Law (Federal Law No. 171-FZ dated 8 June 2020, known as the "Lugovoy Law," named after its author) enters into force, introducing a number of changes into the Russian Arbitrazh Procedural Code. Most important, Russian state commercial courts (also called "arbitrazh" courts) will now have exclusive jurisdiction over disputes directly or indirectly involving those sanctioned entities that fall within the scope of Russian legislation ("Disputes"). Disputes also include disputes between foreign businesses if these sanctions are a cause of their dispute.

Except exclusive jurisdiction, key provisions of the new Law are:

- Parties may still agree to resolve their Disputes outside of Russia, but Russian courts will have jurisdiction over such disputes if one of the parties cannot get access to justice because of sanctions.
- If a party is sued or about to be sued in a foreign court or arbitration proceeding in breach of the new Russian law (for example, if the parties had no enforceable agreement to settle Disputes in Russia), this party may request an anti-suit injunctive order from a Russian court. Any party breaching such anti-suit injunction may be fined by the Russian court for the full amount of the claim plus the opponent's legal costs.

Conclusions and recommendations

Clearly, the new law may affect a lot of business deals involving Russia directly and even indirectly. To mitigate the risks connected with the new law, we recommend the following steps:

- Review the dispute resolution mechanism in your contracts with Russian counterparties, and make changes to these contracts where necessary (for example, change the agreed arbitration venue to one that is sanctions-neutral).
- Double-check the ownership structure and ultimate Russian beneficiaries your Russia-related business partners (i) to determine their status vis-à-vis foreign sanctions, and (ii) to understand whether your deals with these Russian business partners may potentially be affected by the new law.

AFRICA (EXCEPT NORTH AFRICA)

CORRECTION: In our June 2020 edition, there were two articles appearing under the heading, DEMOCRATIC REPUBLIC OF CONGO (DRC). One, “Establishment of the National Agency for the Promotion of Exports “Anapex” in the Democratic Republic of Congo,” was correctly attributed to the DRC. However, the second article, “Support measures for businesses in the Congo following COVID-19,” should have been attributed to the REPUBLIC OF CONGO, not the DRC. We apologize for the error and thank Christian Lukusa, Esq. Managing Partner at Momentum Attorneys & Advisors in Kinshasha, DRC for bringing this to our attention

2019: What's Up in International Trade?

Keeping up to Speed on Evolving Challenges

Our 16th annual Global Trade and Supply Chain Webinar Series was entitled, “2019: What's Up in International Trade? Keeping up to Speed on Evolving Challenges”. The series included the latest international trade developments including updates on Trade Wars, Trade Agreement negotiations and key customs, export controls and sanctions developments. In addition to our usual topics of Customs and export controls/sanctions, we also covered Foreign investment review regimes around the world and emerging compliance risks in areas such as Human Rights and Forced Labour.

We expanded our program of basic customs webinars to cover the areas of export controls and sanctions. The Basic program (highlighted in orange) was primarily aimed at participants who were new to Global Trade and/or those who would like a refresher.

Jenny Revis, a partner in our London office and co-leader of the EMEA Customs practice, and others moderated these webinars and were joined by experts from across our global network.

If you missed a webinar or wish to see it again or want to download a presentation, you may do so at this link or by clicking the blue title below which indicates the material has been posted. Webinars are usually posted approximately two weeks after the live presentation.

EUROPEAN CLASSIFICATION REGULATIONS

The table below shows the Classification Regulations that were published in the Official Journal during the period covered by this International Trade Compliance Update.

Commission Implementing Regulation	Description of the goods	Classification (CN code)	Reasons
(EU) 2020/724 15-05-20	An article in the form of a hollow ball made of yarn, strip or the like of heading 5404 or 5405, with a small round opening with a soft plastic lamella surrounding it enabling it to be put onto, for example, electric strings of lights (so-called fairy lights). The article exists in different colours and sizes and is imported on its own. It is designed to be used as a decoration on its own or together with, for example, fairy lights. (See image) 	5609 00 00	Classification is determined by general rule 1 for the interpretation of the Combined Nomenclature, note 7(f) and note 8(a) to Section XI and by the wording of CN code 5609 00 00 . Classification of the article under CN code 9405 99 00 as a part (a lampshade) of an electric lamp, not elsewhere specified or included, is excluded, because the article is not identifiable by its shape or its specific features as a part designed solely or principally for use with an electric lamp (see also the Harmonised System Explanatory Notes to Chapter 94, Parts). The article is designed to be used either with various lights, with other decorative articles, or to be merely placed as interior decoration on its own. The article is therefore to be classified according to the constituent material under CN code 5609 00 00 as articles of yarn, strip or the like of heading 5404 or 5405, twine, cordage, rope or cables, not elsewhere specified or included.
