

Representative Legal Matters

Antonio V. Ortúzar, Jr.

- Assisted Latin American Power (LAP), an electric generation company, in the purchase of The Totoral Project, one of Chile's first wind energy projects.
- Advised Raytheon on the creation and launch of a Global Human Resources Department which will include payroll, accounting, finance and global directory applications.
- Advised Haldeman Mining Company, a Chilean mining company, in arranging a financing of USD31.1 million necessary to begin the Tambo de Oro Mining Project.
- Represented Andina Minerals Inc. in a support agreement valuing approximately USD103 million.
- Represents an international mining company in private bids for long-term power purchase, water supply and port services agreements in connection with the development and operation of a major mining project.
- Advised on a USD1 billion loan agreement to finance a major mining project in the north of Chile.
- Advised on a USD724 million cross-border joint venture between two foreign mining companies to develop a copper-molybdenum project in Chile.
- Advised on a USD20 million cross-border acquisition of two hydroelectric power plants. Handled the negotiation process, due diligence, agreement and subscription of shares in a three-week timeframe.
- Advised on a USD100 million acquisition of a gold mine with expected capacity of 5,000,000 lbs. of gold.
- Served as counsel to a USD100 million, 100 percent privately funded project to develop a port facility and exploit an iron rich area in Chile, including providing legal support to the initial partnership, the joint venture agreement, port constructions, negotiations and operations.
- Advised on a USD45 million initial investment in a joint venture between an Australian private investment company and one of Chile's largest mining companies.
- Advised on several power purchase agreements for the mining industry.