

Representative Legal Matters

Chia-Feng Lu

- Assisted a US biotechnology company in its co-development and licensing deal for its novel immunotherapy product in China, Japan, the US and Latin America.
- Advised a US biotechnology company in a co-development and co-commercialization transaction of an orphan therapy with a Japanese pharmaceutical company.
- Counseled a leading Japanese pharmaceutical company in general corporate matters, market entry/access, business development and licensing, and regulatory compliance involved in the expansion of its in vitro diagnostic business to Asia Pacific.
- Assisted a Japanese pharmaceutical company in its post-merger integration with a European pharmaceutical company.
- Advised a US healthcare conglomerate in its establishment of an innovation incubation center affiliated with a healthcare institution in Abu Dhabi.
- Assisted a leading US technology company in its development and product launch of healthcare software and wearable technology in the US and Japan.
- Advised a Japanese specialty pharmaceutical company in its negotiations with regulatory agencies in multiple jurisdictions concerning product approval and risk mitigation plans for its novel cancer immunotherapy.
- Assisted a Japanese pharmaceutical company on the product launch of its novel cell and gene therapy product portfolio, including issues related to regulatory approval and clearance by international regulatory bodies, pricing and reimbursement by public and private insurers and distribution.
- Counseled a diagnostic company on the introduction of its next-generation sequencing test service in the US and Japan in addition to the relevant life cycle management matters.
- Assisted several multinational pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies in global compliance initiatives regarding fair market value, data privacy, transparency and interactions with healthcare professionals.
- Helped defend a global medical device company against the investigation concerning its unfair competition practices.