Jiří Čermák

Noted for its pragmatic and business-oriented approach, clients applaud this team for being able to close a deal “without getting weighed down by minor points but instead focusing on solving the key issues.” The group comprises seven attorneys, led by Jiří Čermák. He is identified as an expert on IT matters and has played a fundamental role in advising Google Ireland on its on-line business. Indeed, the group as a whole is well regarded in the IT sphere and has advised a number of clients, including CSOB on the IT aspects of credit card operations management, and Apple.

Chambers Europe 2009, TMT

Few firms boast the same focused approach to, and stable of clients in, the TMT sector as Baker & McKenzie v.o.s., where partner Tomas Skoumal and senior associate Jiri Cermak are well-regarded. Recognized as a “lawyer with sufficient knowledge of the IT industry and technology,” Cermak in 2008 worked for Google on various legal matters relating to its internet business in the Czech Republic.
